LYNCH P.T. CIRCLE PLANS PIE SOCIAL

The Lynch Parent-Teacher circle will hold a pie social and valentine party at the schoolhouse next Friday evening, February 14. All are invited to come. The ladies will bring pies for the refreshments. This social, so far as the pie is concerned, was planned several weeks ago but was indefinitely postponed on account of sickness in the district. A jolly evening is anticipated.

School Notes.

Upon the bulletin board in Miss Grace Ogilbee's room I found: Democracy means not "I'm as good as you are," but "You're as good as I am." Near it was a very creditable essay "My Liberty Bond and I" by Clifford Gibbs, a fourth grade pupil.

Mrs. Myrtle Myers, teacher of the fifth grade in the grammar school, has been in charge of the Junior Red Cross membership drive. Her pupils rallied to her aid by registering the first one hundred per cent membership. Miss Mitchell's room was a close second. Addie Pullen carried off the spelling honors in Mrs. Myer's room last week, being the only pupil to turn in perfect work all week. As a result she was allowed to read a library book during the spelling session on Friday. Credit is given for the number of books read by these perfect spellers. Addie selected "All Baba and the Open Sesame."

Miss Hagerman's room is bright with red hearts, with gay yellow aprons on the window plants. A large and festive yellow hat box embellished with pink cupids has a sili in the lid through which the first graders slip their valentines.

On Friday afternoon the literary society in Principal Skirvin's room held an exciting election of officers, incidentally absorbing valuable experience in parliamentary procedure. This debating society is a part of their study of civil government. The election was a thriller—no less than four candidates being listed for most of the offices; and a second ballot being necessary in each instance. During the excitement of whispered campaigning the sergeant-at-arms collected quite a list of names of talkers. It costs three cents a whisper. The new officers are president, Harry Squires; vice president, Alice Peterson; secretary, Jeannette Dowsett; treasurer, Lewis Maulding; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Schwedler.

Lincoln Day Program.

Commemorating Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays patriotic services will be held in the assembly hall of the grade school on Wednesday afternoon at half past one o'clock. The patrons of the school are urged to attend, as the teachers and pupils have prepared an excellent program of events. The program committee, composed of Mrs. M. Myers, chairman, Miss M. Michel and Miss M. Arthur announces the following exercises:

- Song by school—"America."
- Recitation—"A Happy Thought," Jerry Eling.
- Instrumental duet, Bernhardt Bauer, Adella Bauer.
- Exercise—"Flag of Our Hearts," Second Grade Pupils.
- Piano solo, Mabel Winters.
- Reading—"Story of Abraham Lincoln," Addie Pullen.
- Quotations—Seventh and Eighth Grade Pupils.
- Lincoln song—Fourth Grade Pupils.
- Exercise—"Like Lincoln," Third Grade Boys.
- Reading, Dale Lichty.
- Piano solo, William Botkin.
- Dialogue—"Telling about George Washington," Third Grade Pupils.
- Reading, Janet Dowsett.
- Recitation—"My Own United States," Herbert Eling.
- Song—"Lincoln," Fifth Grade Pupils.
- Reading, Alden Miller.
- Address, Principal T. J. Skirvin.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Jeff Robertson has accepted a position at the Beaver State foundry. Fred Hoss also started work at the foundry yesterday.

John Wuchter, a former resident of Gresham, came out from Portland over the week-end, stopping at the Congdon hotel and renewing old friends here.

C. I. Raker delivered a Ford roadster to the Walrad grocery yesterday. Mr. Walrad plans to use it for mercantile delivery.

C. R. Aylsworth, of Sunnyside, was a luncheon guest of his nephew, E. W. Aylsworth, yesterday. He came out to Gresham to attend the meeting of the stockholders of the local telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Page, their son Donald, and Mr. Page's sister, Miss R. Page, are week-end guests at the J. W. Lawrence home on south Roberts avenue. With the E. W. Aylsworth family, they were guests at a well appointed dinner on Sunday.

M. H. Michael of Baltimore, Maryland, is a guest at the J. H. Metzger residence. He is a fighting medic on furlough from Battle Creek, Michigan, where he has been stationed with Field Hospital 254.

We'll say, "It's hard to keep a good man down." Dr. A. H. Wright is making a most satisfactory recovery from his automobile mishap. He has demanded his clothes, even his overcoat, and although he has not yet left his bed at Good Samaritan hospital we may look for him home in Gresham in a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stapleton, of Portland, were dinner guests of Judge and Mrs. Geo. W. Stapleton and family on Sunday, the occasion was a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. George Stapleton's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arza Smith and Mrs. Gould called upon C. M. Oliphant Sunday at his home out east of town on South Roberts avenue. Mr. Oliphant has been confined to his bed during the past three months.

The M. E. Epworth League will hold its social meeting at the Grange hall, February 12, 1919, at 8 p. m. This is the first meeting in several months, due to the epidemic, hence it will be of a "get-together" nature, and a jolly good time is anticipated. An especial invitation is accorded all young people, whether they are members or not.

The hiccough epidemic from southern California seems to have struck Gresham. Guy Fieldhouse and Tom Howitt hiccoughed for two days last week, finally seeking relief from Dr. Botkin, who stopped the annoyance.

Mrs. O. A. Eastman has received two letters and some postal photos from her son, Wilson, who is with the army of occupation in Germany. She is not impressed with German photography, but is pleased with Wilson's robust appearance.

J. W. Hamilton, who came here recently from Eastern Oregon with his family, has purchased the Chas. Reynolds place and has begun building operation. The chicken houses are under construction at present and the house and barn will be erected as soon as the weather settles. In the meanwhile the Hamiltons are making their home with the B. N. Howells nearby. B. N. Howell is doing the building for Mr. Hamilton.

Fred Powell is erecting a house on his property.

Dr. F. Peak is contemplating building a new residence upon his farm on the Section Line road just west of Wallula avenue. It is a slightly location for a home. The family are at present occupying the old house upon the property.

Ralph Stanley has purchased the John Freeman farm, one and a half miles northwest of town, and will move there with his wife shortly.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Ott were among the local people who enjoyed the opera season in Portland last week. Aside from the keen delight they took in the music, the beauty and spaciousness of the new Public Auditorium added to their pleasure.

Frank C. Jones has just completed one of the sleeping porches in which he specializes at the H. H. Eling home.

Lew Shattuck, former mayor of Gresham, accompanied by Mrs. Shattuck, left Portland for a boat trip to San Francisco last week, making brief stops at Marshfield and Eureka. They shipped their automobile, and upon leaving the boat at San Francisco they will spend a month touring in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Metzger were hosts at a family dinner on Sunday, honoring their recently returned soldier sons, Walter and Floyd. The Cecil Metzger and J. E. Metzger families were also present on this happy occasion.

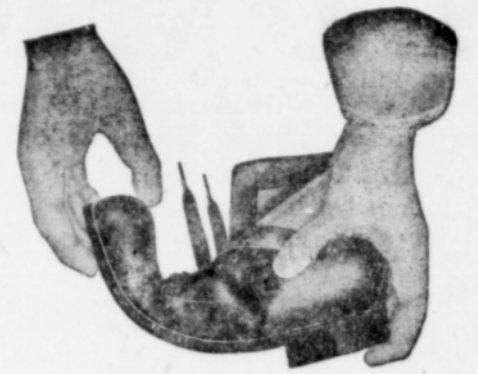

Principal and Mrs. Elmer F. Goodwin attended the opera "Madame Butterfly" in Portland Friday evening. The Japanese soprano, Onuki, delighted them in the title role.

The Richard Tegart home on the Base Line road is being wired for electricity by O. J. Brown, a neighbor.

E. W. AYLSWORTH

Gresham, Oregon

Sergeant Floyd Metzger breezed into town from Fort Bliss, Texas, all unannounced, on Friday. Said it was a grand and glorious feeling to be back in Gresham, where there are no sandstorms and no rocks in the beans. He has been stationed at El Paso in the Motor Transport Service during the past year. He is home on a twenty day furlough.

One of our grocers is authority for the statement that a steadily increasing number of Portlanders do their Saturday shopping in Gresham. We do not wonder at this news. The writer, in seven month's painstaking bookkeeping and household budgeting, has discovered that living for her family is one-third lower here than in Portland.

Mrs. Roy Kern entertained A. F. Miller at luncheon today, after the noon adjournment of the county fair board. Mrs. Edith T. Weathered and H. A. Lewis, fair directors, were to have been guests, also; but were unavoidably absent.

Miss Grace Allen, of Portland, is the guest of Miss Ida Heald of the Misz millinery establishment.

Miss Emily Loveridge, superintendent of Good Samaritan hospital, was the dinner guest of her sister, Mrs. John Cannon on Sunday. Mrs. Cannon's nephew, Paul Heslop, who recently received his discharge from the ordnance corps at Pittsburg, was also a guest.

Just a reminder of the joint Ladies Aid and Missionary society meeting at the home of Mrs. A. W. Shipley tomorrow. Announcement of the excellent program has been already announced in the Outlook.

Ezra Thomas and Odney Davis were dinner guests at the Ed. Metzger home last evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Will Ott were Portland visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fellarman.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hale of Walls Walla are down looking after their ranch near Pleasant Home and visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Chas Latourell, former Gresham automobile man, is engaged in potato buying in this vicinity.

The Outlook acknowledges the subscription of one of the new grade school teachers who desires to get acquainted with school patrons and local affairs—shows the right spirit and method, we think.

Elmer Shipley, of Oswego, spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, A. W. Shipley.

An important meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the library next Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. All members are earnestly requested to be present and share in the responsibility of formulating plans for future work.

E. L. Thorpe has started a very fine and promising poultry ranch on his place in south Gresham and will devote his efforts to enlarging it. He contemplates building more poultry houses in the near future.

Mrs. M. E. Gilmore has as guests her son, Bern Shultz and wife, of Kansas City, who will probably spend several months here.

Mrs. Bessie Marshall, who is employed by the Misz Millinery company, has returned from the wholesale house and is now busily engaged at the local millinery.

The Gresham laundry begins to look quite business-like. It has already expanded to such an extent that the old motion picture theatre next door is being used for a drying room.

Dr. Will Ott has sold his bungalow on Main street, and purchased the home of Mrs. A. Hughes on Roberts avenue, where the Ott's will make their future home.

If Lincoln Lived Today---

Again would he speak these now famous words:

Q "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

This is the spirit which America has taken across the seas to the battlefield and to the conferences around the peace table.

As evidenced by Lincoln's words and deeds, it saved America in the days after the Civil War.

This same spirit in triumph will save the shattered world today.
