MERCHANT OF GRESHAM GLAD TO GET HOME

87, operated by a splendid contingent of Pittsburg doctors and nurses. This is a gas hospital and there the men received special eye treatments for three weeks, before rolling along toward the coast to a hospital in the seaport town of St. Nazaire. That hospital was already overcrowded, so back they journeyed to Base Hospital 34, ninety miles inland.

It was in this hospital that Mr. Metzger partook of a Thanksgiving dinner of a cup of hot milk, having contracted the "flu" during his peregrinations. A wonderful Thanksgiving dinner with cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie was served there. They allowed him to read the menu for consolation. And that was the first pie he had encountered since leaving home, too, although the Salvation Army girls had supplied him with cookies and doughnuts in the trenches.

In a fortnight he enjoyed a comfortable train trip to Brest, and after a few days in the base hospital there he embarked on the George Washington on the return trip "to the good old U. S. A." While in the Brest hospital he heard the presidential salutes and the din of the French welcome to President Wilson. Had a perfectly ripping time coming home—movies twice a day, wonderful "eats." Two field artillery regiments of the Cyclone Division, just arrived abroad, upon the signing of the armistice, and started right back home again without a look at France, worked off their suppressed feelings by making things pleasant and interesting for the 900 wounded soldiers aboard.

Arrived in New York on Christmas eve, Mr. Metzger was sent to Debarcation Hospital 3, the largest hospital in America. Here he was able to enjoy a Christmas dinner that banished all regrets over the Thanksgiving fiasco. While there the Red Cross and New York people showered attentions upon the boys. One could not fail to rally in health and spirits among such kind and pleasant people.

A month at Camp Lewis completed Mr. Metzger's cure, and here he is, as good as new and as popular as ever. More power to him.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP GRESHAM.

I hated cooking because whatever I ate gave me sour stomach and a bloated feeling. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I tried simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Ad-ler-i-ka. Because it flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract completely Ad-ler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE sour stomach, gas or constipation and prevents appendicitis. The INSTANT action is surprising. ### LIEUTENANT M'CLEVERTY REPORTED DEAD

(Col. E. Hofer)

State Capitol, Salem, Or., Feb 17—Big fights were waged the past week over salary raises proposed for state and county officials. There is a flood of these bills and a growing disposition to reject same. Secretary of State Olcott hit the program to raise salaries of four principal state officials a body blow by denying that he had any knowledge of the proposition. He says financial status of state is not such as to warrant salary increases. He hits salary graft a further blow by asking if bill passes it shall not apply to his office during the present term. That strikes the weakest point in all salary bills, that incumbents accepted office for the present term at salary fixed by law and legislature has no moral or legal right to change terms of contract.

Mrs. Zoe McCleverty, of Corbett, received a telegram from Washington, D. C., stating that it was officially reported that her son, Lieutenant John A. McCleverty of the 148th Field Artillery, died of broncho-pneumonia, February 1. Only a message, just a line, but who can fathom the depth of sorrow it brought to a lonely, brave mother who was fighting life's battle alone and patiently awaiting the return of her only son from overseas?

Lieutenant McCleverty enlisted in the service of the U. S. under call of the President, May 21, 1917 at Portland; was made sergeant in July and in September was promoted to supply sergeant of Troop A. and on the twentieth day of October, 1917 was commissioned a lieutenant of Field Artillery, and was started overseas January 21, 1918, being in the convoy with the Tuscania, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Irish coast. The steamer on which Lieutenant McCleverty was a passenger was unharmed and he was taken to France and immediately went into active service and was in the thickest of the fighting until the signing of the armistice. When last heard from, his company was recruiting for the army of occupation, to be sent into Germany.

Lieutenant McCleverty was only 24 years of age, yet he had much crowded into his young life, and how nobly he had given up a life he no doubt had otherwise planned, to go out and fight that the world might be a better place to live in. Thus another of our dear, brave boys has made the supreme sacrifice.

CORBETT

Erald Miller and wife, who have had charge of the telephone office here for several months, moved to Hood River Friday. The office is now in charge of Roland Morgan.

Mrs. Myrtle Reed spent several days this week in the city, with her daughters.

Jesse Allen, of Cascade Locks, has rented the W. J. Thomson farm and will move his family here soon.

Principal Mrs. Lela Lasley Thompson spent the week-end in Portland.

TROUTDALE

The Red Cross meeting was quite well attended last Thursday and considerable work was done. A donation of wood was made to "keep the home fires burning", and it is hoped the interest will keep up. A meeting was announced for next Thursday as early as possible in the afternoon.

At the Parent-Teacher association meeting Friday it was voted to resume serving lunches. Mrs. A. D. Kendall and Mrs. L. A. Harlow volunteered to serve at the next meeting. Mrs. Frances Fox was appointed to prepare a program. Mrs. L. A. Harlow read an unusually interesting paper on Abraham Lincoln, mentioning with pardonable pride that her father was in the Aeolian chorus which sang at Lincoln's funeral. The teachers reported that industrial clubs were being organized among the school children. Miss Cowgill, from O. A. C., and Miss Ethel Calkins, county club leader, were at school Thursday in the interests of club work. Visitors from District 8 were Mrs. E. E. Welling, Mrs. Chas. Greenwood, Mrs. Ella Hensley and Mrs. J. R. Cavanagh.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Wallace have gone to eastern Oregon where Mr. Wallace has employment. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kidder, who have spent the winter with them, have gone to Portland.

Frank Cummins has sold his farm here to a Mr. Fraley of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Cummins have not decided where they will locate. They have till March 1st to vacate the place.

Baby Jack Evans had the misfortune to fall off the porch last week, and broke his arm. It was put in a plaster cast, and is doing nicely, though he doesn't quite understand what causes him so much inconvenience.

Many Troutdale citizens turned out to the train Monday to greet our returning boys of the 65th artillery. The school went down in a body carrying flags and waved them in greeting to the brave soldier lads. Much disappointment was felt from the fact that the train whizzed past without stopping.

Eldon Dupuis, who recently recovered from scarlet fever, last week was afflicted with a swollen finger, which was lanced and later developed in blood poisoning. He was taken to the hospital, but in spite of the best care it spread up the arm, until it was feared he would lose his arm. Later he was reported to be improving.

That Terrible Headache.
Do you have periodic attacks of headache accompanied by sickness of the stomach or vomiting, a sallow skin and lull eyes? If so, you can get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for biliousness, and you may be able to avoid these attacks if you observe the directions with each package.—Adv.

STATE LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

(Col. E. Hofer)

State Capitol, Salem, Or., Feb 17—Big fights were waged the past week over salary raises proposed for state and county officials. There is a flood of these bills and a growing disposition to reject same. Secretary of State Olcott hit the program to raise salaries of four principal state officials a body blow by denying that he had any knowledge of the proposition. He says financial status of state is not such as to warrant salary increases. He hits salary graft a further blow by asking if bill passes it shall not apply to his office during the present term. That strikes the weakest point in all salary bills, that incumbents accepted office for the present term at salary fixed by law and legislature has no moral or legal right to change terms of contract.

Senate bill No. 3 could not be pulled out of the morgue of indefinite postponement in the House. The Senate passed the bill to give returning soldiers and sailors preference in all public employment where they can show equal ability to do the work. House committee on Revision of Laws reported it back favorably but objection was raised that too much was being done for soldiers, and this included all who had not been overseas, and it was killed on an adverse committee report. A mass meeting of veterans of four wars revived it and House again refused to take bill out of cold storage.

The Republican party is in absolute control of state government. There are about nine Democrats in the Legislature out of ninety members in both houses. The dominant party is pledged to consolidate boards and commissions and cut down overhead expenses and increase efficiency of state government. It appropriated thousands of dollars at last session on a Consolidation commission and money was spent on an expert to formulate a report, which was done, showing that nearly a million dollars could be saved every two years by injecting business methods instead of present top-heavy overlapping commission system. But first bill to accomplish this result was downed with a whoop, and job-holders are triumphant over the taxpayer. The protestations in favor of efficiency and economy have been forgotten. The merging of boards, commissions, and departments into proper functional groups and elimination of useless overlaps is good stuff for platform purposes but there endeth the lesson. Idaho has enacted a broad and sweeping consolidation measure, California has Governor Stephens back of a program to consolidate, reduce expenses and raise standards of business efficiency.

Senate the past week consumed several days in oratory over highway bills, which are mostly an attack on the administration and seeking to hamper the state commission. The present commissioners are men of highest standing in the state and serving without pay. First it was proposed to pay them $4000 a year salary, which would hang up three places on the commission as a political prize. Now they are threatened with the referendum on bonding act, when interest in bonds does not fall on taxpayers but is paid out of automobile licenses. Next the state is to be prevented from using any pavement laid under a patent or paying any royalty. The whole program is one of attack and to handicap development of a highway system on modern or progressive lines. Indications are that all criticisms will fall by the wayside and the Highway Commission will be upheld.

Up to Friday night of last week only about forty bills had reached the Governor out of about six hundred introduced. This legislature has paid little attention to the limitation on introduction of bills and so far it has been very slow in passing bills. No big piece of legislation has reached the executive office and no veto has fallen. The Ways and Means committee concluded its work last week and there remains now one week to grind out practically the work of the whole session. The Bean amendment to have the state go into the Hydro-electric business with state, district and municipal bond issues has not gotten out of committee on Resolutions. In public hearing on bill Mr. Bean was asked to name cities or states that were producing and supplying electric current as cheaply as it was being done under publicly regulated utilities and he could not name any. There was no interest in hearing.

Getting Rid of Colds.
The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.—Adv.

STEAM LAUNDRY LOCATED HERE

A. J. Miller, the Gresham laundryman, has purchased a complete steam laundry outfit for his newly opened plant located on Main street, in the Ross building. The laundry is now doing business, and its capacity will be greatly enlarged by the addition of the new machinery which will be installed in about ten days. The laundry has ample drying room and can handle any kind of family laundry.

This is an institution long needed in this locality. The hundreds of persons who have been saying, "Why not start a laundry here," now have a chance to show their good faith in a local enterprise. Mr. Miller is a young man and has had ample experience in his line. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have taken up their residence here in the same building with the laundry where they can give the business their undivided attention.

By virtue of an execution, judgment order, decree and order of sale issued out of the above entitled Court in the above entitled cause, to me directed and dated the 14th day of February, 1919, upon a judgment rendered and entered in said Court on the 29th day of January, 1919, in favor of Investors Building Co., a corporation, plaintiff and against Malk Eisler and Katie Roberts, formerly Katie Eisler, defendants, for the sum of $195.40 with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the 9th day of October, 1918, and the further sum of $35.00 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 29th day of January, 1919, and for the further sum of $20.10 costs and disbursements and the costs of and upon this writ commanding me to make sale of the following described real property, to-wit:

Lot Ten (10) of Block Eleven (11) in Holgate Addition to the City of Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon.

Now, Therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment order, decree and order of sale and in compliance with the commands of said writ, I will, on Monday the 24th day of March, 1919, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the east front door of the County Court House in Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon, sell at public auction (subject to redemption), to the highest bidder for cash or other of them had on the 25th day of July 1912, the date of the mortgage here-in foreclosed or since that date had in and to the above described property or any part thereof, to satisfy said execution, judgment order and decree, interest, costs and accruing costs.

T. M. HURLBURT,
Sheriff of Multnomah County, Ore.
Dated this 14th day of February, 1919.
First issue February 18th, 1919.
Last issue March 18th, 1919.

Colonel Kerfoot, commanding the 65th C. A. C. said at the reception Monday night, "If you call these stalwart fellows, these brave soldiers, 'boys,' show me your men." He also said that should the need arise they were ready, every mother's son of them, to go again in response to the country's call.

FARMER BOYS, GET ONE OF THESE BOOKS

Gresham, February 17.

Dear Editor:—Have you seen that little volume called "The Young Farmer"? If you haven't ask the librarian at the Gresham library for it. My attention was called to it by Mr. Moffitt of the high school. He is most enthusiastic about the book.

"I would recommend that to every boy as sound advice" said Mr. Moffitt. "It discusses questions that are vital to a boy starting out like this one; Shall the boy get his experience working under his father, working for a neighbor, or by taking a piece of land and working out his own problems? What crops can the boy grow? Where can he find a market? All these questions are brought up and worked out.

The librarian told me this afternoon that she has two copies, but it would be well to hurry if I want to use the book. Mr. Moffitt thinks that the fathers should read it when the boys do. Another of those father and son movements it seems.

A. C. Anderson of Powell Valley, has had as a recent guest, a soldier friend, Christ Olson, of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, a member of the 346th Field Artillery. Mr. Olson has received his discharge from Camp Lewis, and started for home yesterday.

Indigestion.

Take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for indigestion, and you will soon forget about your stomach troubles. Try it.—Adv.
