WOOD LAUDS CLEVELAND.

General Leonard Wood has paid tribute to Grover Cleveland, who appointed him army surgeon in 1886, and whom he for many years knew personally. At the Cleveland memorial service he said:
"In the opinion of Grover Cleveland there was no room in America for those who were part American and part something else. Like Roosevelt, he was intolerant of shams, detested snobs and hated insincerity. With him language was intended to convey ideas and not to confuse the people. He was not an adept at verbal messages. He believed in the Monroe doctrine absolutely, and in the last words of his inaugural address he said the genius of our institutions forbade any departure from the foreign policy commended by our history, traditions and prosperity. He rejected the policy of our sharing in foreign broils and ambitions, on other continents and repelled their intrusion here. He believed in the national spirit and was not a believer in an uncertain weak internationalism of a moment. He realized that in a democracy there must be a free press, honest criticism and pitiless publicity, that people must have the facts if they are to act intelligently."

FARM LABOR WILL BE SHORT.

Shortage of farm labor will probably be just as great this year as it was last, says J. W. Brewer, O. A. C. and federal farm help specialist for Oregon. A few weeks ago a surplus of 500 farm laborers was reported in Portland, and already there is a shortage.

Many applications for married men are reported, with no one to fill the call. Many men are wanted in the grain districts of eastern Oregon. Hood River orchardists want twenty pruners.

The many calls for married men show how the farm tenant house idea is taking hold, Mr. Brewer declares. The tenant house will be just as essential in a few years as good machinery is now. The farm without it will not be up with the times.

"Be a leader," he urges, "and build that tenant house now."
The berry camps organized by Mr. Brewer's office last year were so successful that calls are already in for groups of berry camps. Eighteen camps of women and girls and 12 of boys were established last year.

The employment office, 602 Oregon building, Portland, wants to get all available information on opportunities for skilled laborers, foremen, managers and renters, to be given to the soldiers at Camp Lewis by a representative of the states relations service.

SHEEP ARE GOOD MONEY MAKERS.

The following figures published by county agriculturist at Davenport, Washington, are interesting and equally applicable to many sections of the west.

A local farmer near Davenport after keeping a flock of sheep for several years is thoroughly convinced of its profits from two sources. Their value in wool and mutton is easily computed in dollars and cents, but there is a great return in the destroying of weeds and as fertilizer distributors that can not be reckoned.

The farmer reporting shows an investment of $500 for 400 grade Lincoln lambs, as their foundation herd and $2100 for eleven miles of woven wire fence, including eleven iron gates. Their 1918 expenses were $283 for alfalfa hay, $85 for a hired man at lambing time, one pound of grain per head per day after February 1 until marketed for the market sheep, and one pound grain hay per head per day from December 15 for the ewes.

Their returns from the sheep the first year were $250 for wool and $268 for lambs; second year, $600 from wool and $1100 from lambs; third year, $660 from wool and $1040 from lambs. In addition a total of twenty-four were killed in the three years for home use.

The first four loans sent the boys to finish the job over there; the Victory Loan will bring the boys back to their job over here.

NOT A SPARROW FALLS.

Germans, cooties, mud and rats—were the four most obnoxious things the American fighting men found overseas, according to Frank W. Ryan, a Y. M. C. A. war worker who accompanied the 91st division into the Argonne as an athletic director. "I have been asked many times why the deadly gas didn't kill the rats and other animals when it was destructive to humans," said Ryan recently. I have seen birds flying through the air without taking any notice of the artillery fire; rats by the thousand and stray dogs and cats feeding upon heaps of waste. All of a sudden the birds would fly to the rear, the rats would disappear as if by magic and cats and dogs find safe hiding places. By the time the bugler had sounded the warning signal most of us had our masks adjusted. Thus nature took care of the dumb, and I never saw it fail."

CALL TO SERVICE.

A stirring call to the support of the Victory Loan was issued yesterday from the headquarters of the Republican National committee, urging on all republicans their united and effective support of the issue. Let politics slide, suggests Will H. Hays, chairman of the committee, until the success of the loan is an accomplished fact. Just one topic paragraph of the charge:

Let us show to these fighting men who have returned how commands have been obeyed here. Let us send to the fighting men still abroad the message of no weakening. Let us show to the world that our patriotism is not that born only of extremities and stirred only by martial music, but the devotion which meets a duty in the firm determination of consecrated service, and performs it. And let us demonstrate to ourselves that we are worthy of the name American and the privileges of our citizenship.

LOAN QUOTAS.

The national quota for the Victory Loan is $4,500,000,000. Oregon's share of the issue is $26,747,550. Portland must subscribe $14,786,325, while the state outside should raise $11,961,325. Multnomah county and Portland quotas are combined. To Clackamas county is apportioned $400,950.

Do you sell railroad ties? France is in the market for 2,000,000 of them.

The people of coast states are awakening to necessity of increased fish propagation by the state as one of the surest ways to build up the salmon industry and make big returns on state money as well as enlarge a national food supply.

Roosevelt Coast Highway.

It is anticipated that the Roosevelt coast military highway will be favorably received by the voters of Oregon at the June election. The combination of staunch old Teddy and good roads is hard to resist. We're for both. The act provides for the construction of a highway to be known as the "Roosevelt Coast Military Highway", to be located from the city of Astoria, through Clatsop, Tillamook, Lincoln, Lane, Douglas, Coos and Curry counties, to the California line. The estimated cost is $5,000,000, which the state of Oregon and the United States government will split on a 50-50 basis. The bill authorizes the issuance of bonds for the state's share of the expense.

Britain Rations Poultry.

Great Britain has adopted the rationing of poultry. So great has become the shortage of feed that it is no longer justifiable to support even a hen, if she fails to do her part toward feeding the nation. Haphazard poultry-keeping must go. To distribute equitably the limited quantity of poultry feed and to encourage the better strains of poultry the Ministry of Food, acting with the Board of Agriculture, is putting into practice two systems of rationing.

A daily ration of four ounces of feed per bird will be provided for birds of the best utility breeds up to an aggregate amount of 50,000 tons of feeding stuffs for six months. Although this seems generous, it must be remembered that the birds qualifying for the four ounce ration are those which, under careful breeding and selection, have reached a high standard of egg production. The rationing scheme reacts to the advantage of the country, because it means the survival of the best fliers of the egg basket.—Oregon Voter.

FARMER LIKES ROMNEY SHEEP.

William Riddle, a stock breeder of Monmouth, Oregon, says in the March Oregon Countryman that he raises Romney marsh sheep because they are hardier and yield more valuable wool. He finds the chief market for his rams in the range districts of eastern Oregon and other western states.
