A new city ordinance requires the cleaning of all moss from roofs as a fire protection measure.

After the roofs are free from moss, apply CEIL IT ROOF PAINT. Why? Because it stops the leaks in your roof, preserves the roof, keeps the moss from growing again and is Fire Resisting itself. Besides it adds greatly to the appearance of your buildings.

Sold in any quantities.

BUILD A HOME

Is the advise of our government. Why? Because a nation of Home Builders make the stronger nations. Because it adds to the nation's wealth and to the resources of the builder. Home builders as a rule are a contented and patriotic people seeking the higher planes in life ready and willing to assist a worthy brother.

The First State Bank is co-operating with the government in the building of homes in this community with a view to increasing the wealth and resources of this community. Not only is it assisting in a financial way in every way possible but after the homes are constructed it protects the owner from loss by fire by the writing of insurance in carefully selected Old Line Insurance companies. The First State Bank not only writes insurance covering homes but covers loss by fire, theft, or transportation of automobile tractors and other machinery. It also writes a policy protecting the owner of an automobile against suit for damages because of personal injuries inflicted, something that every automobile driver should have.

THE FLAG, THE FACTORY AND THE HOME

Americans have a patriotic pride in a state of industrial prosperity that supports American standards of living. Coupled with this is an inborn distrust of policies that destroy American industries and lower the standards of American life. The big gear wheel and the American Eagle are emblems that stand for protection to the factory and the home and for the workers who toil in the one and live in the other.

D. Smith, J. Zimmerman, D. Regal, Gibbs. And there are at least 250 names left out, according to our informant, J. Mast, who ought to know, since he sold the lumber for all these improvements.

House Plans at the Library.

Did you ever plan a pergola or a garage or even a chicken coop? What can you get out of the task of picking out a roof for even the pig pen. The library has gathered in some most attractive pictures of old houses made new, country homes noted for their beauty and books on landscape gardening. The garage has not been neglected, but appears in style fit for a king or president's palace.

Other books on architecture and house planning will be borrowed from the central library every week so that everyone may find something to his taste. The bungalow is represented by books of California designs, ever popular in the west.

Although you may not build your home this season, begin reading now. Every timber put into a home is worth consideration. There can be no more pleasurable occupation for the family than preparing for the great event of building your own home. Read books about domestic architecture, gardening and kindred subjects and get ready.

The Bruns Lumber company at Sandy, is busy every day cutting out rough and dressed lumber, finishing lumber, mouldings, and other building necessities. As a special inducement to building they are making an exceptionally low price on all their product. Lumber delivered anywhere.
