A beautiful carrier pigeon came yesterday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Townsend. The bird was sick, and in spite of the care given it by Mrs. Townsend, it died last night. On the left leg was a fine rubber gauze casing such as is used to contain messages. This, however, was empty.

He has done prospect work on claims in South Dakota, Montana and Oregon. Last summer he had an unusual experience. Mr. Eckert with a companion went miles up into the mountains to test the mineral deposit. First day at work his partner was accidentally killed by a shot from the revolver in his belt which went off as he stooped over. Mr. Eckert, who was new in that region, had much difficulty in finding his way out to get assistance, for there was not even a trail to follow. It took almost a week to get out of the mountains with the corpse.

On Saturday evening they got "even", by dropping in on Mr. and Mrs. Siefert. Forty of them loaded to the hubs with refreshments came to spend the evening and extend their best wishes.

Resolutions of Condolence.

The following resolutions were passed by Fairview grange No. 344 at their last meeting June 7, 1919.

Whereas, Our sister, Mrs. Margaret Matilda Dunbar, has been removed from our midst by death, we desire hereby to express our great sorrow at the loss of so valuable a member of our grange. We extend to Brother Dunbar, her bereaved husband, and to the one remaining son, and to the grandchildren, our sincere sympathy in this very grievous affliction.

We exhort each and every member to try to imitate the example of this noble woman, who manifested so constantly in her daily life the principles of Faith, Hope and Charity, who ever discharged her duties as a Christian, as a neighbor and as a granger with fidelity.

We recommend that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and that a copy of this action be placed upon our grange records, a copy furnished Brother Dunbar, and that a copy be sent to the Gresham Outlook, and to the Oregon Grange Bulletin for publication.
