American Legion the G. A. R. of World War.

There is no national movement of greater importance in the United States today than the organization of the American Legion, the G. A. R. of the World War.

The preamble of the constitution of the organization reads: For the God and Country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

Dow. V. Walker, temporary secretary for the Oregon state committee says, "No man can dedicate himself to these great principles without becoming a better citizen. We are fighting tooth and nail the destructive Wobblies and Bolsheviki, and ask their deportation along with seditious aliens. We are not political and seek nothing except a square deal for the ex-service man and the furtherance of 100% Americanism."

This organization of the World Veterans is receiving the endorsement of leaders in public life, and financial assistance from state funds for preliminary organization. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is scheduled for a speaking tour of the northwest, in September, on behalf of the American Legion.

It is interesting to note that in Portland, last Monday evening a ladies auxiliary of the American Legion was organized, the first to be formed on the Pacific coast.

Inefficiency Investigations Not to Halt Constructive Legislation.

"Legislation will not be delayed in the House or Senate by the proposed investigations into the affairs of the Government," said Representative George W. Edmonds, of Pennsylvania, today. "Practically all important investigations will be conducted by special committees appointed solely for that purpose, leaving the standing committees absolutely free to transact the ordinary legislative business of Congress. As an example of this, the House Committee on merchant marine and fisheries, of which I am a member, will give immediate consideration to the formulation of a shipping policy for the country. There will also be a thorough investigation into the manner in which the Shipping Board has expended the $5,000,000,000 entrusted to it by Congress, but a special committee will be appointed for this purpose, leaving the merchant marine committee absolutely free to look forward while the special committee looks backward. It would cause useless delay to try to make one committee look both ways at the same time."

Canning Industry Growing Fruit, vegetable, fish and meat canning is developing into one of the greatest industries in the west.

We have the land, the rivers, and the ocean necessary to furnish the raw material and the world is waiting for the canned product. Is it any wonder that canneries and preserving plants are going up in all sections? Milton prune growers have been offered $127 a ton.

Fair Treatment for the West

From San Diego to Puget Sound, from Los Angeles and San Francisco and Astoria come the demand for fair treatment for the shipping interests of the west.

If there is to be a great merchant marine to hold our own for America off-shore commerce with England and Japan, the operation of ships must be encouraged from Pacific ports.

The great middle west from St. Paul to New Orleans is being aroused to the dangers of a shipping monopoly on the Atlantic coast and the necessity for a square deal for the west.

The shipping board is a national body and charged with the duty of treating every part of our country with fair and equal justice in the distribution of shipping and handling commerce.

Millions of tons of ships are necessary to handle the freight going out to the world from Pacific and Gulf ports, where it can reach the markets of the world most economically.

Railrates must be made fairly equal to give the farmers an opportunity to export his products from the ports that can naturally handle them the most economically.

This cannot be done by stripping the Pacific and Gulf ports of tonnage and congesting freights as they are now congested in immovable quantities in a few Atlantic ports.

For this reason the whole west is vitally interested in a national policy encouraging to the development of our western commerce. Political control of the shipping industry will always handicap the west as it has in matters of public land, oil and water power development. The east has the votes and plays politics with the west's resources.

The Price We Pay

Information of interest to every home owner and also to every workman or proprietor of an industry is contained in the 1919 report of the state fire marshal of Oregon just issued.

Overheated and defective chimneys caused a heavier fire loss than any other known cause during 1918—$173,447.

Overheated or defective stoves caused a loss of $132,279. Careless smokers were responsible for $154,358 loss.

Rubbish and sparks are charged with $172,358. Hot ashes, etc., are blamed for $54,837.

Incidencies were responsible for $96,963. There were 932 dwellings damaged or destroyed by fire, and on them and their contents a loss of $329,176 was paid.

In all, there were 1956 fire losses during the year, upon which $1,829,318 was paid. An outline of fire prevention work is contained in the report.

Royal Highlanders Make New Ruling.

July 3d, 1919. Editor Gresham Outlook:—The undersigned is just in receipt of his monthly issue of the Royal Highlander published in Lincoln, Nebraska, containing announcement that "all further payments upon pioneer certificates under the provisions of that fraternal insurance order guaranteeing that members having attained the age of 50 years and maintained themselves in good standing for 20 years shall be entitled to annual payments of one-tenth of the amount of such certificates until the full amount has been paid, and are discontinued."

This means that certificates of some 1800 first-year members of the order, of which I was one, carrying a $200 policy for a quarter century, performing all the conditions on my part to be performed, will not be paid except at 75 years' age attainment when the balance of $2100 will be paid in seven annual installments, or in case of death in the mean time, when that which shall not have been paid to the living will be paid to the beneficiaries.

This also is hard on the Royal Highlanders who were banking on their earlier annuities, and amounts to a repudiation of their rights in favor of the nine-tenths bulk of membership that hold policies paying at 70 years' age attainment. But the re-adjustment places all on the same footing, and in some respects it is better for all that payments are reserved to the diminished, later-life, earning-power period.

The Valiant Clansman, as Highlanders are called in their ritualistic work, will have nothing to do but keep busy at his earning at all times till he is 70 years of age, and collect from other sources everything that is justly due him. Then he will live, because he must, ten years beyond his allotted time in order to break even with the Royal Highlanders. MILO C. KING.

Kerosene a Most Convenient and Economical Fuel.

The muss and dirt of a coal or wood cook stove add to the burden of the housewife. Coal dust seems to get everywhere and it means continual work to keep a kitchen clean when coal is used in the stove.

All this trouble is done away with when kerosene is used as a fuel. It is clean and convenient and makes far less work for the housewife. In addition to this, it is more economical than either coal or wood.

A good kerosene like the Standard Oil Company's Pearl Oil makes a distinct saving, not only in the household budget but also in the time and energy of the housewife. Pearl Oil gives excellent results as far as good cooking is concerned and when it is used the kitchen never becomes overheated. A good cook stove with Pearl Oil will bake, broil, roast and toast economically.

Having been refined, and re-refined by a special process, the impurities are removed from Pearl Oil so that it burns up clean and produces no odor.

Pot-Pourri.

The following is an excellent receipt: Pack half a peck of rose leaves in a bowl in layers with salt, using a small handful of salt to three large handfuls of rose leaves. Keep the rose leaves for five days in a bowl, turning them very thoroughly twice a day. At the end of this time add three ounces of powdered allspice, one ounce stick cinnamon, and let this mixture stand for a week longer, turning it daily. The mixture is now ready to put in the permanent jar. Add to it an ounce of whole allspice, half a pint of dried lavender blossoms, one ounce of dried bruised cloves, one ounce of stick cinnamon, one nutmeg coarsely grated, half a cup of ginger root sliced fine, half an ounce of annis seed, ten grains of pure canton musk and two ounces oforris root. Mix all these ingredients together and close the jar till in use. Add from time to time a few drops of the essential extract of roses or other flowers.

At the End of Their String

Four propositions will be before this congress which means much to the west, namely: Workable water power legislation, an oil land leasing bill, road and public land measures. Particularly is the west interested in oil and water power development. Self-seeking politicians have defeated passage of these measures for years at the expense of the western states but it looks as if they had about reached the end of their string. Congress already has these two measures on the way and speedy action is promised.

Bids Wanted.

Bids will be received up to July 10, on 40 cords of wood to be delivered at the Gresham schoolhouse. C. J. Lundquist, Clerk Dist. No. 4.

From April to August a fly family might easily raise disease-carrying descendants numbering 191,010 with fifteen more ciphers added to it. If nothing happened to any of the flies they would cover the earth forty-seven feet deep. See how many fly families you can break up this summer. The earlier you start the more you get. Enlist every member of your household in the campaign, and do the job thoroughly.

Table-cloths and napkins will wear longer if when ironed they are folded in three parts one week and four the next.
