The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins.

Official paper of the Town of Gresham and official paper of the Town of Fairview.

Entered as second-class matter March 2, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

PLANS FOR RECREATION CENTER.

Many people in Gresham have openly expressed a desire for ways and means of entertaining the young people of our town—a public playground, municipal tennis courts, a recreation hall and other suggestions have been offered as meeting the needs.

In today's issue of the Outlook, appears the first article on the social service question, which is being generally discussed of late. This article is written by Cecil P. Moffit of the high school faculty, giving merely his own personal opinion on the problem and its solution.

Do you agree with Mr. Moffit in all he says, or in part at least? There is plenty of room for comment both pro and con. Criticism is invited, but follow it up with something helpful and constructive.

The Outlook will gladly publish discussions on this topic.

HIGH PRAISE FOR Y. M. C. A.

Capturing Germans was not one of the duties imposed upon Y. M. C. A. secretaries in France but it fell to the lot of one secretary to gather in three boches and turn them over to Corporal R. F. Davies, 136th Infantry, 3rd Division.

"When our division captured Hill 394 on the morning of Sept. 26," said Corporal Davies in telling of the incident, "we moved into the village of Germania from which the Germans had been driven. That same afternoon our Y. M. C. A. secretary came up with a sidecar motorcycle loaded with chocolate and cookies. Looking for a place to open shop he entered a cellar.

"It was rather dark. As he came out three Germans were following him, two with their hands up. He turned round and saw them, and noticed that one was carrying a machine gun. The only weapon the 'Y' man had was a cane. I happened to be going along there just then with some other prisoners we had taken and he called me over to relieve him of his unexpected captives. It was one of the funniest things I saw during the war."

SALVATION ARMY REAL THING

From letters home you already know what our boys think of the Salvation Army. But here are a few pertinent paragraphs, opinions given to Judge Ben Lindsey, of Denver, when he was in France with our army:

"Listen to some of the stories they tell me: 'You see, Judge, the good old Salvation Army is the real thing! They don't put on no airs. There ain't no flabbi about them and you don't see their mugs in the fancy magazines much.'

"Why, you would never see one of them in Paris around the hotels. Good Lord, you'd never know they existed, Judge, unless you came right up here as close to the front lines as the Colonel will let you!"

"Why, Judge," said an enthusiastic urchin—yes, he seemed just that, so boyish in his enthusiasm—after the battle yesterday we couldn't get these women out of the village till they'd seen every fellow had at least a dozen fried cakes and all the coffee or chocolate he could pile in! We just had to drag 'em out, for the boys love 'em too much to lose 'em—we weren't goin' to take no chances—not much—for our Salvation Ladies!"

"And say, Judge," chirped a ruddy-faced, stomach-joyed kid, "these guys don't preach to us, neither. They just feed us up—that's what they do. And when you see what those ladies are doing, how the hell can a kid keep from being good! That's just a faint glimpse of our boys before the peaceful, lovely firelights of the Salvation Army in France.

"And when I came into British headquarters I heard of a thousand wonderful things the Salvation Army has done and is doing for the 'Tommys,' and I think of the thousand other good things they are doing for our boys, too."

"When I left France, just a few days ago—as that actual few weeks now seems—I went to call on Captain Archie Roosevelt, one of the four brave sons of the man the American soldiers asked me most about. And Archie looked so fine and yet so pale from the long weeks of suffering in the hospital I felt I might be wearing on his strength to talk too long, and when I was about to leave a light came in his fine face and he fairly shouted to me, 'You tell Dad when you see him that the first chance he gets be sure and say a good word for the Salvation Army. They are the real thing over here, Judge!'

"And after hearing Archie relate the tales of their heroism, as he had personally witnessed it with our dead and dying and wounded and hungry boys, you couldn't help but take off your hat and shout for the Salvation Army, and what is more important, go down in your purse and dig up all you've got to spare for them. The other war charities are all right, but the words of the boys everywhere over there ring in my ears over here: 'Whatever you do, don't forget the Salvation Army!'

Farewell to a Free Press
With an illustrated cartoon weekly and two state dailies, there is to be added an official non-partisan league weekly in each county of North Dakota, to have all official printing.

All legal and official notices in the county are to appear in the organ owned by the league, and this official paper is to be guaranteed $6000 patronage a year.

The fighting political machine with abundant funds and means of publicity under its control is to absolutely dominate North Dakota politics.

It is recalled that single taxers and socialist parties have in the past stood for state published newspapers.

A system of class rule such as this can never exist permanently in this country unless it can do away with equal representation and freedom and protection for all as provided by our government.

Beet Tops and Sugar

Periodically there arises a farmer who wants to know things; he is not satisfied to be told by the Agricultural Department, or by beet top advisors, that the size of beet tops increases the contents of sugar in the beet, but he wants to know the reason why! This farmer, in the end, will be the really successful one, and as there are probably a good many of his type who have not written to sugar for detailed information on this subject, but who, nevertheless, want to know, we repeat here what we told our inquirer:

Sugar is produced by the action of light from the elements of the atmosphere, by means of a chemical reaction on the surfaces of the leaves. The fresher and larger the leaves are, and the more light they obtain, the more sugar they are able to manufacture. And this sugar is collected in the receptacle of the beet root, to be recovered by the diffusion process in the factory.

Beets, therefore, differ from some other plants in this respect: A large foliage above the ground does not mean that too much of the strength of the plant has gone into the leaves and too little into the root. But it means that a greater area of sugar is supplied to the root.—Sugar.

Oregon Farmer Folk See Modern Farm Homes.

To study the farm home conveniences, kitchen arrangements, remodeled houses, labor-saving devices, sanitary improvements and attractive yards, farm men and women of Jackson county have made a two-day tour of the modern farm homes of their neighbors.

"Some of the homes were old farm houses entirely remade with modern equipment conveniently arranged," says Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, state home demonstration leader of the Agricultural College. "Some had just been built with the modern ideas incorporated."

"That running water in the homes does not necessarily mean expensive equipment where kitchen and back porch are supplied with hot and cold water by means of a barrel on the roof and a force pump below."

"Power machinery in the house included gas engine pumps and washing machines and electric washers, heating systems and irons."

Steam pressure canners and small cook stove driers were exhibited along with very attractive products canned or dried with the equipment.

PLEASANT VIEW

Grover Preston and George Nielson returned from France within the last ten days, and Harry Federspiel came home after several months spent at Fort Sill, Friday. Most of the east of Sandy boys are home now, but will soon be leaving again for the harvest fields or other civil jobs. If Pleasant View had a suitable place to entertain them they would like to give the boys a public reception such as are being given in other localities, and lacking a suitable hall for such an affair, they are looking to the Corbett or grange people to start the ball rolling. We are ready and waiting and willing to help. Get busy!

The Gladstone chautauqua opens Tuesday, July 8 and as usual Banner camp will open at the same time for the convenience of the east of Sandy river people and their friends. Every one is welcome.

Mrs. Wm. Hunt goes to the hospital Monday for a serious operation and her many friends join in wishing her a complete and quick recovery.

Of the many little parties that are being given locally for our returned soldier boys, one of the pleasantest was given on Saturday evening when Mrs. C. E. Bramhall, Mrs. Robert Larson, Mrs. Elsie Hull and mother, Mrs. Lucy Kincaid, Mrs. Wm. Harding and Mrs. Ed. Woodard entertained 13 of the boys and between 40 and 50 of their friends at the Woodard home. The evening was spent in games and dancing. There was a grand march through the dark at midnight, led by Sergeant Federspiel and Miss Bernice Woodard, after which sandwiches, pickles, cake, fruit and ice cream were served by the K. P's. With many compliments to the hostesses the party broke up at a late hour.

Opposes Demobilization.

In a letter to Senator Wadsworth, chairman of the military committee, Secretary Baker opposed legislation proposing immediate demobilization of soldiers who enlisted for the emergency.

The Secretary insisted that immediate demobilization would disrupt the military establishment.

The views of the Secretary are not without interest in their bearing on the question of enforcement of wartime prohibition which under the law is supposed to continue until demobilization is ended.
