The Life of Your Car Depends Largely on Correct Lubrication.

It has long been recognized that machinery of every kind must be lubricated with oil of a particular consistency if it is to run smoothly.

The same is true of automobile engines. Unless an oil meets exactly the needs of the engine in which it is used, worn parts are likely to be the result. And worn parts mean the ever present danger of a break. It is certainly cheaper in the end to buy good lubricating oil of the correct consistency than to buy new parts.

To specify the correct grade of oil for every type of engine is the work of experts. Realizing this, the Standard Oil company established a Board of Lubrication Engineers that has determined by exhaustive study and actual tests the correct consistency of Zerolene for every make of automobile.

The results of the experiments and test of the Board of Lubrication Engineers have been embodied in a series of correct lubrication charts and a separate chart has been prepared for each make of car. The wise motorist will do well to follow these charts implicitly if he would get the most out of his car.
