COMING TO THE FRONT

Being right here in the center of things, one can hardly appreciate how fast this region is coming to the front. There are so many activities making glant strides toward big business.

In a few weeks the starch factory will be operating. Thousands of tons of potatoes which heretofore have been almost a dead loss will find an unfailing and substantial market. Tons upon tons of fruit will be put through the evaporator which is being installed and reaching completion.

Three fruit packing establishments are taking care of all local fruit—not a berry but finds an eager market, at prices that are most liberal.

The poultry farming and the dairy men are big factors in the development of our community. Scientific management of farms, fruits and livestock means assured success.

The Beaver State Motor company besides yielding a weekly pay roll of $800 to $900, is the trail blazer for similar industries which will be established here in no far distant future.

Factories of various kind will be established, for the logical arrangement and the eventual outcome will be to eliminate expensive and needless handling of raw materials by placing the factories next to the product.

The Roosevelt Memorial Association bids scheduled a campaign for funds for October 19-26. The association plans to erect a Roosevelt memorial at the national capital, to buy a tract at Oyster Bay which will include the home of the Roosevelts on Sagamore Hill, and to form an organization which will aid in the development and application of the Roosevelt idea.

The Columbia University awarded Booth Tarkington a prize of $1000 for his novel, "The Magnificent Ambersons." It was judged by the university as the one fiction story produced during the year which "best presented the wholesome atmosphere of American life, and the highest standard of American manners and manhood."

Trying to force and terrorize the country by strikes is to closely allied with the former Kaiser's method of trying to terrorize the world—it can't be done and the public will turn against a system which causes it so much suffering and inconvenience, just as it turned against militarism.

The city park in Portland is without a lion. Nero, the king of beasts, is dead. Many a small boy has been held spellbound watching the "roar come out," and it is safe to say that every one of those boys knew what he would have done, if that lion had broken loose.

Building for Pacific International Livestock Exposition to be erected at North Portland, largest of its kind in the United States, to cover 71-2 acres and cost $250,000.

After the haze and fog of the shipping board muddle has been cleared away, shipbuilding and ship operation in the hands of private enterprise can again get on its feet and move ahead.

Fruit growers of California as early as 1859 organized an association. Their problem then was how to get their produce to the east.

A bumper crop of apples is reported from all Oregon points. That offsets the pear shortage.

Teddy Roosevelt Here in September.

"Teddy" is coming to Oregon. Not the late "T. R." of the big stick, but the gleaming smile, the fearless words, but the promising son of a great father. Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was his title in France, but back in this country he is known simply as Theodore Roosevelt to those who do not know him well, "Teddy" to the worshipping men he commanded overseas.

As one of the prime organizers and well wishers of the American Legion, the great organization of ex-service men of the world war, Roosevelt has been indefatigable in his efforts to make the Legion a success. There have been rumors of personal ambition connected with his work but he downed them by his steadfast refusal to accept the chairmanship, or any other office in the organization, at the St. Louis caucus. This, in spite of the fact that for nearly an hour the roof of the great convention hall trembled to the shouts of "We want Teddy!" voiced by delegates from every state in the union.

"Teddy" is now on a speaking tour of the country in the behalf of the Legion. He is due in Oregon in September. Original dates called for his appearance in Portland September 17, but it is very likely that the date will be changed for a week later in order that he may be a speaker at the first state convention of the Legion to be held in Portland September 24, 25 and 26.

The same week that Oregon is holding its convention the state of Washington plans its state meeting in Seattle, so that Roosevelt will be able to attend both sessions.

He will not confine his speaking to Portland and Seattle, however, for his tour will include several valley cities and probably at least one city in Eastern Oregon. Pendleton, Salem, Eugene and Medford have been mentioned but no definite dates have been made. Cities desiring him should get their bids in early though it will be impossible for him to speak everywhere he will be wanted.

Barge E. Leonard, of Portland, state treasurer of the American Legion, has been named chief of the speakers' bureau for Oregon by John J. Sullivan, of Seattle, first vice-president of the national organization.

Winnipeg Learns Its Lesson.

No sooner did the Canadian government begin to deal firmly with the Winnipeg strike than it broke down. It needed only the arrest of the alien agitators, the calling out of troops, the dispersal of a strikers parade and the proclamation of martial law to depose the men who had usurped the government of the city.

The Winnipeg uprising was so plainly an attempt to wrest control of the city from the lawful authorities that the original cause has almost been forgotten. It is alleged to have been a demand for collective bargaining, but that is a mere pretext, for few employers oppose that custom. It seems to have been rather to enforce collective bargaining on behalf of all workmen with all employers by the "one big union," alias the I. W. W., which prides itself on not making binding agreements and breaking up separate unions. The result would have been a species of tyrannical oligarchy akin to a Russian soviet.

Now that the strike has failed the strikers who have caused so much loss, suffering and inconvenience to the public, are all rushing to get their old jobs back. They should be told to go to the I. W. W. leader for a job or move to Russia where conditions prevail such as they wish to establish here.

Fight Fire and Plant Trees.

"America must practice forestry on her privately owned timber land to provide a future supply of saw material for the lumber industry and prevent a wood famine," said District Forester George H. Cecil, at Portland, Oregon.

"The timber of the United States is being cut at the rate of 40,000,000,000 board feet a year without making any provision for another crop of trees when the present stand is exhausted. "Fire protection is largely restricted to mature timber. Fires are allowed to sweep over the logged-off areas, destroying the young tree growth with which nature would reforest the land." Fire fighting will save hundreds of millions of feet of timber which will take centuries to grow.

Next to the tax on tea in Revolutionary days, the present so-called luxury taxes and special five per cent tax on candy, are probably the most unpopular taxes ever collected in this country. Demand seems to be universal that these "nagging" taxes as they are called, be done away with at once. The public is ready to pay taxes to the necessary limit but it does not want to be harassed by such taxes as these. Collect the tax money necessary, in legitimate ways, but discontinue this nuisance.

The greatest grain crop ever grown in the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho is assured for 1919.

Resolved further, that the Recorder of the Town of Gresham is hereby directed to publish the foregoing resolution, as provided by charter and ordinances of the Town of Gresham."

Will There Be a Coal Shortage?

In the southeastern fields there is estimated 58,000,000 tons shortage of normal coal production. United mine workers demand a 6-hour day, five days per week or 30 hours production at pay of 48 hours. They demand still further nationalization of coal mines, which means applying government efficiency to production. With the first signs of labor trouble in July the railroads will make a demand to take over the bulk of the supply. In the excessive and unusual demands of the miners unions, the consumer is entirely overlooked. It looks as if a shortage would accentuate coal shortage, thus adding to the burden of the public.

A $60,000 Masonic and Eastern Star home is assured for Forest Grove.
