JEWIS IN DISTRESS.

Jews in all parts of the world, except America, are said to be in dire distress. This is not in general a new situation. So far as we can recall the Jews, except in a few favored locations, have always been in distress. Of all others they have been the persecuted race. But conditions have changed. There is no longer the old prejudice against the people because of their religion. They are like any others of our human race and should be helped if in distress. They have as a people suffered severely as a result of the world war.

Wealthy Jews in this country are contributing largely to the relief of their fellow religionists in all lands. All told, many million Christians and more than 6,000,000 Jews in countries other than the United States are being directly aided by American Jewish relief funds. The major portion of this humanitarian work is of course carried on in eastern Europe. It is there that the bulk of the world's Jewish population lives. The fact that these same nations have been perhaps hardest hit by the late war, explains why World Jewry is at the greatest crisis in its history.

But though the Jews of America have set out to save their race from destruction, they are not forgetting that their own people are not the only sufferers in these lands. The significance of the whole undertaking becomes apparent when it is known that the relief supplies which have been purchased and shipped largely with Jewish funds are distributed without discrimination to Christians as well as Jews. Barriers of race and creed have been submerged in the flood tide of suffering throughout much of the earth, and the efforts of American Jewry to aid in the great crisis of today have become as broad as humanity itself.

Funds for relief ships are now being sought by the American Jewish relief committee, whose headquarters are at 15 East 40th street, New York. Louis Marshall is chairman and Henry H. Rosenfeld director of this organization. Campaigns are scheduled for this fall in some 20 states, and it is expected to bring the total contributions for Jewish relief this year up to $35,000,000.

Two weeks until the opening of the county fair. Will you be ready? Two presidential possibilities who are looming on the western horizon, Senator Miles Poindexter of the state of Washington and Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

Lack of production in all lines and the tendency to still further reduce production by unreasonable shortening of hours while still further increasing wages is the nightmare of all industry today. Census report indicates that in 1870, 15 per cent of our population were engaged in farming; in 1880, 13 per cent; in 1890, 14 per cent; in 1900, 13 per cent, and in 1910, 11 per cent. It is undoubtedly less than 11 per cent at this time. Prices will continue to increase until we get increased production, in spite of all the investigations in the world.

THE SILVER LINING.

These be great days for prophets of evil, says the September Sunset, and it is too true that the war left us with many problems and in many situations provocative of troubled discussion if not of grave concern. The irrepressible optimist hobs up, however. Our boys are home again from foreign shores; examination and a summing up proves that a relatively small number of them who went were left behind to glorify, with their young bodies, the soil of France; science promises to restore to activity an amazingly large number of those who were wounded or shell-shocked or gassed; and all of us feel better men and women for having realized our possibilities of sacrifice and production in that time of stress. These are items to set down on the credit side of the ledger. Bolshevism makes no progress in our land; it appears to be dying the death in others. We are in the midst of the harvest of the greatest crop of wheat in history—enough to feed our own people to repletion and leave over for export almost half a billion bushels at a time when every peck of flour will mean the difference between starvation and life to desperate women and children in Europe. Congress is in a bellicose session; fish is cheaper; we were assured recently that gasoline is not to go any higher for the present; specialists have hopes that a possible recurrence of the influenza pestilence can be checked in incipency; and the quadrennial jockeying for position in the American Presidential Sweepstakes is already beginning. Life is not all drab.

Punish the Fire Starters.

August sees increasing forest fires in Oregon and Washington. Some of these fires are started by lightning which is beyond control of man.

But many of them are started by criminally negligent campers, tourists and home people who know the dangers.

Oregon has made a start in the right direction. Its fire wardens have secured the evidence and brought charges against numerous prominent persons for starting dangerous fires in the woods.

These parties, all of whom know the danger, set fires by dry logs, etc., and endanger life and property. A man would be strictly dealt with who endangered lives and property in a city or town through willful carelessness with fire. But this same man will go out camping and think nothing of setting a fire that may sweep hundreds and thousands of acres of land.

The public is beginning to realize that timber is our chief natural asset and a blow at our timber is a blow at the prosperity of the state.

Every man, woman and child should be taught to fight and prevent fires and report persons who are setting them carelessly. As our population grows, fires become more costly and dangerous and the man who starts them a greater menace to the community.

"Socialistic demands for governmental price regulation will not be heeded—they should not be. The law provides means for curbing profiteers, but we must accommodate ourselves to the fact that basic prices, for produce and labor and manufacturers will remain comparatively high for a long time, perhaps until the world has recovered from war, possibly permanently."—The Union, Indianapolis.

Lewis for Commissioner.

A party who pretends to know the political situation pretty well reports that there is a strong rumor to the effect that State Representative D. C. Lewis is seriously thinking of making the race for the office of county commissioner against A. A. Muck, the present incumbent. Mr. Lewis is reported to be very much opposed to the present management of county affairs. He thinks a public officer ought to be a real public servant and that county property should never be used for private purposes or private pleasure. He is reported to have said that the present expenses of the county government could be cut one-third and the efficiency of government materially increased. He says there are too many leak holes, all of which should be plugged and a real government established. —St. Johns Review.

WAR SAVINGS STAMP ORGANIZATION ENDS

September will mark the passing of the Treasury Department's War Savings Stamp organization in Oregon. The government has withdrawn its promotion of the sale of these "baby bonds" as a Federal function, and state headquarters, maintained for nearly two years in Portland, has been closed. County organizations throughout the state have also been notified that there will be no further need of their effort, inasmuch as the buying of stamps is to be left in future to personal initiative and volunteer effort.

Robert E. Smith, director of sales for the general war loan organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, announces that the cost of promoting sales of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps has been out of proportion to the results obtained, though it is his hope that the educational campaign for Thrift, which has been an important feature of the war stamp work, will be carried on in the schools, and through war savings societies.

Oregon, during the war, not only led the nation in attaining its quotas of war stamp sales, but did so at less expenditure than any other state, this being accomplished largely through the efforts of C. S. Jackson, state director, and the work of other volunteer members of the organization throughout the state.

Pay Your Debts.

Every progressive bank in the nation is constantly urging the public to get the habit of saving and paying off its debts. Contrary to the opinion of many, a banker is not interested in having a customer loaded down with debts.

Owing debts, and being a borrower at a bank are two different things. A banker extends credit to enable business to be carried on. In one way this is a debt, but it is a vastly different debt from the kind owed by a man who simply fails to meet his obligations for lack of systematic saving.

A bank must loan money to live but it wants to loan to people who save. The day of the Shylock is passed as the modern bank must live from prosperous and not bankrupt communities.

Geo. E. Roberts, vice president of National City Bank says: "The banker can render no better service to the farmer than by advising him to use the proceeds of present high prices to pay off his debts. It is a singular fact that people commonly go into debt in good times and pay their debts under pressure in bad times."

Eighty-seven Idaho hogs bring $3700 in local market, the highest price ever paid for pork in the northwest.

A Bilious Attack.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.—Adv.

Notice of Meeting of County Board of Equalization.

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, September 8, 1919, the Board of Equalization of Multnomah county will attend at the office of the county assessor, at the courthouse in Portland, and publicly examine the assessment rolls for the year 1919, and correct all errors in valuation, description or qualities of lands, lots or other property, assessed by the county assessor. And it shall be the duty of persons interested to appear at the time and place appointed. If it shall appear to such Board of Equalization that there are any lands or lots or other property assessed twice, or incorrectly assessed as to description or quantity, and in the name of a person or persons not the owner thereof, or assessed under or beyond the actual cash value thereof, said Board may make proper correction of the same. If it shall appear to such Board that any land, lots or other property assessable by the assessor are not assessed, such Board shall assess the same at the full cash value thereof. HENRY E. REED, County Assessor, Portland, Oregon, Aug. 15, 1919.

Movie on Wheels Brings Educational Films

Blind for 27 years, Dr. Francis Holley made a vow that if his sight was regained he would devote his life to teaching the world how wonderful is sight. He regained his sight and this followed, one of the 12 traveling movies which is to visit every cross-road in the land exhibiting educational films. It operates under the Bureau of Commercial Economics, has a hundred film exchanges and cooperates with scores of governments. It may be this way soon.
