Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

AN UNSELFISH INVESTMENT.

The interest shown by the citizens of Gresham in the home building plan has been very gratifying to those who felt the necessity and first urged that some plan be adopted to meet it.

Another commendable thing about the plan as adopted is that it is a purely local organization, started and financed by local capital, which also seems to insure that so far as possible local men and material will be employed in the building projects.

The new association is not in any way tied up to any tract or particular location but will build on a contract to buy with a substantial payment down, for anyone, anywhere a lot is selected, under approval, of course, of the officers selected by the stockholders of the plans, terms and location.

Some may not see it as a duty to subscribe, but those who can do so, and who wish to be known as unselfish citizens, ready to back up a wise movement to put the town and locality ahead in a material way, better get in early as the balance of stock will be quickly taken up.

SPEAKS WELL FOR GRESHAM.

"Gresham is to be congratulated on the unanimity and enterprise of its business men and citizens in undertaking this home building project."

The census of opinion is that Gresham has started something highly commendable and widely beneficial.

By request we are printing the poem of the army, "In Flanders Fields," written by Lt. John McCrae, M. D., who later made the supreme sacrifice.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie, In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe: To you from falling hands we throw The torch; be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die, We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders fields.

When in doubt try a Want Ad.

WANT TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING?

Of course you do. And there are a hundred million others just like you. Of course there are some who don't. Those are the fellows you're going to nail. They ought to be hung on the gallows they have prepared for others.

Following is an appeal to the people of this nation from the Council of National Defense. "If observed, it will have a direct and immediately beneficial effect upon the present trying conditions," says W. F. Woodward, field secretary for Oregon.

The United States Council of National Defense is composed of the Secretaries of War, Navy, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Labor, and has made a careful investigation of the high-cost-of-living problem. It finds—

That the Nation's productive powers have not been fully utilized since the armistice.

That too few goods, notably the necessities of life, have been produced, and that even some of these goods have been withheld from the market, and therefore from the people.

That the high cost of living is due in part to unavoidable war waste and increase of money and credit.

That there has been and is considerable profiteering, intentional and unintentional.

The Council believes that the remedies for the situation are— To produce more goods, and to produce them in proportion to the needs of the people.

To stamp out profiteering and stop unnecessary hoarding.

To enforce vigorously present laws and promptly to enact such further new laws as are necessary to prevent and punish profiteering and needless hoarding.

To bring about better cooperation and method in distributing and marketing goods.

To keep both producer and consumer fully informed as to what goods are available, and as to what supplies are needed, so that production may anticipate the country's demands.

Goods and not money are the means of life. Better standards of living are impossible without producing more goods. Man can not consume what has not been produced.

At the war's end our allies had desperate need of the essentials of life. We have had to share our resources with them, but this drain will gradually lessen. In so far as our shortage of goods is due to this cause we can well afford to be patient.

It is just as essential that we have patience with the economic situation here at home. The process of production requires time. If production is rapidly increased, vastly improved conditions will prevail in America when the results of present and future labor begin to appear.

Team work is imperative. It is just as essential between retailer, wholesaler, and producer as it is between employer and employee. One group of producers can not wait on another group. The manufacturer, the farmer, the distributor must each immediately assume his part of the burden and enter upon his task. The Nation can not afford curtailment of goods vital to the people.

On American business rests a grave responsibility for efficient cooperation in bringing about full and proportionate production. On American labor rests an equally grave responsibility to attain maximum unit production and maintain uninterrupted distribution of goods if labor itself is not to suffer from further rises in the cost of living.

The entire Nation—producer, distributor, and consumer alike—should return to the unity that won the war. Group interest and undue personal gain must give way to the good of the whole country if the situation is to be squarely met.

Our common duty now, fully as much as in the war, is to work and to save. In the words of the President in his address to the country on August 25, 1919, only "by increasing production, and by rigid economy and saving on the part of the people, can we hope for large decreases in the burdensome cost of living which now weighs us down."

Work, save, cooperate, produce. (Signed)

WHY THE ELECTRIC CLEANER?

There is really no comparison between the ease and thoroughness with which an Electric Cleaner removed dirt and the difficulty of sweeping.

True, one CAN clean rugs and carpets without an electric cleaner. A broom or carpet sweeper will brush up SOME of the dirt; and if you like the exercise and have plenty of time and strength a broom and a carpet beater will do the work after a fashion.

In the same way one can wash without soap. Water alone will remove some dirt if applied with enough "elbow grease."

But people use soap because it cleans more easily and better than water alone.

For the same reason people use Electric Cleaners because they clean more easily and far better than other methods.

BORING

Last Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffmeister were pleasantly surprised by the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ekstrand and son Clarence of Pleasant Valley, Miss Henrickson teacher of Pleasant Valley school, and Mrs. Edholms, mother of Mrs. Ekstrand, from Albany. Mr. Ekstrand was an old neighbor whom they had not seen for 25 years.

John Hoffmeister has a new Maxwell.

Otto Boese is reported slowly improving and hopes soon to leave the Oregon City hospital.

Mrs. W. A. Rolfe has returned from a short visit in Spokane, Washington, where the Rolfs lived before taking up their residence on the farm formerly owned by the Ketels.

A party of 15 motored up to Garfield to spend the Sunday with A. C. Anderson. They were the John Anderson family, Eric Bartell and family and the Herman M. Johnsons.

Clothes baskets full of picnic grub were hauled along, so there was nothing to do but to brew a tank of coffee and begin celebrating when they got up there. And for an appetizer there is nothing like a drive down Boring hill and up through the valley to Currinsville and on eastward in the pure ozone along the upper farm lands beyond Estacada.

Arthur Heacock, Henry Henningson and Edwin Hoffmeister have returned from a hunting trip in southern Oregon. They report good luck.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, October 23, a girl.

Only three days more on the bargain combinations of the Outlook and Portland dailies. We must have your order for the afternoon mail, Oct. 31.

PLEASANT VIEW

Mrs. Sarah Hicklin has been visiting at Mr. Woodard's the past week. Mrs. Harding gave a 500 party for her niece, Miss Gladys Gile, on Thursday evening. Every one seemed to have a nice time at all five of the tables, though of course the keenest rivalry was exhibited at the head table, where Mrs. Kaser and Ed. Nielson held their victorious position the greater part of the evening. Coffee, cake and sandwiches were served at a late hour.

James Babbitt of Kellogg, Idaho, arrived Sunday for a brief stay in this vicinity with his wife and son who have been visiting for several weeks at the Woodard home. Mrs. Babbitt bought the Shelley property in Springdale recently and expects to move in soon.

Mrs. Bloyd left last week for her new home in Hillsboro. Miss Gladys Gile left Saturday for her home in Healdsburg, California.

Cure for Blues.

"When a bit of sunshine hits ye, After passing of a cloud, When a bit of laughter gits ye, An' yer spine is feelin' proud, Don't fergit to up and fling it At a soul that's feelin' blue, For the mint that ye sling it It's a boomerang to you."

—Western Farmer.

Bronchial Trouble.

Mrs. A. E. Sidenberder, Rockfield, Ind., states: "For an attack of bronchial trouble which usually assails me in the spring I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only thing that gives me relief. After using it for a few days all signs of bronchial trouble disappears."—Adv
