

STARCH MAKING TO BEGIN SOON

For many years the old cheese factory building in Gresham was useless as an eyesore to the town. It was a few years ago and was run for a time by a co-operative company. But it was well built and had many advantages of location and that's the reason that Messrs. Griffith and Turley when they got ready to start starch making in Gresham grabbed onto the building and the fine location and the hydrating plant and starch factory. The building has been practically made over new. The foundation has been strengthened, floors replaced, new partitions put in, boiler, pipes and machinery installed until one could easily get lost in the labyrinth of pipes, conveyors, vats, drying rooms, etc. The outside of the building has the appearance of a new structure, but you never could guess what the interior looks like and no words of an ordinary reporter could describe it.

If you were to visit the building you would find rooms filled with cull apples and various materials working into—well, the reporter doesn't know what. Anybody told but can't remember. Anyhow it is something from which some of the very purest and finest food products can be made, it is claimed, such as jellies, apple butter, jams, mince meat, etc., and maybe and three-fourth per cent root beer, although that wasn't mentioned.

Instead of rotting on the ground, or being thrown in the pigpen, to be largely wasted they are being dehydrated, to be preserved in a safe way for various uses for man and beast. Mr. Griffith says only the best is taken out and he has some of it and it looks very pure too. Perhaps a use can be found for that.

What is done to the apple can be done to pumpkins, squash, all fruits and vegetables, and even eggs, though this isn't the way of year evidently to dehydrate.

The reporter is about convinced that even some railroad stocks could be improved by this dehydrating process. It is planned to add additional machinery to handle to better advantage the fruit and vegetables available in this locality.

One of the main features of the plant is the starch making from cull potatoes. In the basement, reached by a chute from the front, are tons of "little potatoes." But they are said to be worth almost as much as big ones for the purpose for which they are here being stored.

The mill has what seems like a large capacity for it, will eat up about four days of what most farmers regard as a waste and after going through all the intricate processes of the mill the result is potato flour, the finest kind of stock food, and all without the loss of anything except the water.

Men are busily working to complete all the intricate machinery necessary and it is expected to begin starch-making in a week or two.

It is said nearly a thousand acres have already been signed up which will be the limit for this plant. There is every indication that another year the capacity of this plant will be so exceeded that additional plants will be required.

It is the plan to construct here a large warehouse where all kinds of marketable and unmarketable products can be handled in profitable ways.

Mr. Griffith, manager of the Gresham factory of the Northwest Starch and Milling company, expects soon to announce an opening of the factory, when all stockholders and interested producers will be given an opportunity to see the mill operation and view its output.

GRESHAM GRADE SCHOOL PLANS "AT HOME" DAY
The grade school pupils and teachers are making ready for the big visiting day, next Thursday. Since no one has sent "regrets" or has pleaded "previous engagement," it is safe to say that parents and patrons will be out in full force for this occasion.

Callers are welcome at all hours in the rooms to observe class exercises. Later, the visitors will be entertained in the assembly hall, for which the following program has been arranged:

Dialogue—"Thanksgiving on the Farm", Seventh grade.
Concert Reading—"Hivath's Childhood", Third grade.
Dramatization—"The Three Bears", First grade.
Two Part Song—"Faithful Friends", Sixth grade.
Concert Recitation—"The Robin's Nest", Second grade.
Vocal solo by Margaret St. Clair, fifth grade.
Avril chorus—Eighth grade.

Attorney C. G. Schneider will speak on "America for Americans." The room bringing out the largest per cent of visitors will be given a beautiful potted fern.

Gresham music lovers have taken advantage of the musical programs at Portland during last week. A large number from here went in on Monday night to hear Sousa's band, among those to hear the Portland symphony concert were Mrs. W. F. Honey, Mrs. George F. Honey, Miss Florence Honey and Miss Mildred St. Clair.

CONGRESSMAN'S SON WINS APPOINTMENT

Lehr Fess, son of Congressman Fess of Ohio, is the new parliamentarian to the House of Representatives, succeeding Clarence Cannon, resigned. Fess has studied for many years to prepare for the place. He is 28 years old.

WOMEN OF STATE URGE SPECIAL SESSION

Women of Oregon are uniting in a state-wide effort to get a special session of the legislature to ratify the federal amendment for universal suffrage.

Mrs. Elliott Corbett of Portland is at the head of a committee that will appeal to Governor Olcott immediately, asking his views upon the subject and addressing him as women voters of Oregon. A meeting at which many state organizations were represented was held last Saturday in the Multnomah hotel and it was decided then to act at once. The meeting was the result of the plea of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and other prominent suffragists who explained to the women of this state the reasons why there should be ratification as soon as possible. The women here state that since the long and difficult battle for the federal amendment's passage had been won, after over 50 years of effort, it is but right and just that the states that have suffrage should ratify the measure by calling special sessions if necessary.

There has been considerable comment made to the effect that local women are not alive to the necessity of pressing this matter and to improve this they will unite all their efforts. It is stated emphatically by Mrs. Corbett and her committee that the measure will be absolutely non-partisan and that the present act of the women is an expression of loyalty to their sister states and a sense of duty. Many of the women opposed to a special session at first have changed their opinions since it is understood why it is needed and they now are in hearty accord with the plan. The Oregon Parent-Teacher association at its board meeting endorsed the plan. Unless there is a strong expression of sentiment in favor of suffrage it is feared that the doubtful and the opposing states will kill the measure and all the work will have to be done over again. Most of these "dangerous" states will have their legislative meetings in January, hence, action here must be prompt.

Many of the legislators have offered to attend and strongly favor having a ratification session. These legislators, needless to say are popular with the women voters. Since the reasons for immediate ratification are clear, Oregon women are hopeful that all difficulties and opposition will be cleared away and ratification will go through with flying colors. The publicity committee includes Mrs. G. L. Buland, Mrs. Harry Beal Torrey and Mrs. C. B. Simmons.

LET US IMPROVE OUR COASTS

AUTOMOBILE FAILS TO KEEP APPOINTMENT

Miss Ethel Calkins, Louis Calkins, Frank Jones and a lady friend motored to Portland Friday evening to hear Sousa's band.

All had secured tickets ahead of time, except Louis, who took a chance on getting one at the door. It was agreed that after the performance they would meet where the auto was parked. Before parting, Frank Jones advised Louis to drive the machine to a near-by garage thinking it rather unsafe to leave it standing on the street. Robes and extra wraps were also lying in it. Louis, however, felt different about it and left it where it stood.

After the concert was over they made for the meeting place, at least the two ladies and Mr. Jones did, but Louis and the automobile were missing. They supposed that he had placed it in the garage, after all, and would be there soon. Presently, he did appear, but minus the auto. He had been refused admittance to the auditorium, so had been "killing" time about town, and knew nothing about what had happened to the machine.

Police headquarters were notified of the missing auto.

On their way to the Alder street depot to catch the last car for Gresham, they witnessed the disentanglement of a collision of two machines—but neither of these was their lost, strayed or stolen vehicle.

The following morning, a lady away out in Lents telephoned in to headquarters that a lonesome looking car was standing near her house. Description identified it as the one that had failed to keep the appointment after the band concert was over. It is now safe at home, robes and wraps all there.

AMERICAN LOYAL LEAGUE BACKING LEGION MEN

The American Loyal League of Gresham met Saturday evening at which time resolutions of sympathy and support were formulated and sent to the Grant Hodge post of Centralia.

The Loyal League was organized and operated during the war. Now, as then, it keeps eyes and ears on the alert to detect the least hint of disloyalty and reports such to the proper officials with whom the League is in constant touch.

Gresham and vicinity being chiefly agricultural means that the people are industrious, sane and patriotic. The I. W. W. element so common in mill and factory regions does not have to be dealt with here. But even a suspicion of "red" sympathy will not be tolerated, contenance or condoned. A second resolution was passed by the League to the effect that they were, to a man, ready to back Gresham Post of the American Legion in their efforts to uphold American ideals.

Heating stoves are going like hot cakes at L. L. Klidder Hdw. Co.

When in doubt try a Want Ad.

U. S. ARMY STORE TO OPEN IN CITY HALL

A special meeting of the city council was held last night for the purpose of taking up certain questions which had been under consideration. Perhaps the most important was that of opening a branch army store in Gresham. It was believed by some of the councilmen that much was being lost by the local merchant by the patronage which the people of this vicinity are giving the army store in Portland. Accordingly the matter was taken up with the quartermaster's department and arrangements were made to begin the distribution of army goods here.

The store will be handled by a committee of the council consisting of Councilmen Geddes and Thom, who, with Recorder Miller were the committee appointed by the mayor to make the arrangements.

It was argued by some that the venture might be a disadvantage to the local merchants, but the consensus of opinion was that while sales in the limited number of lines carried would detract from sales in the same lines, other sales would more than compensate the local grocers and meat markets. The final vote on the question was unanimous. Only grocery and meat lines will be handled here.

The store will be opened in the city hall. The sales will be handled on a 10 per cent basis, which will go to the storekeepers for labor and clerk hire. Transportation will be paid by the government. Prices will be the same as those in all army stores.

Another matter to claim the attention of the council was that of a camp ground for automobiles here. A committee was appointed to confer with the Business Men's association to secure a location and plan the equipment. Those on the committee are Cleveland, Kelly and Thom. They are to report in three months.

Aylsworth Sells Suits.
Friday afternoon a Portland man stopped in front of E. W. Aylsworth's store and appraised one of the suits in the window, bearing a $45 price tag. He tried it on and it fit. Saturday he came in, handed Mr. Aylsworth the money and took the suit, saying, "I'll just put $29 in the other pocket; that's what I have saved on this suit over Portland prices."

Real Estate Deals.
Cleveland & Brown, dealers report: T. R. Howitt's buildings on Powell street sold to A. J. W. Brown for $2500.

Charles W. Camp to John Stanley, a Wyoming man, house and lot on Hood street, $550.

Josephine Knighton to F. N. Mew, hirer, house and two lots for $1570.

"What animals are skinned to provide women with fur coats?" asked the teacher.
"Husbands," answered the wise little lad.

ASKS WAR MOTHERS TO SPONSOR PARDONS

Mrs. John F. Linscott, president of the Pinella, Fla., War Mothers' Chapter, wants her national organization to sponsor a resolution asking pardon for every U. S. soldier now serving a courtmartial sentence in European prisons or at home. She had four sons in the war. She now wears one gold star.

MR. AND MRS. PALMBLAD AND FAMILY GROUP

A very interesting family group was photographed at the Max Schneider studio last week. The group consists of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmblad and their four sons and wives, their three daughters and their husbands and nineteen grand children.

The Palmblads are pioneers of the Swedish neighborhood now called Palmblad, a couple of miles southeast of Gresham. They were the second Scandinavian family to locate there, 41 years ago. Vast changes have taken place in that region since then and many Swedish families are now living nearby.

Among the 35 persons in the picture are:

Mr. and Mrs. John Palmblad; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gustafson, Berkeley, Julia, Wayne, Rhoda; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gustafson, Harold, Wendell, Amy, Pearl, Cecil, Gertrude, June, Lloyd; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Palmblad, Russell, Doris, Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. Swan Magnuson, Irma, Melba, Pauline; Mr. and Mrs. David Palmblad, Donald; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Palmblad; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmblad.

BIG PREDICTIONS FOR SATURDAY EVENING

Earthquakes, cyclones, a hard winter, the end of the world and Herbert Hoover for the next president are being predicted. Another prediction which will come to pass next Saturday evening, November 22, beats these all to smithereens, for there is going to be some time that night.

At grange hall, the Gresham Co-operative Poultrymen will hold a big meeting, with the public as guests. A program planned to entertain, as well as instruct in poultry culture, will be rendered. Karl Miller, Archie Meyers and John Cannon are eating bird seed this week so that their voices will be in prime condition for speech-making. Mr. Miller and Mr. Meyers will tell "What the poultrymen's association means to the community of Gresham." Mr. Cannon will speak for the Business Men's club and show "How the association benefits business in Gresham."

Professor Brewster of O. A. C. and directors of the State Poultry association will also be there.

The cats committee is arranging for a lunch to be served at the close of the program.

PLEASANT HOME

Multnomah Grange No. 71 will hold its regular meeting at their hall at Orient next Saturday, November 22. At the business session in the forenoon three candidates will be given the third and fourth degrees. The usual fine dinner at noon will occupy the attention of the grangers. An interesting literary program has been arranged for the open lecture hour, which will include a song, "Evangeline," by Miss Louise Fritz and an address on the peace conference by Rev. Earl B. Cotton.

Miss Bessie Hale writes from San Francisco that she is visiting her uncle, Clarence Grove, and that she will go to San Diego to visit friends.

SANDY BLUFF

Deston Lake visited on Sunday with his grandmother, Mrs. Laura Barnes.

H. Inlow, formerly of this place but now of Toppensh, Washington, was calling on old friends here last Friday.

Harold Franks and Albert Ault spent Saturday and Sunday at the latter's home here.

The Parent-Teacher association will meet next Friday, November 21, at the schoolhouse. All patrons are urged to be present.

K. & L. of S. Dance Postponed Indefinitely.
All who have bought tickets may have them redeemed by calling on Guy Jones.

UNION HIGH MAKES FOOTBALL RECORD

The Union High school football team was well pleased with the attendance at the U. H. S.-Camas game Friday. The crowd was the best that has turned out so far this season.

There has been a persistent demand by the people of this locality for a return game with Hood River high school. The Hood River team will play The Dalles Friday for the mid-Columbia championship. In the event they are victors in that game, the stakes on a U. H. S.-Hood River game would be interesting. If U. H. S. defeats Hood River it will put them in line for a chance at the Willamette championship.

Union High school is ready and willing to play the team from Hood River, but it will be necessary that at least 250 admissions be sold before the game. If you are interested in the high school, do your duty, and help put the boys in line for a title. Being in no league now U. H. S. will likely get no title this year if they should beat Oregon University, but with the record they are making this year, it is likely they will break into the league next year.

The team is working with a view to changing the game with Canby to Friday, November 21, from the day before Thanksgiving, and playing Hood River on the latter date, Wednesday, November 26.

The standing so far is: Commerce 0, U. H. S., 0; Camas, 0; U. H. S., 2; Hood River, 46; U. H. S., 0; Washougal, 0; U. H. S., 25; Camas, 0; U. H. S., 24. The big score against U. H. S. at Hood River is accounted for by the local team being minus two of their stars, and other members of the team being badly "banged" up. This team has won more games than any other team turned out by the local high school in three years. It is on this point that they are basing their plea for more support locally. It has been suggested that the business men show their appreciation by banqueting the team at the end of the season, in the event that they win from Hood River.

ANOTHER VICTORY UNION HI 24, CAMAS 0.

With shouts of victory that roused even the old bald head of the Gresham Butte to exulting echoes, Union High school defeated the high school of Camas 24 to 0 Friday afternoon. The game ought to be classed among the two "melodramatic murders of the modern age" for it surely marked the total extinction of the visitors. Nothing, not even the portliness of Mr. Goodwin, could stop the attack of the red and white. The plunging ponderosity of the brainy backfield for Union High combined with the terrible tenacity and penetrating propensities of the line could not be overcome by Camas. The details of the decease:

Gresham kick off to Camas 30 yard line.

Camas made yardage twice by plays through Gresham line and fumbled, Gresham recovering.

Gresham made yardage once by line plays, but failed on the next try, the ball going to Camas on downs.

After two plays through the line, Camas attempted a forward pass which was intercepted by Johnston.

On the third play Gresham fumbled, Camas recovering.

Camas resumed play through the line but on the third until fourth down, when a pass was intercepted by Burlingame.

Gresham tried the line twice, then passed, the pass being intercepted by Camas.

Camas made first down by three plays through the line and the quarter ended.

Beginning the second quarter, three line plays and an incomplete pass failed to net yardage for Camas and lost the ball on downs.

When three line plays failed to gain the necessary distance, Peak punted, the ball going wild and out of bounds at Gresham's 35 yard line.

Camas tried end runs but three plays lost 10 yards and Camas punted.

On first down Peak punted for Gresham, 50 yards the punt going for 10 yards more on two bounces.

Camas made first down in four line plays, but fumbled on the next play, Brugger recovering for Gresham on Camas 25 yard line.

Gresham made first down twice by two and four plays through the line, placing the ball three yards from Camas goal, and three hard plunges through the Camas line put the ball over.

Peak missed goal.
Score—Gresham 6; Camas 0.

Gresham kicked off, Camas bringing the ball back to their 35 yard line where they were forced to punt, this play ending the half.

Gresham came back strong in the second half. Peak made a beautiful kick off, which however bounded over the goal line and was brought back to the 20 yard line.

Camas found the Gresham line solid and lost the ball on downs.

After two ineffectual attempts to pierce the Camas line and an incomplete pass, Peak took the ball around the short side of the line for 12 yards.

Gresham tried the Camas line twice, was penalized 5 yards and a
