GRESHAM LOCALS

Union High school has been closed for several days on account of the snow storm. It has been impossible for students from country districts to reach the school buildings. The authorities hope that conditions will be favorable for opening on Monday, December 29th.

Judge Stapleton is to speak at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night on the subject, "O, I Didn't Know It Was You!" Does favoritism rule? Are all men equal before the law? You will hear something to make you sit up and take notice. Don't miss it.

The auction sale advertised by R. I. Anderson has been postponed until further notice.

Christmas exercises and communion services will be held at the Zion Evangelical church next Sunday morning at the usual hour for service.

M. A. Ross Post, G. A. R., and Women's Relief Corps will hold their regular meeting at the Gresham grange hall next Saturday, beginning with a session in the forenoon. The woman of the Relief Corps will serve a splendid dinner in honor of the old soldiers at the noon hour.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will hold the bazaar, which was postponed on account of the inclement weather, at the grange hall Saturday evening, December 20. The hall will be open during the afternoon and committees will be on hand to receive the articles and cakes which will be donated by the members and friends for the sale. A short program and several amusing features are being prepared.

Mrs. Grace Otto, the popular 7th grade teacher, has resigned her position in the grade school. Miss Gertrude Alexander, sister of Mrs. Will Ott, who has been teaching in the Estacada school, has been engaged to fill Mrs. Otto's place and will commence her duties after the Christmas holidays.

Raymond Humason, of Portland, is spending the week visiting his mother, Mrs. C. Humason.

Mrs. Iris Everts, of Portland, visited with her sister, Mrs. Cecil Metzger, the first of the week.

Frank Gibbs is at home again after several weeks at Seaside. He is much improved in health.

Dr. A. H. Wright returned Wednesday from a four weeks' trip through the middle west. Although Dr. Wright visited Chicago, St. Paul, and other eastern cities he reports that there is more snow in Gresham and vicinity than any place he visited in the East.

Mrs. S. C. Jones is convalescing at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, and is expected home as soon as traveling becomes a little more normal.

All college and normal students of this vicinity are at home for the holidays. More than a score of young people from this vicinity are attending higher institutions of learning.

Miss Bess Howitt is home from her school at Winlock, Washington, which was closed on account of the storm.

Miss Mildred St. Clair underwent an operation for appendicitis at Good Samaritan hospital on Wednesday of this week and came through the ordeal well.

Twin babies, a boy and a girl, were born on Wednesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderegg at Fairview, Oregon.

W. H. Misz of Portland visited in Gresham for a day or two with his mother and sister and on his return to Portland Mrs. Misz returned with him.

Jerry Eling has been feeding the birds during this cold spell and has made friends with a good many, among them being a robin, which will come onto the porch for his feed.

Mrs. Conley of Portland is demonstrating the products of the Southern Oil Trading company at A. W. Metzger's store this week. Delicious samples of cake made with Snow-drift shortening, are given all who stop to taste.

Mrs. Frank Hodge had a narrow escape from injury this week when one of the hot water pipes in the stove exploded, blowing the stove lids and the fire box door off and generally messing up the kitchen. Mrs. Hodge had just been at the stove a moment before and most certainly would have been injured if the explosion had occurred then. No particular damage was done, however.

J. S. Lageson, district deputy of the Modern Woodmen of America, was in Gresham last Friday night to attend the meeting of the local lodge.

Dr. R. B. Stephenson and family of Chicago, relatives of W. F. and Geo. F. Honey, left the "windy city" a short time ago, to enjoy the mild and equable climate of Oregon. They arrived in Portland at the beginning of the storm but were unable to reach Gresham for several days. They are now visiting at the Honey homes.

Viola Dinger, a junior at O. A. C., is home for the holidays. Owing to the shortage of fuel students are coming home a week early this year.

Sunday school services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Backstrand last Sunday when the impassable roads prevented many from attending Sunday school. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wiles, Fred and Hector Morgan, Annie, Ethel, Harry and George Moffitt were neighbors who participated. This little Sunday school was especially favored with a solo by Miss Elizabeth Backstrand. This is a happy suggestion for others who find themselves cut off from their regular Sunday services.

GRESHAM GRANGE WILL HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

A few members of Gresham grange braved the elements last Saturday and met at their hall. The numbers were so few that it was decided to omit the regular election of officers and the vote on state officers. A special meeting will be called in the near future to attend to these matters and any other business requiring immediate attention.

The storm did not prevent those who met from having a jolly time, and they are said to have had a splendid dinner. Those at the dinner were H. W. Snashall, Dr. A. W. Botkin, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kern, Mrs. B. N. Raney, Mrs. H. H. Eling, Mrs. F. C. Hodge, George Leslie and M. M. Squire.

A communication has been received by the grange from the Fruit and Flower Mission in Portland soliciting supplies for that institution, which conducts a day nursery and cares daily for 40 little children, whose mothers are forced to leave them and go out to work. Potatoes, apples and dried fruit are among the things solicited. Contributions will be received at the home of Mr. Leslie and will be sent to Portland on Monday, December 22.

A. R. Tyson, Seattle Overland manager, was a guest at the Eling home on last Sunday. He reported less snow there than here, but that low temperature prevailed there as well as here.

DALQUIST-HORNECKER WEDDING HAPPY EVENT

The home of Mrs. Chas. Dahlquist in Pleasant Valley was the scene of a pretty home wedding December 6 at 8:30 p. m., when Miss Pearl Dahlquist became the bride of Charles Hornecker of Lynch. The spacious rooms were artistically decorated in pink and white carnations and greens.

The bride and her attendants descended the stairs to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Henrietta Trode, and joined the groom under a wedding arch of pink and white carnations and holly. The beautiful ceremony was performed by Dr. A. Thompson of Gresham.

The bride, lovely in a beautiful gown of beaded Georgette crepe and white satin and carried a shower bouquet of rosebuds and lillies of the valley. Her flowing veil of tulle was caught with lillies of the valley in a charming manner. She was given in marriage by her brother Wm. Dahlquist.

The maid of honor was Miss Esther Laughlin who was charming in a gown of pink crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Albert Hornecker, brother of the groom, was the groomsman.

After the ceremony the guests were entertained with several piano and vocal selections by the Misses Trode and Laughlin.

A dainty wedding supper was served to about fifty guests. The wedding cake which was attractively decorated with pink ribbon streamers, was cut by the bride during the supper.

Many beautiful gifts of linen, silver and cut glass were received by the happy couple as an expression of the esteem in which they are held by their many friends.

Mr. Hornecker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hornecker of Lynch and Mrs. Hornecker is the daughter of the late Chas. Dahlquist and Mrs. Jennie Dahlquist of Pleasant Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hornecker left amid a shower of rice and good wishes, for a few days' visit in Portland. They are at present staying at the home of the bride's mother in Pleasant Valley.

PLEASANT HOME BAZAAR WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Owing to the difficulty of getting over the roads in the evening and the fact that many are still shut in, the Methodist Ladies' Aid at Pleasant Home have decided to hold their annual bazaar at the church on Saturday afternoon instead of Friday evening as planned at first. Dinner will be served all afternoon from 12 till 5 o'clock. The ladies will be ready to commence business at 10 o'clock. The drama which was planned by the Sunshine club has been postponed until a later time, but an entertaining musical program has been arranged for the afternoon which will include several numbers by the church orchestra.

Many useful and beautiful articles will be on sale which will be very suitable and attractive for Christmas gifts.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Boys and men between 17 and 45 can join the big class in the Modern Woodmen to be initiated in Gresham about Christmas. For full particulars and application, see John Brown, D. D. All applications should be in next week in order to get in the wagon and enjoy the fun and feed. Phones—Office 981; Residence 547.

DOLL HATS ON SALE AT MISZ MILLINERY

The Misz Millinery has an attractive display of doll hats in one of their windows, which is causing considerable interest among the juvenile mothers of Gresham. Almost every doll in Gresham is in need of a new hat and many little mother's are hoping Santa Claus will stop at the millinery before he visits their house. There are beautiful picture hats, fur hats, modist turbans and hats of velvet, lace and net, all are exact copies of the latest models worn by the ladies of New York and Paris.

New models are being made every day and will be until after the Christmas season. The cost is very modest considering the quality of the hat and the joy they would bring to the heart of a child.

PASTOR'S CHRISTMAS GREETING

To the Readers of the Gresham Outlook, Greetings and Kind Wishes:

Again the blessed Christmas season, commemorating the advent of God's great love, has entered our lives bringing with it the message of wholesome sacrifice and self-denial and reminding us of the universal equality among men in more than one respect. Amid all the superficiality and hurry of this earthly life may this season move the deeper under-currents of our lives and inspire us to bring forth always our best and noblest as a daily welcome of peace and good will unto suffering humanity.

H. R. GEBHARDT,
Pastor Zion Evangelical Church.

PASTOR'S CHRISTMAS GREETING

To the Outlook and Readers, Greetings:

At this season of the year, when heart calleth to heart, and we draw our pleasures from the wells of loving kindness, which lie in the depths of our own souls, I greet you. The spirit of Christmas should draw closer those bands of fellowship which the cares, pleasures and sorrows of the world are continually operating to cut loose, and once more breathing the atmosphere of the tender Christ renew the ties of brotherhood.

The eyes of the world are on the cradle of Bethlehem. Strange is it not that the birth of a child should so grip the mind and heart of humanity? But Christ has written his signature on the flying years. With his birth there came a spirit of humanity utterly unknown in the ancient world. This spirit of brotherhood, of friendship, of humanity is at work throughout Christendom. This spirit has descended to us, from the child cradled in the manger at Bethlehem, bringing joy and gladness. "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people: for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Wishing you all a Christmas of joy and a prosperous New Year.
R. EUGENE MYERS, Pastor M. E. Church.
