LOCAL DOINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Miss Twyla Head, county superintendent of the Klamath county schools, Miss Ruby McKay, a teacher at Corbett high school, and County Superintendent W. C. Alderson of Portland, called at the Outlook office Thursday. Miss Head said that in some parts of her county the districts are so inaccessible that to reach schools located in the northern part of the county she would have to come by way of Portland.

P. W. McClung and wife of Pomeroy, Washington, visited with the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Shoemaker, Thursday and Friday. The McClungs are on their way to California.

Jake Larson chaperoned a party of school ma'ams one evening last week on a visit to the auditorium at Portland, where an entertainment is now on that met with their hearty (?) approval. Jake says his "flivver" is equal to any occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Horr of Goldstone, Montana, are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Horr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Lyman.

S. B. Hall, county agent, has been spending the past two weeks at Corvallis. Mr. Hall attended the Farmers' Week meetings and later the conference of county workers. His office reopened Monday.

The Gresham Social club are planning a dance for Friday evening, January 16 at the Masonic hall. Music will be furnished by a Portland orchestra. The patronesses are Mesdames Geo. W. Stapleton, Benj. Cameron, Wm. Hessel, James Elkington, John Cannon, Arthur Dowsett.

Mrs. Jonas Johnson entertained at dinner Friday evening Misses Martha and Marion Hagberg, Ruth Nystrom and Mary Christensen. A very pleasant evening was spent.

H. W. Strong and sons Edward and Ray have just returned from a trip to Spirit Lake at the foot of St. Helens. They were with a party of Y. M. C. A. workers. The party went as far as possible with auto trucks then the balance of the way on foot, carrying their luggage. Skiing formed one of the delightful features of this winter trip. Mr. Strong reports it an ideal winter trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thom are being felicitated upon the birth of a son early this morning. The young man weighed eight pounds. Both mother and son are doing well. Mrs. B. Hugabone of Portland is the nurse.

H. J. Puffer is to commence his new duties as secretary of the Multnomah and Clackamas Telephone company next Friday.

Great credit is due the linemen of the telephone company for the speed with which they put through the transfer of the switch board last Saturday. Telephone service was resumed early Sunday morning.

"Little Brother" is receiving almost more than his share of attention at the Clarence Stanley home. He and his mother are doing well and all are happy. The boy is nearly two weeks old, having been born on New Years eve.

Mrs. W. F. Mason has been quite ill at her home in Cleveland addition for the past week, but is reported to be improving.

Mrs. C. E. Rusher, whose illness was reported in the last Outlook, is now considerably improved.

Mrs. C. G. Gleason spent last Sunday in Portland with her invalid sister. Their father, J. D. Dentler, of Kansas City, Kansas, has spent the past week here and in Portland but returned yesterday to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Roberts of Welches are here on account of the illness of the former's father, John Roberts, who is ill suffering from pneumonia. The sick man is said to be holding his own.

George E. Towle, of Minneapolis, visited here yesterday in the homes of his brother, D. E. Towle and his brothers-in-law, W. F. and George F. Honey. Mr. and Mrs. Towle are spending some time in Seattle with daughter and will be there until after next Saturday when another daughter will be married to a Minneapolis man. Mr. and Mrs. Towle are planning to move to Gresham in the spring, and will make their home here.

A special meeting of the town council has been called for Wednesday night, at the usual time to consider the continued employment of a traffic officer.

The recorder's court is in session this afternoon hearing cases under the traffic ordinance. There are about ten cases to be called, several are hold overs from former hearings.

Bert Metzger has returned from Seattle, where he spent Thursday and Friday of last week attending a meeting of dealers in Winchester Arms supplies.

Mrs. Maggie Ulm entertained at dinner on Sunday O. S. Viken of Portland, a young ex-service man who called this his home and Mrs. Ulm "Mother," during his service in France.
