

GRESHAM'S LUNCH ROOM ATTRACTIVE

Withrow's confectionery and lunch room has moved into their new quarters in the Withrow building. The move was made Wednesday evening and without any mishap. Thursday noon they served dinner to 50 persons in their home.

The new location is ideal for the business and no expense has been spared to make it modern, up-to-date and convenient. Practically all the equipment is new. The beautiful fountain of marble and glass with every facility for serving all the latest Sundaes and cool beverages that may be desired, is one of the most imposing fixtures in the building. It was furnished and installed by Blumauer-Frank Drug Company of Portland.

It is the arrangements for handling the short order lunches and the regular boarders that will mean most to the public. No expense has been spared to make this as convenient as possible for serving hot meals at all hours. Steam trays, such as are used in cafeterias, for holding roasts, soups and vegetables are in the short order kitchen off the main dining room. This kitchen is a model of convenience, and has an up-to-date gas range, tables, and the steam trays all conveniently arranged for quick serving. On one side of the room is a double door which opens into a cooler or ice box. This box will hold ice to the amount of 500 pounds. The array of chops and other goods things which were displayed when the door was opened was enough to make any one hungry.

Mrs. Withrow said that the plumbing on this building was a wonderful thing and was all done by the local plumber, J. T. Stillions.

The building is heated with radiant gas heaters throughout. The heaters, the gas automatic water heaters, and steam trays were all furnished by the Portland Gas & Coke Company.

W. K. Hamilton, of Portland, a well known contractor, had charge of the remodeling of the building which was extensive.

The main kitchen is in the sub-basement.

The building throughout is finished in the most modern and up-to-date style. All of the decorating was done by E. S. Thomas, local painter, and the interior is kalsomined in the very latest colors and is most attractive with its dark finished woodwork.

J. E. Metzger, local home furnisher, supplied the chairs and tables and also laid the attractive floor covering.

The electric wiring was done by Floyd Mack, who also furnished the electric light fixtures which harmonize beautifully with the other decorations.

The offices on the second floor are also models of convenience and they are very attractively furnished. These offices are occupied by Dr. H. H. Hughes, physician and surgeon; Dr. H. H. Ott, dentist, and C. G. Schneider of McGuirk & Schneider, attorneys at law.

Mrs. Withrow has spared no expense to make this building the equal of any building of its size in the state and the public will be left to judge for themselves as to how well she has succeeded for she expects to hold a reception in the new building Thursday evening of next week when the building will be formally opened to the public. Mrs. Withrow invites her friends and patrons, past and future, to this opening between the hours of 8 and 10 p. m., April 1. She will serve a free lunch between those hours to all who attend.

Mrs. Withrow purchases her groceries and meat of local dealers.

Mrs. Withrow is to be commended for giving Gresham what it has so sorely needed—a first class restaurant. Judging by her success in pleasing her patrons in the past, Mrs. Withrow's new venture will prove a marked success. Good eats at any time will be a feature which will help to advertise her business and Gresham.

No Schools for Chinese.

There are at least 60,000,000 young people of school age in China for whom there are at present no educational facilities at all. Included in the program of the Interchurch World Movement which will be explained at the conference to be held in this county early in April are five universities in China each involving the co-operations of from four to six denominations.

Storage battery repairing and recharging, starter and generator work. Raker & Son.

O. A. C. PROGRAM GIVEN BY UNION HIGH ALUMNI

Members of the Union High Alumni who are attending O. A. C. this year gave an interesting program at the high school this morning. The students are home on their spring vacations.

Principal E. F. Goodwin presided over the meeting. The program was given entirely by O. A. C. students.

Merrill Good of the '18 class gave the main address in which he presented the needs of college for increased funds with which to carry on its work. Andrew Brugger of the '17 class, David Peterson of the '19 class and Glen Rusher all spoke on the different phases of the situation at the college.

Miss Gladys Neal of '18 class and Miss Edella Towle of '19 furnished musical numbers, which were much enjoyed. The whole group of O. A. C. students sang several college songs and the whole program was much appreciated. There were 13 of the Union High Alumni present who were students at O. A. C.

ROCKWOOD M. E. CHURCH PLANS FOR BIG REVIVAL

Rockwood M. E. church is to enter revival meetings, March 29, at 7:30 p. m. and will continue for two weeks until April 11.

The church has made splendid progress in both Sunday school and church work. It is now ready for a mighty revival. Rev. Robert Brymer, evangelist for the Salem district, has been secured. He will bring the message every evening. Rev. Mr. Brymer is also a well talented singer which means that the song service will not lag. The Lord has blessed Brother Brymer's work wherever he has been and many converts are to his credit. Rockwood should experience a great spiritual awakening as a result of his labors. He will be assisted by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Schnell and many interested workers of the church.

ICE MACHINE IS INSTALLED IN MARKET

The Sanitary Meat Market has a new ice plant installed and are refrigerating their own meat.

Al. Hammar has just completed an attractive fish box of white porcelain faced bricks. This box, as well as the show cases, has pipes from the refrigerating plant run through them and will keep everything in perfect condition.

New glass cases for the display of steaks and choice cuts of meat have also been provided and by the first of the week it is expected that the new improvements will be completed.

This ice plant is a new thing in Gresham. It is a simple affair in appearance but it accomplishes the work as the pipes with their coat of white frost indicates.

Holy Week Services.

This week is full of sacred memories. We make too little of it. Let us observe it by following our master in His last week.

The Methodist Episcopal church will observe the week with services as follows:

March 28—Palm Sunday. Morning sermon, "The Royal Entry." Evening, "Christ in Jerusalem," illustrated by the stereopticon. Monday, March 29, "The Day of Authority." (Stereopticon). Tuesday, March 30, "The Day of Conflict, (stereopticon, ten virgins). Wednesday, March 31, "The Day of Retirement," (stereopticon). Thursday, April 1, "The Day of Fellowship, (stereopticon), communion service. Friday, April 2, "The Day of Attonement," (stereopticon, "The Status of the Cross."

No services Saturday night. Sunday, April 4, Easter morning. Sermon, "The Risen Lord." Evening, Easter, (stereopticon).

The church that serves the community.

C. E. Rusher will sing "The Palms" Sunday night, March 28.

This is something different. Good music, good pictures, good fellowship.

Everybody invited. The young will enjoy it. The middle aged will be inspired. The old will be uplifted.

SHERIFF T. M. HURLBURT ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

After having given careful consideration to the request of a large number of friends, Sheriff T. M. Hurlburt announced this morning that he will be a candidate for renomination as a republican in the primaries on May 21. He will file his declaration accompanied by his slogan in a few days.

Sheriff Hurlburt in his platform will stand on the record he has made during his administration. He will say, among other things, that he will construe his oath of office to mean complete and effective enforcement of law, with no interest to serve except the public interest; that he will treat all people alike in the performance of his duties; and that he will strive to avoid injustice as well as to serve justice. He will point to the reorganization of the tax collecting department as a worthy achievement and to the reforms he has made in the feeding of public prisoners. For many years the law permitted the sheriff to feed the prisoners in the county jail and to make a profit out of the transaction if he desired. Upon Sheriff Hurlburt's recommendation, the Legislative Assembly enacted a law authorizing the county to feed the prisoners at actual cost and now no one derives any profit from the work.

Sheriff Hurlburt was born at Albia, Iowa, March 28, 1860, and came to Portland in August, 1870, when he was a little over 10 years of age. He was a civil engineer by vocation before his election as sheriff and had been closely associated in the development of a number of public enterprises. Few people are aware of the fact that over 30 years ago, he made the first official reconnaissance of Bull Run, the source of Portland's water supply. Portland had been using Willamette river water, and while Bull Run was in favor, many people strongly objected to it on ground that it was fed by melted snow from Mt. Hood. The people did not desire snow water. In a week's trip through the rugged wilds in the foothills of the Cascade mountains, Sheriff Hurlburt determined conclusively that the snows of Mt. Hood did not drain into Bull Run and Portland went ahead with its plans for pure water.

During the world war Sheriff Hurlburt was actively identified with all the patriotic movements. He was the head of the celebrated Multnomah Guard, which rendered effective service in preserving order and protecting property in Multnomah county. All the guardsmen were armed and equipped under the direction of the sheriff and carried commissions as deputy sheriffs. Sheriff Hurlburt's son Ralph, was a lieutenant in Co. K, 362 Infantry. After being trained at the Presidio, he was assigned to Camp Lewis, and later sent to France with the Ninety-first Division. He was killed in action in the Argonne Forest September 29, 1918.

PLANTING SEASONS GIVEN FOR GARDEN VEGETABLES

Now is a good time to start the vegetable garden, points out A. G. Bouquet, professor of vegetable gardening at the Oregon Agricultural college.

"Early vegetables that can be lured above ground will not be hurt by future spring weather," says Professor Bouquet. "Such vegetables as onion sets, turnips, spinach, lettuce, and radishes will germinate easily under present conditions. Half a dozen early crops can be planted in early March. This is also hot bed time which calls for the sowing of such seeds as cabbage, tomatoes, peppers, and egg plants."

"April 15 begins the second planting season, which calls for sowing carrots, onions, beets, chard, the second planting of lettuce, radishes, and peas, and new asparagus and rhubarb beds. It is the season for sowing celery in hotbeds and melons in paper pots in a hotbed."

"The next seeding time is May 8 to 15, after frost. Beans, sweet corn, parsnips, and salsify may be sown and late cabbage, kale, cauliflower, and broccoli, may be seeded in the open seed bed and later transplanted."

"May 20 to 25 is the fourth planting season. The tomato plants may be transplanted, another seeding of lettuce made, and the seedlings of pole beans and the squash family be finished."

"About June 10 the egg plants and peppers should be transplanted to the field, and possibly some early celery plants. Another sowing of sweet corn and late beets, and carrots for winter should also be made. Lettuce should be sown at this time to give a supply in late summer."

The world is becoming so democratic that the only place you may still find real dignity is in a head waiter.

SHRINERS MAKING BIG PLANS FOR CONVENTION

Twenty-six of Portland's leading citizens are heading committees which are planning for the entertainment of the Shrine convention which meets in that city June 22d to 24th inclusive, the week of the Rose Festival. W. J. Hoffman is the general chairman and behind him are most of the big business men of his city. They are planning a wonderful entertainment for all visitors, and most of the show will be right where people of the ordinary type can enjoy it—on the streets.

There will be four great parades in three days, an Oriental garden and a series of street decorations that will be reminiscent of an oasis in the desert. Shriners mimic the Arabs in dress and manner of conversation and their whole ambition is to have as much fun out of life as they can get. Therefore 75,000 of them are bringing their rich and gaudy trappings to Portland to help put on the show.

It will be some show. Portland is spending $172,500 to stage it, which emphasizes the remark that it will be some show. Al Kader Temple of Portland gave $50,000 out of her treasury, the members of the Temple gave $46,000 out of their pockets and Portland business houses are giving the balance.

At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 22d, the daylight Shrine parade will be seen. That night Portland will put on her famous electric parade, a series of brilliantly illuminated floats. Wednesday night will occur the great Shrine night parade, and on Thursday afternoon the people will see the rose decorated vehicle parade, a production which costs thousands of dollars and weeks of planning.

The Shrine will close its meeting on Thursday afternoon, and on Friday and Saturday the Rose Festival will be staged.

The Shrine committee at Portland is going to see that all visitors are given a place to sleep, and will make reservations of rooms in private homes of that city for all northwest citizens who correspond with 802 Gasco building.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Gresham Council 3374 of Knights and Ladies of Security met in Metzger's hall on last Wednesday evening. State manager, L. M. Thomas and wife, Frank Moring, leader of Kirkpatrick's famous degree staff, W. J. Hopfer, president of the Portland Council, and wife were present and assisted in the regular work of the Council.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were provided by the ladies of the Council and a delightful social hour spent.

State Manager Thomas was requested to send a live deputy to assist in a campaign to increase the membership. Mr. Hopfer having accepted a position as district deputy has offered his services and will start a campaign for a class of 50 new members.

When the class is ready the Kirkpatrick degree staff will be present and exemplify the beautiful ritualistic ceremony. This team won the beautiful loving cup offered at the Multnomah county fair last September.

This campaign promises to be one of interest to many Gresham folks as the lodge is one which offers many inducements to membership. It is one of the foremost organizations of its kind in the United States.

C. D. SMITH VISITS GRESHAM FOR COLLEGE

Clarence D. Smith, field secretary of the Kimball School of Theology was in Gresham a few days this week in the interests of the school.

The school, whose object is to train men for the Christian ministry and to prepare men and women for missionary service and other lines of Christian work, is located at Salem, Oregon. It is the Theological School in the Northwest endorsed and authorized by the Methodist Episcopal church. While it is a denominational school, it receives candidates for the ministry from all churches. A majority of its students, however, are men who are already in the ministry.

The sources of income are: interest on endowment, a percentage of public collection for education in three annual conferences and the tuition paid by students. The receipts from these sources pay about one-half of the current expenses of the school. The balance is contributed by persons who understand and value the work of the institution.

The School of Theology is wholly independent of Willamette University.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT JOINT LODGE MEETING

The joint meeting of the Oddfellows and Rebekah lodges which was held last night was a splendid success. The Odd Fellows proved themselves delightful caterers and put on a dandy program. There was a large attendance.

Mayor Geo. W. Kenney gave an interesting talk on the history of I. O. O. F.

W. R. Gorsage and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fieldhouse gave some musical numbers that were much appreciated.

Principal T. J. Skirvin of the grade school gave some very entertaining readings which were much enjoyed as was the solo by Miss Vivian Hevel. Miss Esther Peterson accompanied Miss Hevel on the piano.

A four-piece orchestra contributed much to the evening's enjoyment. Those who played in the orchestra were Messrs. Maulding, Childs and Beck of Boring and Mrs. Nell Gullickson of Gresham.

The Rebekahs served a bountiful supper which added glory to their reputation for serving good eats.

GRESHAM PRODUCE CO. NEW BUSINESS HERE

D. L. McKillican, of Portland, has rented the building adjoining the Novelty Shop and is doing transfer and storage business under the name of the Gresham Produce Co.

He buys all kinds of produce which he sells to Portland wholesalers at the present. He expects later to establish his own market in Portland.

Potatoes, poultry, eggs, etc., and later fruit and berries are among the articles which Mr. McKillican expects to handle in the largest quantities although he will handle other articles also. He has a truck which he will use in hauling.

Mr. McKillican is married and expects to make Gresham his home as soon as he can find a place to live.

LARGE SUM REALIZED BY GASOLINE TAX

Proceeds totaling $390,912.22 have been received by the state of Oregon from the tax on gasoline and distillate, which was authorized by the 1919 session of the legislature. These figures cover the period from February 26, 1919 when the law went into effect to March 1, 1920. Sam A. Kozier, assistant secretary of state, has made the report for this period. A tax of 1 cent per gallon on gasoline and one-half cent on distillate is provided. This money which is sent to the secretary of state monthly by the distributors, is turned over to the state treasurer and later credited to the highway fund. It is then available for road construction and improvements under the direction of the state highway commission.

The lowest receipts for any month since the law became effective was in February, 1919, when the tax totaled $1,072.92. Last August the total was $47,477.73 this was the largest amount taken in in any one month.

MOONSHINERS STILL RAIDED NEAR GRESHAM

M. M. Squire and two other deputies from the sheriff's office in Portland raided a still one and one-half miles south of Gresham near the Dunn farm, last Monday morning.

They found quantities of mash and molasses and many empty barrels and other equipment. Evidence was pretty plain that the parties have recently vacated.

The deputies went at 3 a. m. Monday and it is thought that the moonshiners had left their still on Sunday, leaving no clew as to their whereabouts.

Keep in style. Try one of those "classy-fied" ads.

TRAIL BUILDING IS DESCRIBED

There were about 50 present at the lecture by Albert Weisendanger of the government Forest Service, at the library last Tuesday evening. His lecture was said to be very entertaining. Mr. Weisendanger prepared his lecture for boy scouts and has many pieces of equipment which the foresters use and which he explains. He had lantern pictures with which he illustrated the different kinds of work which the foresters do.

He showed pictures of trail building and other interesting features.

The methods of building camp fires and caring for them was explained by Mr. Weisendanger who urged care in the handling of camp fires as carelessness in this matter is one cause of much damage to National forests.

Some suggestions have been made that lectures of this sort be given more often at the library and Miss Montague is willing and anxious to co-operate in bringing good-entertaining features of this sort to Gresham.

Miss Montague is also anxious that the people of Gresham make the library a community center.

The library is ideally located and equipped for a community center. Some live public organization should get busy and make application to the library board for opening the library longer hours. It would mean much to the comfort of the country people and people who spend a few hours waiting in Gresham if they might go to the library and spend their time in such an attractive place. There would also be a larger distribution of books among the country people if they could obtain books in the morning hours as well as in the afternoon. It is not always convenient to be in Gresham during library hours, consequently many people are not getting the number of books that they would like to read.

NEW AUTO STOLEN RECOVERED IN SALEM

A $3,000 Hudson Super-six was stolen from the farm of John Cowen two miles east of Gresham about two weeks ago and was recovered in Salem Saturday, March 20.

The car which was new was left in the barn and some person or persons entered and got the car away without attracting attention.

It was finally located at Salem where the thief had apparently abandoned it. Everything was recovered with the machine. The machine was equipped with new tires but the thief had left them intact.

Mr. Cowen recently purchased the place known as the old Kane place, from Fred Shelly. He is to be congratulated upon the recovering of his machine. He brought the car home last Sunday.

Men who allow their wives to choose their stenographers get more work done. If you follow the beaten path you'll avoid brambles, but you won't gather any roses.

Have All Kinds of Building Lumber.

The Bruns Lumber Co., Inc., of Sandy are moving their mill to the new location two miles east of Sandy. New, modern sawmill machinery is being installed which will double the capacity of the mill. They will be ready to start work about May 1st and to fill orders for all kinds of lumber.

Arrangements are being made for the sale of slabwood and cedar posts. We will have facilities for delivering orders by auto truck anywhere in Clackamas and Multnomah counties.—Adv.
