

CHAUTAUQUA, FIVE DAYS NEXT WEEK--10 FINE PROGRAMS

Instruction, Entertainment, Inspiration, in Store for Those Attending Chautauqua Next Week in Masonic Hall. Lecturers, Musicians, Entertainers of World Prominence on the Ten Programs.

Just Listen!

Two concerts by the McGregor Singers.
Two concerts by the Fenwick Newell Concert Company.
Two great concerts by the Overseas Orchestra.
Two programs of music and entertainment by the Regniers.
Two superb concerts by the Stearns-Gregg Concert Company, featuring on Friday evening, Josephine Martino, prima donna soprano of New York.

In addition to all this, a cartoon lecture-entertainment; a lecture by Joel W. Eastman; entertainment by Fay Epperson; a delightful monologue-comedy by Ruby Page Ferguson; illustrated lecture by Dr. Chas. S. Price.

"Oh Boy! I'm going to be there."

"I'll secure a reserved seat for the whole grand week—five afternoons and five nights."

That's what people are saying.

The sale of season tickets is progressing with gratifying success and prospects are now good for a splendid Chautauqua week. The afternoon and evening sessions will be held in Masonic hall, Gresham, except Friday night, when the most wonderful program of the week will be given in the Methodist church. This is made necessary because of the use of the hall for commencement exercises.

There is no question about the entire program being one of the best ever put on the five-day circuit by the Ellison-White System.

The prices and arrangements this year have been popularized and adapted to local needs and conditions, more especially than heretofore.

Season tickets will be sold up to the opening day. There are two kinds of season tickets this year, one at $2, plus war tax, not transferable; the other for $3, plus war tax, which is transferable. It is good up to ten admissions by anyone presenting same at any time.

Arrangements have been made to reserve about 100 seats. These will be sold at 10 cents each, or a seat may be reserved for the entire season for $1. The reserved seats may be secured at the Gresham Drug Company. They are now on sale and all desiring same are urged to speak early. Arrangements will be made to provide for reserved seats at the church Friday night.

The daily schedule, daily program and prices for single admission will be found elsewhere.

Children's Playground a Feature. A children's playground will be a special feature this year. It will be in charge of a competent young lady and promises to be a happy time for the children.

It is entirely free to all children who wish to take part and enjoy the fun. The leader will bring a large equipment of playground necessities. Games will be arranged for all ages of boys and girls from 6 to 14 years. The public school grounds have been secured for these games. The children's hour will be at 4 o'clock.

THE MUNHINOTU TO BE THE FINEST EVER

The fifth volume of the Munhinotu, the Union High annual, edited by the senior class of 1920 will come from the press Wednesday, May 26th. This volume is the finest in every respect ever published by Union High school. It contains cuts of the high school building, members of the board of education, members of the faculty, every student in school, as well as of various organizations. It contains much choice literature written by the students, cartoons, snapshots and jokes. In the selection and arrangement of this material the Editor-in-chief, Edward Strong, has used the very best judgment and finest taste. The entire work of the book, editing and financing has been done by the senior class under the supervision of their advisor, Miss Good.

Though because of the high prices, the publication of this book costs $980, every cent of which had to be produced by the senior class, yet through the efficient efforts of Business Manager Edna Welling, and the splendid backing of his loyal classmates the book comes forth clear of debt. Every cent from advertisements and sales of the book has been donated to this work by these loyal friends of Union High.

After months of strenuous labor the work is at last finished—a work that is a credit to the talented editor-in-chief and to every member of this splendid, truehearted class—a work of which they justly may be proud, not only now but through all the years to follow—a work which is a credit to their Alma Mater—a work which other high schools in vain may emulate.

TROUTDALE

Little June McGinnis was given a party last week by her mother, Mrs. Morris McGinnis, celebrating her third birthday. A number of little people engaged in games and sports and enjoyed the refreshments, and altogether had a very happy time.

The Troutdale Ladies' Aid supper Saturday evening, May 15th was well attended, and up to the usual standard, being very appetizing and substantial. Something over $20 was taken in, practically all clear.

School closed last week, with a picnic on Thursday at the Advent camp grounds under the auspices of the parent-teacher circle. There was quite a crowd of the children with their teachers, parents and friends, and such an abundant lunch was spread on tables under the beautiful big trees on the grounds. The showers of rain that came up during the lunch did not entirely spoil the pleasure of the day, even if it did make

COMMUNITY HEALTH

Red Cross Nurse Gives Helpful Lecture at Chautauqua.

On the third afternoon, Mrs. D. Pirie Beyea, American Red Cross nurse, who served four years with the American Ambulance corps at the front in France, Belgium and Holland, is coming to deliver her lecture, "Human Life in Relation to Americanism."

Mrs. Beyea took part in five great military operations, Chateau Thierry,

St. Mihel, Cantigny, Soissons and the Meuse-Argonne. She has received two citations for bravery under fire.

The message Mrs. Beyea brings is of great import. She pleads for community nursing and public health work to save this country from a generation of weaklings and degenerates.

JERSEY BREEDERS TO PICNIC WEDNESDAY

Wednesday, May 26, will be known as Multnomah Jersey May Day, and will consist of a big picnic dinner and a tour of the big Jersey herds in this part of the county.

The party will meet at H. H. Samuels, 82d and Lincoln street, Portland, at 9:30. From this point they will proceed to O. J. Brown's farm on the Base Line road near Rockwood where they expect to arrive at 10:15 a. m. From Mr. Brown's the party will proceed to the home of Miss Nellie McKinley's on the Foster road.

The party plan to go next to C. H. Johanson's at Orient at 12:30 and then to B. C. Altman's at Seenic at 2:15. Coming back they will stop at the J. L. Bowman farm in Powell Valley which has just been stocked up with some fine Jerseys. The party will arrive here at 3:15 p. m. and after inspecting the herd will move on to the E. R. Wright farm about a mile west where they will arrive at 4 p. m.

The agricultural classes from Union High school and also from the Hood River High school will join the company and all those who are interested in Jerseys are invited to accompany the touring party.

Everyone is to bring a basket dinner which will be served at noon. The committee in charge wish to make it a big Jersey family picnic dinner. At this time the Jersey breeders will have a program and will complete the organization of a strong Jersey cattle club.

Umbrellas quite popular. After lunch the prizes consisting of books, given by the Parent-Teacher association for perfect attendance for the school year, were awarded, Mrs. J. A. Larson presenting them to the children.

Those receiving prizes were Helen Laudan, Quincy Howell, Paul Howell, Elizabeth Thomas, Ella Richardson, Arthur Suhr, Harry Weitaes, who was moving away with his family, and did not remain for the picnic had received his prize at school. The picnic ended with a generous treat of ice cream given by the school board.

The Parent-Teacher association at their annual election on Friday, May 14th, elected the following officers: president, Mrs. Mary Parsons; vice president, Mrs. J. A. Larson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Harlow.

The Troutdale Ladies Aid meets Wednesday, June 2d, with Mrs. Ella Hensley. All members are expected and all friends are invited to attend. Mrs. Wiley Richardson and Mrs. Wm. Crawford will be assistant hostesses.

Famous Soprano Coming

Josephine Martino, Who Sings at Chautauqua on Last Night, Is Protege of Caruso

Josephine Martino has attracted the attention of Enrico Caruso, the great metropolitan tenor, by her marvelous voice. In January, 1919, she sang before Caruso, Gatti-Casazza and Alex Lambert, probably the three best-known figures in New York musical circles. All predicted a great career for Miss Martino. Caruso has coached her in several of the operatic numbers she will use during the coming tour. Last season she was tendered a place with the Metropolitan Operatic forces.

President Wilson, after hearing Miss Martino, recently, complimented her personally. She sang for the Edison company last fall and will be one of their regularly advertised "Recreation Artists," next season.

"UNFOLDING OF DEMOCRACY" DECLAMATORY CONTEST IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Splendid Lecture by Eastman Second Night of Chautauqua.

Now and then a lecture entirely new and distinctly different, appears in the lecture world. One that makes people reconstruct their line of thought and hurriedly readjust their ideas. Just such an address is "Unfolding of Democracy," to be presented at Chautauqua by Joel W. Eastman, lecturer, lawyer and philosopher, who comes on the second evening.

His reputation as a speaker is nationwide. He discusses vital, timely topics, treating them in a masterly, sane way. He speaks with a marked forcefulness, a clear insight and a thorough understanding of his subject.

It is said that the sport of fishing lies in the fishing and not in the catching and if such is the case, these gentlemen enjoyed a very fine trip. They caught two small fish several colds and one of the gentlemen caught a cold.

It is reported that Dr. Thompson and Mr. Metzger caught the fish. But when it came to catching colds they were not behind the others.

Rev. Mr. Myers had the misfortune to fall into the creek, while trying to disentangle his line, and he got soaking wet. It was more like winter weather than summer and a fire was started that the fishing party might get warm and that Rev. Myers might get dry. During the drying out process Rev. Myers whom the fates seemed to pursue got his clothes on fire and there was considerable excitement until the fire was extinguished.

The gentlemen came back with their fishing arbor undampened but they will probably try some other location next time.

FISHING PARTY HAS BAD LUCK AND NO FISH

Jake Metzger, Wm. Thom, Dr. A. Thompson, and Rev. R. E. Myers enjoyed an eventful fishing trip up Alder creek last Saturday.

They were accompanied by Rev. Mr. Myers who had the misfortune to fall into the creek, while trying to disentangle his line, and he got soaking wet. It was more like winter weather than summer and a fire was started that the fishing party might get warm and that Rev. Myers might get dry.

During the drying out process Rev. Myers whom the fates seemed to pursue got his clothes on fire and there was considerable excitement until the fire was extinguished.

The gentlemen came back with their fishing arbor undampened but they will probably try some other location next time.

PLEASANT HOME

Mrs. R. I. Anderson has returned to her home here after several months spent in a hospital in Savannah, Missouri, where she has been taking treatments. She is very much improved.

Mrs. G. E. Nasshahn, who has been caring for her daughter, Clara, at the Good Samaritan hospital, has returned home for a few days. Miss Nasshahn is improving slowly.

Mrs. Myrtle Throckmorton, of Indiana, is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. E. Nasshahn.

The Baptist Ladies Aid will give a tea at the home of Mrs. Alvah Landerback, Thursday afternoon, May 27. Mrs. Denny and Mrs. Moulton will assist in serving. A delightful time is anticipated.

Mrs. P. M. Miller and daughter visited Miss Dorian Laffey at the open air sanatorium in Portland last Saturday.

Miss Lorretta Laffey, teacher of the fifth and sixth grades at Orient had to give up her school a week before the close in order that she might accompany her father, mother and sister to their old home at Connellsville, Pennsylvania. The sister has been at the Portland open air sanatorium for some time. Mrs. Van Fleet finished Miss Laffey's term of which only one week remained. School is now closed at Orient.

The Orient Sewing club will meet with Mrs. R. B. Milne on Friday afternoon instead of on Saturday afternoons as before. School has closed now and it is felt that the change is desirable since the former dates conflicted with the Girl Reserve meeting.

The next meeting of the sewing club will be Friday, May 28, at 1:30 p. m.

Reserved seats are on sale for the Gresham Chautauqua at the Gresham Drug Stores for any performance of the entire season.

WOMAN HAS HONOR OF BEST KEPT GARDEN

About the best garden and the best peas to be seen in or around Gresham is located in the rear of the A. E. Kessler home on Powell street. The whole garden is a picture of cleanliness and healthy growth but the peas stand four feet high and ready to blossom. They are surely beauties, and this is all due to the industrious habits of Mrs. Kessler, who finds time to till the soil aside from caring for her many singing birds. Al is a retired farmer and, for that reason, does not think it looks well for a man of his standing to again take up the hoe, which leaves the honor of having the best peas in the country all to his better half.

YE OLDE TYME CONCERT AND EXHIBITION

Thurs. May 27, Early Candle Light (8:30)

A score of sweet singers. Declamations of wit and humor. The graceful minuet. All performers in appropriate attire.

IN YE FAIRVIEW TOWN HALL

Admission, Adults 25c. Children 15c

The first annual declamatory contest of the Union High school has been held and was so unusually successful that it surprised even the most enthusiastic of the promoters. The different contestants rendered their parts so well that the work of the judges was made very difficult.

Miss Olga Noren represented the senior class and her rendering of the "Annunciation to Shepherds" was charmingly rendered.

Curtis Hendricks of the sophomore class gave a splendid rendering of "Gentlemen, the King." Hazel Fowler, also a sophomore gave a selection from "Anne of Green Gables," and her clever rendering of the dialogue parts caused much mirth among the audience. Miss Fowler won third place.

"Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm," was also enjoyed by the audience as it listened to Miss Hazel Stanley's version of that charming tale.

"The Perfect Tribute" by Lyle Mason was so thoughtfully rendered that it won him second place in the decision of the judges. Both Mr. Mason and Miss Stanley were juniors.

Eula Marvin gave a Riley story, "The bear story," and the story was so charmingly told that it won for Miss Marvin and the freshmen class, first place.

"The Mustard Plaster" by Wm. McAlister, was exceptionally well rendered and but for the fact that his voice did not carry as clearly as some of the others it is rumored that he would have run the winners a close race.

A musical selection by Miss Florence Hickey was exceptionally well rendered and was much enjoyed by those present.

The judges were Mrs. H. H. Eling, Miss H. Ruth Montague, and Prof. C. M. Quicksall.

The contestants have been trained by Miss Effie Thompson, Miss Adeline Wyeth and Leslie Webb and they have been in charge of the arrangements.

One of the delightful features of the entertainment is that it is spoken of as the first annual which must mean that each year the students will hold similar contest.

The winner's names will be engraved on a bronze tablet which will be placed in the assembly hall by Miss Wyeth.

JUNIOR CLASS WINS IN FIELD MEET

The field meet was carried out at the Union High school as scheduled in spite of the cold weather which felt more like a day in December than one in May. The high cold wind spoiled much of the pleasure of the crowd who gathered to watch the contest and no doubt took some of the pleasure out of it for the boys who had to keep exercising to keep warm. The boys did good work and show the result of good training and leadership.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT MAKES NEW RULING

Under a recent ruling by the Treasury Department the tax on toilet preparations and patent and proprietary medicines is based upon the selling price of each article and not upon the total price of a number of articles. If a person buys five packages of 5c cough drops, a 1c stamp must be attached to each package. If a person purchases a tube of tooth paste for 35c and a bottle of perfume for 65c, a 2c stamp must be placed on the tooth paste and 3c on the perfume, a total of 5c. In other words, the tax is on each article and not on the combined purchase price.

This revokes a ruling previously made by the Department.
