Official paper of the Town of Gresham. Official paper of the Town of Fairview.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Outlook has received information to the effect that the Fairview vote for union high school was 38 for and 49 against instead of only 37 for as it was reported. It seems that there has been considerable debate about the one extra vote but the Outlook is glad to learn and report that it is there.

JOIN THE "HOME" GUARDS.

Let us have loyalty!

Loyalty to our town is good personal business to every soul in the community. Every dollar you spend here makes the man you spend it with the more able to spend money with you for the things you have to sell, whether you sell livestock, dry goods, potatoes, butter or the labor of your hands.

Sending money to the big city, except where it can't be avoided, is helping the big city and making the whole people of the big city that much more prosperous. Let's keep the money in our own town and make ourselves more prosperous. The big town never does anything for our community save to milk it.

This town and neighborhood is our home. Here we are bringing up our families and educating them. Here is where our happiness lies. Here is also where our duty lies—a duty to do everything in our power to advance the interests of our home and community.

This editor believes that he can serve his home community in no better way than by urging every man and woman to patronize the merchants of this town. Therefore, beginning today, this newspaper will print a series of important articles on loyalty to our town—loyalty to ourselves. We believe that every subscriber will find them interesting, worth while reading.

All eyes fixed on Portland this week.

Perhaps you're planning to fix up your float on the day before.

From an airplane Portland must look like one immense red rose.

If all who forgot the school meeting on Monday had been present there would have been a large attendance.

It is said the union high school proposition carried by an overwhelming majority—in one district—the union high district.

Why not decorate the old town in regular style for the Fourth? Order your flags and bunting early—of the home merchant.

The American Legion boys of Gresham are assured the hearty cooperation of all in their plans for a big celebration, July 5th.

There is one thing that all the surrounding country can unite with Gresham in and that's a rousing big Fourth of July celebration.

Everybody can help advertise the celebration by getting a sticker for the windshield. Ask your garage-man or call at the Outlook office.

The Gresham firemen never do anything half-heartedly. They're going to put their queen over if they have to mortgage the new fire engine.

Everybody keeping very quiet about that float. 'Fraid somebody will find out about your plans? That's right, but be sure not forget it or wait too long.

THE VOTER DISCUSSES TICKETS.

Brother C. C. Chapman, in the last issue of the Oregon Voter, devotes considerable space to a very clear and helpful discussion of the practice of forming elective tickets or slates. The Outlook soon after the primary election referred to this tendency and suggested a means should be found to prevent it.

We are glad to give our readers the benefit of Mr. Chapman's thoughts on this important subject. He says:

"There is some merit to the Outlook's objection to these tickets and slates, although we believe the cure for the evils involved will be found in the gradual evolution of some system of ticket-making that is entirely open, above-board and responsible, rather than to attempt by legislation to abolish tickets altogether.

"The old convention system, where bosses manipulated, outlived its usefulness because of the abuses to which it was employed. It had merit, however, in that it did produce a ticket that represented some responsible origin, even if it often was a bosses' ticket.

"For a time after conventions were abolished and the direct primary was created, no one was responsible for candidacies, except the candidate himself and those who signed his individual petition. All attempts by political organizations to make tickets were frowned down by public sentiment.

"The newspapers took advantage of the opening. At first they did not make up full tickets, but they did get behind candidates in whom they felt confidence or whom they felt it would be popular to support. It looked as though newspaper government had succeeded convention government. The editors were about to replace the bosses. Only the fighting between the newspapers, and their criticisms of each other, gave the public any line on any motive a newspaper might have in standing sponsor for a group of candidates.

"Gradually it dawned on many people that the newspapers pretty much had the field to themselves, so they began to get busy through their organizations, or to establish new organizations. The labor unions and the employers associations were the first. Each put out tickets, and those tickets often were quite different from those boosted by the newspapers. Some success invariably attended the circulation of these tickets, which were given out through the labor and employer organizations and their friends.

"Then the religious and secret societies adopted the ticket plan—also with some success. Usually these societies did not publish the names of their respective organizations, nor even of their committees who made up the tickets. To conform with the letter of the law, they attached simply one name on each ticket as a sponsor for that ticket. Usually this name was of a sort of stool pigeon, who really had no part whatever in the making up of the ticket. The names of the real statemakers were kept dark. A few of the wisest politicians, especially of the gangster type knew the statemakers, and worked with them, with the result that unworthy men often were inducted on the religious and secret society tickets.

"To fool the people even more, such names as 'American,' 'Patriotic,' etc., were attached to many of these secret society or religious tickets. Voters who were not well informed often were fooled, and voted for candidates who were far less 'American' or 'Patriotic' than were other candidates who were kept off the tickets for personal, political, religious or other motives that had no relation whatever to their fitness for office.

WHY THE ELECTRIC CLEANER?

There is really no comparison between the ease and thoroughness with which an Electric Cleaner removed dirt and the difficulty of sweeping. True, one CAN clean rugs and carpets without an electric cleaner. A broom or carpet sweeper will brush up SOME of the dirt; and if you like the exercise and have plenty of time and strength a broom and a carpet beater will do the work after a fashion. In the same way one can wash without soap. Water alone will remove some dirt if applied with enough 'elbow grease.' But people use soap because it cleans more easily and better than water alone. For the same reason people use Electric Cleaners because they clean more easily and far better than other methods.
