

It has been our experience that everyone recognizes the Staggard Studs of the Republic tread.

But we have noticed in selling Republic Tires that even Republic users themselves, do not always realize how very slowly and evenly the tread wears.

We have seen hundreds of Republic Tires that had covered thousands of miles which showed no signs of the cuts and chips and abrasions usually inflicted by every-day service.

We welcome the opportunity to explain how the Prodim Process toughens the tread and assures the longer life of Republic Tires.

SOUTHARD & PALMQUIST

BORING AND VICINITY.

By RICA ANDERSON
A special meeting of school district No. 26 has been called for Saturday afternoon, July 17. Funds for the purchase of school site and the erection of a new schoolhouse will be voted. Regardless of crops, weather or auto difficulties the folks will be there without any urging as all of them are extremely interested in this move. The fellow who stays at home is going to hate himself for the next 20 years.

To help reduce the high cost of living: Hly-white arms do not need to go to the coast to get a fashionable tan these days. A few hours canoeing in the raspberry patch will raise a beautiful mahogany blister. Paddling with a hoe in the potato field produces as brilliant a red as sitting on the sandy beach—providing hoeing is done in a bathing suit—and costs a heap less.

We are surely getting back toward the normal. Sugar has gone down a little, shell-rimmed glasses are not so popular and Walter Metzger has resumed operations at the Tacheron fill. He fished out two couples and a smashed car the other evening. No injuries sustained by the passengers, which is rather remarkable as they were riding in the spoon-holder and driving with one hand.

Seeing as how we are a democratic reporter writing for a staunch republican paper, it is somewhat of a problem how to get in a plank or two of our platform without being caught. Nevertheless we are forced to say this much, that we are mighty glad that we didn't bet on the outcome of the convention in Frisco. We would have lost. It's done now and the fellow they selected may be something to crow about, but we suspend judgment until later. He'll probably hear from us personally in November.

The roads in Clackamas county certainly need a good deal of sand-papery to put them in good condition. And now the paving bonds have been declared illegal.

While we don't believe that anyone should ask others to do for him the things that he can do for himself, there is one thing that we are always willing to let someone else do for us, and that's our worrying. There are two reasons for this: First, some people seem to get great pleasure out of it; and second, to our mind it is the most silly, senseless and utterly useless waste of time that we know of. If any bad luck seems headed our way, worrying about it won't stop its coming, and only makes us that much weaker to contend with it when it does come; while if we will spend the time that we consume in worrying about it in trying to find a way to head it off it might never happen. If you want to make life a burden to yourself and a nuisance to everybody else, worry will do it, but it never did do anyone any good, so that's why we are willing to let someone else do our part of it.

It is no real test of his friendship when a fellow tries to convince some stranger that it is safe to take your word on a business proposition when nobody has ever questioned your honesty. What we call a real friend is the fellow that tries to convince himself that he ought to believe you when he knows you are a liar.
