

7 LEGION MEMBERS OFF FOR ASTORIA

Seven members of the Gresham Post of the American Legion are attending the state convention which begins at Astoria today. The three delegates to the convention are C. G. Schneider, Floyd Mack and Ernest Brugger. Dr. H. H. Hughes and Ellsworth Raker, who were elected alternates, are attending also and the other two are Chase E. St. Clair and Edward Noreen. The latter two left at 1 a. m. this morning (Friday) and were to arrive at Clatskanie by 7 a. m. this morning in order to get over the road by the time road work begins on that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mack and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brugger left Thursday about 9 o'clock in Mr. Mack's Ford and they were prepared for camping along the way if they so desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Raker have been spending their vacation at Seaside and will attend from there.

INTEREST GROWS IN GOSPEL MEETINGS

Interest is growing in the Gospel meetings being held in the lower hall of the Odd Fellow building by W. R. Ruddock and W. H. Hathaway. One of the men has expressed the situation in rhyme as follows:

It surely is a pleasant sight
To see the neighbors, night by night,
Come to hear the glad tiding sweet
In Gresham town, at Powell street.

The interest seems like magic spell
As in burning love the preachers tell
How Jesus longs the soul to meet
And save them now at Powell street.

A note of strife you never hear
For love divine dispels all fear
Oh, what a joy, it is a treat
To hear them sing at Powell street.

Next Sunday the subjects will be "Repentance" at the 3 o'clock service and in the evening at 7:30, "The Rainbow, illustrating the seven glories of the Christ." On Monday evening the subject will be "Can a believer in Christ ever be lost?" and on Tuesday evening, "Four judgments or one, which?" The week night services will begin at 8 o'clock.

FIELD DAY PROGRAMS HAVE GOOD ADVERTISING

An attractive program has just been printed for the Farmers Field Day which will be held Saturday on the county fair grounds.

E. L. Thorpe had charge of the selecting of advertising and has reason to feel that his work was well done. The program this year contains 16 pages all printed on book paper and is filled with attractive advertising. Of the 50 advertisements which fill its pages half the number are from local business houses and the rest from Portland companies. This illustrates as usual the support given by business houses here and in Portland to the county fair programs, and various programs which are published.

The support was unusually good this year as is shown by the 16-page booklet which replaces the usual four-page program.

The programs were published by the Outlook Publishing Co.

The programs are being distributed as widely as possible.

Additional Local News

The combined Sunday school classes of Miss Mabel Shipley and Miss Elizabeth Johnson enjoyed a pleasant outing last Tuesday evening when they went to Cedarville park on a picnic. A bountiful supper was served and a jolly time was spent in roasting marshmallows and "weenies." There were about 20 boys and girls and they were accompanied by their teachers and Miss Mina Gilbert.

The circuit quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church will commence this evening, July 30, and will continue until August 1, with services tonight, Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Rev. J. Hopper, district elder, will be in charge of the meeting.

Regular services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday, beginning with Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. R. E. Myers, will preach at 11 and again in the evening. At the morning service C. E. Risher and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair will sing "The Old Rugged Cross" Epworth League will meet at 7 o'clock.

Paul V. Maris, director of Extension work, O. A. C. and J. C. Hurd, assistant state leader of county agents, spent the day here Thursday with County Agent S. B. Hall. They spent a good part of the day in touring the county. They are at present on a tour of the counties in the western part of the state and are going over the work which is being done in each county.

The report of the arrest of a Gresham boy for theft of money causes deep regret on the part of many friends of the boy and of the family. That the boy soon saw the mistake he had made and was man enough to go to the authorities and confess his wrongdoing and give himself up is greatly to his credit. His case is now in the hands of the juvenile court.

Miss Ida Heald, formerly of the Miss Millinery, is reported very sick at her home in Portland.

CANADA THISTLE PROBLEM CONSIDERED

Last Monday, County Agent S. B. Hall met with the county court to get some definite action on the control of the Canada thistle in this county.

There are a great many violations of the law in this county at the present time and an effort is being made to enforce the state law to the limit. The county court passed the question up to the district attorney and he took the question up with the attorney general.

The state law imposes a severe penalty on any one who allows Canada thistles to seed on their property.

County Agent Hall reports that there are a number of farmers who are making no attempt to control this most dangerous weed.

EASTERNERS MAKE QUICK TIME ON TRIP

Clarence Jackson is enjoying a visit from a party of relatives and friends from Fairbury, Nebraska. They are his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leonard and daughter Inez, and Mr. Leonard's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard and son Raymond.

The party started from Fairbury, June 14 and arrived here July 17. They came by way of Yellowstone Park where they camped a week. They visited friends at Caldwell, Idaho, and at Prairie City, Oregon, before coming to Gresham.

They have been visiting with the Jackson and Cline families at Orient and will leave the last of this week for California visiting at Corvallis and at Gadley while on the trip. They expect to spend the winter in California and may come back here to make their home as they are delighted with the country and the climate. They especially enjoyed the trip over the Columbia river highway.

The only trouble of any kind which the Fred Leonard family had with their Buick-6 car on this long trip was three punctured tires. The Frank Leonard family drove a Reo-6.

The other man's dog is always vicious.

FARMERS ANNUAL FIELD DAY EVENT WILL HAVE MANY FINE ATTRACTIONS

One interesting feature of the Field Day picnic program tomorrow will be an exhibition of chariot racing and a Roman standing race between William Byers and Frank Lockman. They will also put on a bucking contest.

These gentlemen have twelve beautiful horses in training on the race track and have generously offered these attractions to the grangers as a part of the afternoon sporting events. These attractions alone are worth coming to see and they will be free.

The full program is exceptionally strong this year, Senator Chamberlain alone being a drawing card in his address on "Americanism." The senator is a national figure and commands attention anywhere. There will be no politics in his speech, but it will be a revelation to all who hear it.

Another strong drawing card is Walter Jenkins, community song leader, who will be here and lead the community singing which will be a feature of the afternoon program. Community singing led by Walter Jenkins cannot fail to prove a delightful part of the program for when Mr. Jenkins sings, dumb indeed is the person who does not at least try to make a joyful noise.

The veteran male quartet which is said to be one of the fine quartets of Portland will spend the day here and take part in both morning and afternoon programs. The Wilbur orchestra, another Portland organization, will furnish several numbers at both morning and evening programs.

Judge Geo. W. Stapleton and Rev. Eugene C. Hickman, pastor Wilbur M. E. church of Portland, are other prominent men who will have a place on the morning program, which will commence promptly at 10:30 a. m. The afternoon program will begin at 1:45 p. m., and will be followed by grange stunts put on by the various granges of the county. This has always been one of the most popular numbers of the Field Day program.

RECEPTION HELD FOR MR. AND MRS. J. GRIMM

The home of P. A. Staffenson, near Pleasant Home, was the scene of a delightful reception last Saturday evening in honor of the recent marriage of their daughter Tena and John Grimm of Pleasant Home. There were nearly 60 guests including many relatives of both the bride and groom, and a number of friends.

The young people in the party played games during the evening while the older members of the party spent the time chatting and watching the merry games in progress upon the lawn.

A number of songs were sung by the audience and Rev. Earl B. Cotton, pastor of the Pleasant Home Methodist church, gave a short talk.

Late in the evening refreshments were served and the guests departed with many good wishes to the bride and groom. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Grimm. The bride is well known in both the Pleasant Home and Powell Valley neighborhoods where she spent her childhood and has grown up into a charming young woman.

Mr. Grimm is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Grimm of Pleasant Home. He was in the marine corp during the war and just returned home last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimm have moved into their home near the Methodist church in Pleasant Home.

JERSEY CATTLE CLUB TO HEAR GOOD PROGRAM

The meeting of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hart, which is located in the Firwood district, four miles east of Sandy, on Saturday, July 31. The Multnomah Jersey club has been invited to participate in the program, as well as all others who are interested in registered Jerseys. The following program has been arranged: 10:30—Regular business meeting. 12:00—Picnic dinner in the shade of the old apple tree; song, "Bring the Good Old Jersey Cow." 1:30—Address by Professor Fitts, of O. A. C.; Colonel Hughes, of Forest Grove; C. D. Minton, of Portland. Open discussion on: (a) "Jersey Field Man for Oregon." (b) "Campaign to Make Oregon 'Scrub-sireless.'" Songs, "Welcome to Firwood" and "I'm Raising Jerseys."

Following the program, three women will be chosen to judge the cattle. The cattle will also be judged by the Boys' calf club judging teams that are present.

Bargains in the want ads.

SENATOR GEO. CHAMBERLAIN

and each year the grangers plan a more elaborate or original stunt.

Miss Beatrice Ross from Pleasant Valley will be the soloist who will sing at the afternoon program. Miss Ross is well known in Pleasant Valley.

Later a full program of athletic stunts and races will be put on and worth while prizes have been offered by local business men to the winners of each contest.

The programs have been printed and are being circulated in advance as far as possible. The printed program, including the advertising covers sixteen pages and contains the full list of literary, musical and sporting events of the day. There will be something doing every minute from ten o'clock in the forenoon until midnight, the evening being given over to dancing in the pavilion on the fair grounds. Ample provision has been made to accommodate picnickers with coffee. People who attend will be wise to bring their own lunches, although there will be lunch stands and ice cream.

No admission will be charged to any part of the grounds and everyone is urged to come and spend the day with the grangers, the farmers and all their friends.

LOCAL MAN ARRESTED ON COMPLAINT OF NEIGHBORS

J. T. Delt, who has been employed as night watchman at the cannery, was arrested Thursday by officers from the constable's office in Portland, on a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Annon, a neighbor.

Delt is said to be of rather a quarrelsome disposition and has had considerable trouble with his neighbors. He was recently brought before Judge Brown of the justice court here, where he was put under bonds to keep the peace and his guns were taken from him. Later he obtained a deputy sheriff's commission from the sheriff's office in Portland on the grounds that he needed it to aid in policing the cannery grounds as watchman.

The commission was granted and because of this he was released from his bonds and his guns restored. It is alleged that he then took the guns and the deputy sheriff's commission and again threatened Mrs. Annon who had him arrested. He is still in Portland where his case will be tried out. His commission will be canceled but what further action will be taken is not known.

RAILROAD STATION AT CORBETT IS CLOSED

The Oregon public service commission in an order issued yesterday, granted the application of the director-general of railroads and the Oregon & Washington Railroad & Navigation company for authority to discontinue an agency at Corbett station.

The order provides, however, that the railroad company shall care for the business transacted at Corbett station with reasonable dispatch. Ever since the opening of the Columbia river highway the business section of Corbett has been slowly drifting from the railroad to the highway. This action of the public service commission will be a blow to any who desire to hold the business section on the railroad, but it will be a boon to those who are encouraging a larger community on the highway.

We may deny that in the mountains of Oregon there is mineral wealth that will serve the operating need of staple industry but who can say that the denial is not a hasty conclusion instead of a statement of fact? What do we actually know of the deposits of coal and iron and limestone in Oregon, or in the Washington counties that border or are adjacent to the Columbia river? How far have we gone in any satisfactory survey or investigation of the conditions that have a bearing on the broad and general scheme of state development thus barely outlined?

OREGON TO THE FRONT

Oregonians
Know the Attractions of Oregon—
Know the Industries of Oregon—
Know the Development of Oregon—
Know the Opportunities of Oregon—
Know the History of Oregon—
Help to develop Oregon—
Help to make Oregon known—
Begin in your own locality—
And keep it up.

Back up the Oregon state chamber of commerce in its work along all these constructive lines. Gresham is affiliated with the state chamber, contributes to its support and has a voice in its plans. The state chamber is helping us develop local industries. Get back of it and help Gresham and Oregon grow.

If any Oregonian thinks there is not much need of the Oregon state chamber of commerce, or that its field of operation is rather limited, let him read and consider the following statements from the Portland Telegram, in a recent editorial. They will help to broaden your view of the state's needs, resources, opportunities, and the need and work of just such an organization as the state chamber.

Upon a most casual survey of conditions in this state we realize that Oregon is in its industrial infancy. The major part of the state's population and perhaps 90 per cent of its industry, aside from agriculture, are established in the Willamette valley, yet the Willamette valley is capable of supporting in comfort and prosperity ten times the total population of the state, while it offers actual and potential opportunity for the establishment of industry that in all practical probability will support two-thirds of that increased population.

Yet the Willamette valley is but a single section of Oregon. The Umpqua and the Rogue river valleys are veritably, fertile little empires in themselves, not only for the development of horticulture and agriculture, but for the establishment of manufacture by the use of the abundant power with which nature has supplied southern Oregon.

West of the Coast range are extensive areas, fertile and rich in the products of nature, that by the investment of capital and the enterprise and labor of men can be made to contribute to centers of considerable population at those strategic points along the coast where water-borne commerce will serve industry. In this region existing industry, aside from the manufacture of lumber and dairy products, is not even a reasonable suggestion of that which may be achieved in volume and variety by the use of the power in that region and the establishment of transportation to closely and economically with the chief centers of distribution on the Columbia river.

In southern and eastern Oregon is another field of development quite different but no whit less promising than those already indicated. At the mouth of the Deschutes there is power, and on the upper reaches of the stream there is more power. Along the Snake river there is more power. At Celilo and at the Cascades are tremendous units of energy that challenge us to their use. Coincident with it all is the problem of a navigable river which in reason is not to be summarily dismissed as unsolvable. It is solvable and by co-ordinating the practical solution of it with out constructive good-roads policy we shall cheapen transportation, encourage agriculture and contribute to the growth of river port communities and manufacturing points.

The initiative opportunity is within the grasp of the state chamber of commerce. Conditions and circumstances invite that organization to become a state bond of industrial unity and a potent force in the promotion of community building in the state as a whole. It is very evident that the state chamber of commerce is inspired with this dual purpose and, worthily enough, solicits the support of the people of Oregon.

LOCAL DAIRYMEN ON LEAGUE BOARD

The first organization meeting of the new board of directors of the Oregon Dairymen's Cooperative League was held in Portland this week. On this board are several local men who represent the district composed of eastern Multnomah, Clackamas and Marion counties. They are Theo. Brugger, J. Luscher and C. H. Johanson. The other representative for this county is Alma D. Katz.

On this board are two men named by the U. S. Bureau of Markets and one named by the Dean of Agriculture of O. A. C. S. B. Hall, county agent, received this latter appointment while a Coos county man was named by the Bureau of Markets.

At the meeting full power was granted to the executive committee to act on all matters pertaining to the league. This committee is composed of Alma D. Katz, J. Luscher, A. B. Flint, A. E. Westcott and Theodore Brugger.

The dairymen do not feel concerned about the scrap being waged by the milk interests opposed to the league. Although they recognize the fact that it may take some time and business management they are not at all alarmed over the ultimate outcome.

Mr. Katz, president of the league, has suggested that a commission be appointed to consist of the dairy and food commissioner of Oregon, the head of the Bureau of Markets of the Oregon Agricultural College.

No action has been taken on this plan but in an editorial in the Oregonian this morning the plan receives a very hearty endorsement.

AGED MAN WELL KNOWN HERE DIES IN PORTLAND

Ephraim Dewey, who was well known here died in Portland, Wednesday evening at the age of 90 years, one month and 27 days.

He has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Maggie Ulm, for the past 20 years but since December has been in Portland.

Arrangements for the funeral services have not yet been made but will probably be held Monday.

Mr. Dewey leaves to mourn their loss three daughters, Mrs. Ulm, Mrs. Ida Klum of Weiser, Idaho, and Mrs. Annie Penny of Portland and two sons, James Dewey of Glendale, and E. D. Dewey of Portland. Also a brother Phillip Dewey of New Richmond, Indiana.

SPECIAL MEETING OF UNION HIGH DISTRICT

A special school meeting of the Union High school district No. 2 will be held at the high school this evening for the purpose of authorizing the purchase of a tract of land adjoining the high school. This tract contains a little more than 10 acres and is needed for school purposes.

Authority is needed by the directors to issue interest bearing warrants to pay for this property. Four hundred dollars is to be paid in cash and the balance to be paid $1000 each year with six per cent interest.

The land is to be used in connection with the agricultural department in the high school. Since the agricultural department was added to Union High school a growing need has been felt for added grounds where the department might carry on a more practical line of work.
