The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Kern next Thursday afternoon, October 28, at 2:30 o'clock. A review will be given of the findings of the Fifteenth International Congress Against Alcoholism, recently held in Washington, D. C., and attended by representatives from all civilized countries. There will also be a report of the three-day session of the national W. C. T. U. executive committee, which met in Hotel Lafayette, Washington, D. C. A vocal duet will be given by Mrs. Theo. Brugger and Miss Kathryn Bratzel and a solo by Mrs. Wm. Averill. Members are urged to come and bring their friends.

J. I. Bacon, who has been connected with Raker & Son for some time, has resigned his position and has assumed the sales management of the Fields Motor Car company in Gresham. Mr. Bacon is widely known throughout eastern Multnomah county as a progressive business man, always optimistic and courteous and the Chevrolet people are to be congratulated upon their good judgment in selecting him as their sales manager.

T. L. Evans and wife, Grant Bell, wife, and three sons started Saturday for southern California where they go to spend the winter. Mr. Evans is president of the Columbia Telephone Co., at Corbett.

Mrs. Hill and little boy of New Jersey, whose husband is captain in the United States army located in New Jersey, and her sister Mrs. John Clark of Portland, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Michel.

Joyce, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Raney fell from the porch Friday evening and broke her collar bone. She is a patient little sufferer and is getting along fine.

The Raker building on Powell and Main streets is progressing very fast. The cement work is nearly all finished and the walls are going up. This building, when finished, will be the largest structure of its kind this side of Portland.

Although several men have been working untiringly for the past week, they have been unable to recover all of the bodies of the five men who were drowned in the Sandy river on the evening of the 17th of October. The bodies of McIntosh, and one of the McDonalds are still in the river and it is hoped that before the week is over that they will be located.

The ladies of the Free Methodist church entertained the children of the Sunday school and their mothers at the parsonage on Fourth street last Saturday afternoon.

ANTI-COMPULSORY VACCINATION MEASURE

At the election, November 2, the voters of Oregon must decide on a question of the most vital importance to the health of this state. On the ballot there will be—Number 213—a bill, entitled, "Anti-Compulsory vaccination amendment."

While this proposed measure purports, upon its face, to be a bill designed to prevent so-called undue compulsory activities on the part of health officers as at present constituted, its provisions are declared by competent legal advisers absolutely to tie the hands of these health officers, so that, in case of an epidemic of disease of any kind—no matter how serious to a community—no stringent measures could be lawfully taken to protect the people.

Officials of the cities and counties and even the Governor, would be estopped from compelling vaccination or inoculation in the gravest of epidemics, should this bill become the law of Oregon, it is held by lawyers of the highest standing.

All of the progressive work of the State Board of Health and any association of people organized for the purpose of disease prevention would be rendered helpless under the provisions of this proposed law, for even the curbing of venereal diseases, now being so successfully carried on for the general public welfare, would be ruined.

All of the experience of ages, gathered at terrible cost to human life—all efforts at preventable objective would be annulled, if this proposed measure should become the law of the state. While purporting to go only to the extent of accomplishing the prevention of compulsory vaccination, its language would prohibit the enforcement of measures long known to be necessary in the protection of the people.

The best authorities on health legislation and the best legal talent of the state are agreed that, should this measure receive a majority vote of the people, the result would be ruinous to public health.
