STAND NEVER CHANGED.

When asked as to his stand on the League of Nations, Warren G. Harding said, "I have been speaking since the second of last July, and I challenge any democrat in America, high or low to find a contradiction in anything I have said."
"I said at the beginning that we were opposed to an armed military alliance with the Old World, and I say it now. I have said frequently and I say now, that we are never going to have anything to do with a league with Article X in it. We are not going to enter into any super-government of the world. We are not going to allow a Council of foreign powers in Geneva to tell us what we must do to fulfill our obligations. Having made this great Republic ourselves, we still think we are capable of going on and performing our obligations to the world. I have said repeatedly that America does not intend to accept that league. It is true, that as a member of the United States Senate, I voted to ratify the Peace Treaty and the league covenant with reservations, but where I voted, there were attached to the covenant, reservations to safeguard the independence of the United States. They were not designed to make clearer our obligations, but to limit our obligations. And the reservations we wrote we insisted upon the world accepting before our membership in the league should become binding.

WHICH SPEAKER REPRESENTED THE PARTY?

Though the editor was not privileged to hear the speakers at the democratic rally on Wednesday night, from reports it is not difficult to conclude that the republicans could ask for nothing more certain to win them votes than the wandering, erratic-even disgusting—tirade of the first speaker, be it shamefully said, a woman. It is certain her untempered radicalism does not truthfully represent the thought or spirit of the newly enfranchised voters of either dominant party.

On the other hand, Colonel Whittlesey was fair-minded, instructive, winning and respectful. He elicited respect on the part of everyone for his opinion and loyalty to his honest convictions, even on the part of those not agreeing with him politically. He spoke with conviction. He may have offset the unfavorable impression made by the first speaker.

The time is near at hand for the voters to make the supreme choice. Whims, prejudices and personalities should be laid aside and men and women should vote their honest convictions with one ideal uppermost, "America, God-chosen and God-led."

J. J. Johnson for Attorney General.
It is expected that an overwhelming number of voters of eastern Multnomah will write in the name of J. J. Johnson for attorney general of the state of Oregon. Mr. Johnson's high standing among attorneys for honesty, ability and thoroughness commend him to bench and bar and to the lay voter.

Mr. Johnson is endorsed by a large number of Portland attorneys and business men. He will also receive a heavy grange vote, having been active in grange work for many years. He is Master of Multnomah Fomona Grange and has been master of Evening Star grange for 17 years. He was one of the directors of Multnomah County Fair association for many years until his resignation on account of other pressing duties. He is a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellow and Artisan lodges and of the Eastern Star and Rebekahs, and has been through all the chairs possible in them.

Mr. Johnson is a native of eastern Multnomah, having been born in Lents. He has practiced law in Portland for 30 years.

Hear Senator Poindexter.
Senator Miles Poindexter will speak at the auditorium in Portland tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock on the issues of the campaign. Mr. Poindexter is a live, progressive speaker and will be well worth hearing. A good attendance from Gresham and vicinity is anticipated.

For the benefit of those uncertain as to whom should count the vote in the small incorporated towns of the county a portion of the state constitution is quoted below:

"Incorporated cities and towns shall hold their nominating and regular elections for their several elective officers at the same time that the primary and general biennial elections for state and county officers are held, and the election precincts and officers shall be the same for all elections held at the same time."

This is sufficient in itself to explain any questions.

A billion for airplanes, and no fighting planes ever reached the front. Can you vote to keep a party in power with such a record?

The democratic administration spent $150,000,000 for port terminals at Boston, Charleston, Norfolk and other places. No ships ever sailed from there.

We are not going to be willing to turn the world over to the bolshevik until we see a man who paints.

A man is always suspicious of the man who boasts about how happy his home life is. Usually he's trying to alibi himself.

The poorest loan is borrowed trouble.

It isn't so much what you do as whom you "do" that gets you in bad.

It doesn't make any difference how prosperous you have become, there is one luxury you can't afford—hate.

Modern girls probably haven't any more charms than the old-fashioned ones, but they display more of them.

There is no saive that will soothe a hurting conscience.

Hope deferred may make the heart sick, as the saying goes, but its failure to be realized makes it sicker.

"Fine feathers make fine birds" and a good many of them seem to think that fine furs make fine women.

"A good sport" is one who will lose money in a fair game and laugh, but will "clean out the place" when he finds the cards had been stacked against him.

If you trust everybody, nobody will trust you.

Sometimes you can be "all things to all men" and get away with it for a while, but it's different with women.

A man may even forget his own birthday but he always remembers that time when, if something hadn't happened, he would have made a fortune.

The democratic administration did nothing to buy the Cuban sugar crop.

This neglect cost the American people a billion dollars. Aren't democratic administrations pretty expensive?

HOW ANY GIRL CAN HAVE PRETTY EYES

No girl or woman is pretty if her eyes are red, strained or have dark rings. Simple witchhazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, will brighten the eyes and a week's use will surprise you with its QUICK results. Regular use of Lavoptik keeps the eyes healthy, sparkling and vivacious. The quick change will please you. Dainty aluminum eye cup FREE. Gresham Drug Co.—Adv.
