

CHILD SPECIALIST HERE FEBRUARY 2

Baby Day will be celebrated Wednesday, February 2d at the Health station, Gresham public library from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

The purpose of this program is twofold (1) To give the mothers and fathers of the community the opportunity of learning the most important facts with regard to the care of the baby. (2) To bring home to the community a knowledge of the facts regarding the needless deaths of its babies and a realization of the ways in which it must protect them.

As the Kansas City Health Department says:

"Every child has the right to belong to the aristocracy of health and intelligence; to be born with a good mind and a sound body.

"Every child has the right to be loved; to have his individuality respected; to be trained wisely in body, mind and soul; to be protected from disease, from evil influences, and evil persons, and to have a fair chance in life.

"Every child has the right to be surrounded by that environment in which he may develop to the fullest his abilities and his talents.

"The child is the asset of the state; he owes the state nothing."

On Baby Day there will be a demonstration of the importance of right food to the development of a healthy body and discussion of Infant Care by Dr. L. Howard Smith, Child Specialist from Portland. There will be on exhibit baby clothing, home equipment for the care of the baby, and posters of interest.

Miss Ruth Young, public health nurse, will be at the station from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. The morning will be devoted to weighing and measuring babies and demonstrations of the care of food utensils, clothing, preparation of foods and their relative values.

Mothers wishing to have their babies examined by the physician must register them by Tuesday with Miss Montague, librarian at the Gresham public library, giving the babies full name and age. Only a limited number will be examined by the doctor owing to the short time but the first ten will be given appointments. All babies will be weighed and measured however by the nurses in charge.

I Am the Baby.

I am the youngest institution in the world—and the oldest.

The earth is my heritage when I come into being, and when I go I leave it to the next generation of babies.

My mission is to leave the earth a better place than when I found it.

With my million little brothers and sisters I can do this, if the world does not impose too many handicaps.

Now I need pure milk and fresh air and play.

When I am a little older I shall need good schools in which to learn the lessons of life.

I want to live, laugh, love, work, play.

I want to hear good music, read good books, see beautiful pictures.

I want to build houses and roads and railroads and cities.

I want to walk in the woods, bathe in the waters, and play in the snow.

I am Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow.

If you will make my way easy now, I will help you when I grow up.

I am your hope—I am the Baby.

Interesting statistics from the Oregon State Board of Health have been compiled by Miss Ruth Young, county health nurse, in connection with work which will be done here Baby Day.

The total number of births for the entire state of Oregon in the year 1919 was 13,695 while the total deaths for the same year were 8,669. Of the latter number 632 were babies under one year of age, 120 were between the ages of one and two years and 199 were between two and five years of age, or a total of 951 deaths among children under five years of age.

The statistics for Multnomah county exclusive of Portland for the year 1919 show that there were a total of 178 babies born, of whom 83 were boys and 95 were girls. There were 4914 babies born in Portland during that year. Of the 178 children born in the county exclusive of Portland 19 died before they were 12 months old; six were still born, four died before they were one day old, four died before they reached two weeks of age and five died between the ages of one month and one year.

MAY BE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

The secretary of agriculture in the Harding administration may come out of the south, according to reports from high Republican sources. The man is A. T. Hert of Kentucky, one of the most successful "dirt" farmers of the south who owns and operates a big farm and plantation near Louisville. Mr. Hert was a member of the Republican National Committee and was very active in the recent campaign.

INTERESTING PROGRAM TO BE HELD AT VICTORY

The Victory Parent-Teacher circle are planning a pleasant and profitable evening Saturday when they will hold an apron sale for the benefit of the school. There will also be a sale of home made candy.

An interesting program will be given. Among those who will take part are Rev. A. S. Hisey, pastor of the Gresham Methodist church; Wm. Averill, head of the agricultural department of Union High school; H. C. McCormick, who has charge of the farm mechanics department of Union High; and Miss Ethel I. Calkins, county club leader.

Mrs. Wm. Averill, Miss Marion Robertson and Rev. Earl B. Cotton will each sing a solo and Mrs. Geo. Armstrong and Harry Dahl will give readings. Miss Ida Sester will render an instrumental solo.

This promises to be one of the most important meetings in the history of the association and a full attendance is desired.

Refreshments will be served.

Additional Locals

There will be a young people's community sing at the library Tuesday evening of next week. Everyone who likes a good time, and who likes to sing or listen to others who do sing are invited to attend if they are between the ages of 16 and 21 years. Since girls never grow older than 21 and boys needn't, the invitation can be stretched to include all who feel young. The singing will start at 7 o'clock.

Principal and Mrs. E. F. Goodwin of Union High called Sunday on Principal and Mrs. C. M. Quicksall of the grade school.

Mrs. O. I. Neal suffered a stroke of paralysis last Sunday just as she returned home from church. The whole left side was paralyzed. A physician was summoned at once and she was soon resting easily. Miss Gladys Neal was called home from O. A. C. and will remain with her mother for some time. Friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. Neal is steadily improving although somewhat slowly. It will be some weeks before she can hope to be able to be around again.

ATTEND THE BENEFIT PROGRAM AT GRESHAM THEATER SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the first performance for the benefit of starving European children will be given at the Gresham Theater. Manager Adrian has visited all the public schools around Gresham the last few days soliciting patronage for this worthy cause. It is hoped that automobile owners in every part of eastern Multnomah and Clackamas counties will contribute the use of their machines and transport capacity loads to see the excellent program arranged for this event. The entire proceeds of the afternoon will be turned over to one of the Gresham banks to be forwarded to Herbert Hoover for distribution among different relief bodies.

Motion picture interests throughout the nation hope to raise $2,500,000 this week for quick relief to the destitute. Will you assist with your moral and financial support?

The "Broadway Cowboy" will be the feature at the night show, and will have no connection with the afternoon show.

A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend.

The "Passing of the Melting Pot" at the Methodist Church.

The Passing of the Melting Pot will be the subject of another fine stereopticon lecture at the Methodist church next Sunday evening. It discusses the problem of Americanization in a most vivid and gripping manner.

Fifty new hymnals have just arrived and will be put into immediate use in the church services.

DR. W. W. YOUNGSON VISITS NEW TERRITORY

Dr. W. W. Youngson, district superintendent of the Portland district of the Oregon Methodist conference, made a tour of inspection Wednesday of the various communities and churches included in the project known as the Gresham Social Center parish. Dr. Youngson was accompanied on his trip by the pastors, Rev. A. S. Hisey and Rev. Earl B. Cotton.

The church property was inspected at each of the various places and a number of calls were made in the different localities. The party stopped at Pleasant Home where they enjoyed a bountiful dinner at the church and met the many workers who were busy improving the church property.

At Hiff they called on Rev. J. H. Wood and wife, who formerly served as pastor on each of the points now included in the new plan, but who for the past few years has been unable to do active work.

Boring, Sandy, Troutdale, Fairview, Rockwood and Gresham church properties were inspected. This is Dr. Youngson's first visit to the new territory which was added to his district at the last annual conference.

Ford Cars on a Rampage.

There was a collision at the 12-Mile corner early this morning between two Ford cars. Chas. Witter of Gresham was going toward Portland and the Jersey Lily dairy truck (a Ford delivery truck) was going east. Both cars were damaged considerably, the Witter car having a bent axle and smashed fender as well as other more minor injuries. The other car had a wheel broken.

Neither driver was seriously injured by the accident it was believed but no definite facts could be obtained about the extent of their injuries. Mr. Witter's car is being repaired at Raker's garage.

Thursday afternoon a couple of young men from the Boring or Sandy neighborhood turned over at the first fill east on the Powell Valley road. The car, a Ford roadster, turned completely upside down. The driver's name was Pitts and the younger boy's name was Hudson. Raker's service car set them up on the road again and they drove home. The top was considerably damaged and the windshield broken. Neither of the boys were seriously injured.

Don't slight yourself by slighting the want ads.

WIFE OF HARVESTER KING GAVE FORTUNE

That thousands and thousands of dollars paid by American farmers for agricultural machinery to the McCormick International Harvester Co. went right back into charity was brought out in the recent serious illness of Mrs. Cyrus McCormick III at Chicago. Mrs. McCormick's charity was not the kind accompanied by a brass band, is the compliment paid by all mid-western philanthropic organizations.

GRESHAM GRADE SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Tuesday, at assembly, Wellesley Taylor gave a violin solo which delighted the pupils and teachers. Wellesley will be called upon again at later assemblies.

The girls of the sewing club, Div. 3, entertained Miss Ethel I. Calkins and Miss Mary Hansen at a luncheon held at the grade school Wednesday noon. It was a delightful affair given in honor of Miss Calkins, the county club leader. There are six girls in the club.

There are a number of clubs being organized in the school and a complete list of the officers of the various clubs and their leaders will appear soon.

The program committee of the Parent-Teacher association met Wednesday evening to make arrangements for the next meeting which will be held in the early part of February. This will be an evening meeting and largely a social affair. It is desired that there be a large attendance. The arrangements are not yet complete.

Examinations have been featured at the grade school this week and a large number of promotions are in order. The lists will be ready for publication next week.

The first grade had a most interesting session Thursday morning when they studied the Eskimo. Ask a first grader about the Eskimos if you want to know how they live. One strange habit that the Eskimos have is that they have no regular meals but eat when they get hungry. A small boy (the reporter was there and heard him) volunteered the information that "when my mamma is away my papa eats just whenever he gets hungry, too." Will the fathers of first grade boys please call the Outlook before administering the "rod" because only one little boy told.

The sixth grade is planning a character party for Friday afternoon. Among the noted characters who have promised to be present are Robin Hood, Huckleberry Finn, John Alden and Priscilla and many others of story book or historical fame. There are 20 children in the sixth grade which is under the supervision of Miss Mary Hansen.

The eighth grade is planning a class party for Friday evening, February 4. This will also be in the nature of a reception to the new members of the class which will enter at this time. Chaperones for the party will be Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kidder, Miss Gertrude Alexander, Mrs. Elis Davidson and Principal and Mrs. C. M. Quicksall. This is only one of the many class activities which are being planned.

The Gresham Queen Esther circle has been given a special invitation to attend a rally at the Portland Settlement center, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The settlement is on the west side of the river at First and Crothers streets. The girls are very anxious to attend if enough machines can be obtained. Any one who can assist in providing transportation should notify the president, Letitia Pulfer.

PLEASANT HOME "TRANSFORMATION"

Wednesday afternoon the Outlook reporter traveled to Pleasant Home to see what was going on at the transformation party which was being held at the Methodist church. Dinner was over (more's the pity) and there were only tales of a lemon pie—so thick—and a huckleberry pie that had followed the lemon pie and—the table was being carried out as the news gatherer arrived so what is the use of lingering over the memory of eats one missed?

The scene that met the eyes outside will linger long on memories shelves. H. L. Ball was handling a road scraper which was being pulled by Duke, a black pony, and Duke was being managed by Miss Anna Lennartz, his very capable mistress. These industrious workers were smoothing up the lawn and hereafter there will be no "stumbling blocks" around this church. Automobiles had better choose their parking places with care for the balance of the winter, both for the convenience of the drivers and the appearance of the lawn.

On the opposite side of the church Mrs. M. Lennartz and Mrs. I. M. Thomas were in charge of a huge bonfire on which was burning every stray scrap of waste and trash that had accumulated since—the last bonfire.

In place of the rickety old horse sheds that had stood since the childhood of the oldest inhabitant, there was the frame of a brand new shed being erected by a corps of willing workers under the supervision of W. R. Crosier. The reporter was so overwhelmed with the amazing events and transformations that she failed to make a list of all the workers and thoughts of lemon pie—so thick—interfere with ones remembering ability. There was a goodly number, however, and the ladies of the Aid society appreciate most heartily their generous donations of time and effort.

Suppressed murmur of conversation, squeals, and pounding on the back of the shed next claimed the reporter's attention and she found Mrs. J. Ickler and Mrs. H. L. Ball nailing up 1x12 planks. Who said a woman couldn't hit a nail? If anyone wants first class hammering done inquire of the above named ladies. They hit the nail on the head every time.

A dozen or more ladies were inside the church packing up any remains that were left of the dinner. There was no lemon pie and the reporter wasn't hungry enough to be interested in sauerkraut so she spent some time gathering news (see Pleasant Home locals).

There were 26 present at the dinner which was served at noon. This number includes three preachers, who really according to best traditions should have been counted twice, also a number of other guests among whom, Mrs. Emal Grimes, was very welcome as it has been many weeks since she has been able to be out and join in any public gathering. E. E. Van Fleet brought a team and plow and prepared the ground for the grading committee and thereby won his right to dinner. We hope he got some "lemon pie."

The car was due and the reporter hastened to catch it. Looking back she saw that the lady carpenters, while waiting for a board to be "ripped," were assisting the bonfire committee in smoothing up the lawn with a hoe and shovel.

P. S. The above report is a truthful statement of the activities of the transformation party held Wednesday, however, the reporter believes in the safety first policy and is leaving immediately for parts unknown to be gone indefinitely.

Extra! The latest reports are that the party is still on and will continue until the shed is done.

TELEPHONE MEETING CALLED FOR JANUARY 31

The adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the Multnomah & Clackamas County Mutual Telephone company, has been called for Monday afternoon, January 31, at 1 p. m. At the meeting held last Monday only 106 shares were represented of the 175 shares needed to make a quorum.

Each meeting adds additional expense as notices must be printed and sent out. It is hoped that a full number of shares may be represented at the next meeting.

A new cable is being placed on Powell street from the grade school to Main street to care for the line running into the main office from that direction. The cable is on hand and will soon be hung to care for the lines on Roberts avenue.

Money savers sure enough.—Wan-Tads.

FARM BUREAUS HELP MARKET-LIVESTOCK

The American Farm Bureau Federation is making the same effort to protect its livestock growers as its grain growers. A plan has now been launched for a cooperative livestock commission operated by livestock producers throughout the middle and southwest. Nebraska, Illinois and Minnesota are already operating. Plans are now underway for Missouri, Colorado and Texas. The upper picture shows baby heaves raised by girl and boy calf clubs and sacrificed early to the market, as it does not pay to fatten them. Lower picture shows Western Herfords in pen at Chicago to be marketed by the cooperative commission in the effort to reduce the margin between animals on the hoof and the price paid for meat by the consumer.
