

COUNCIL MAY LIMIT POULTRY RAISING

At the meeting of the town council which was held Tuesday evening several questions of importance were discussed and a number of matters relating to street improvements were decided upon. All the councilmen were present except T. R. Howitt who was in the east on business.

The first matter to be taken up was a petition asking for the grading of Second street from Main street to the third alley west.

The council also decided that in the future all gravel should be not less than, one inch nor more than two inches in diameter. Some of the gravel that has been received recently has been so fine that it was hardly heavier than sand. A car load of gravel was ordered for repair work on Roberts avenue and on the street leading from the Catholic church to West Powell street.

The council ordered an ordinance drawn prohibiting the construction of chicken houses closer than 25 feet to the property line, and garages must be at least 15 feet from street or property lines. The council ordered that plenty of publicity be given this ordinance before final action is taken upon it. It has long been a question of interest and it is felt that some action should be taken to control the care of poultry in the more congested sections of the town. There was some very favorable comment passed upon this new ordinance.

Marshal Cox was ordered to move the old chemical wagon, the street sweeper, and grader to the old livery barn on South Main street until other provisions could be made for them. It is expected that a sheet iron shed will be erected back of the city hall some time in the near future to provide shelter for these tools. Preparatory to this action the walnut tree which stands there was ordered disposed of and Bert Thorn offered to move it at his own expense if he might have the tree. The council agreed and Mr. Thorn will attempt to transplant the tree which is of a good size.

The committee to solicit funds for a night watchman was ordered discharged. The council has provided a night watchman and his salary will be paid from town funds.

The council instructed Recorder Schneider to order firearms from the government for the marshal and deputy marshal (the night watchman). These firearms can be secured at about half cost by buying from government stocks. He was also instructed to secure two pair of handcuffs.

It was ordered that Henry Latourell be notified to put in a cement sidewalk in front of his garage property on Powell street.

The health committee, A. W. Botkin, L. L. Kidder and A. Hammar, reported several cases of building, where the drainage was not properly cared for and the recorder was ordered to notify the owners to remedy the conditions now prevailing.

It was also voted to install two 60-watt street lights on First and Second streets one block west of Main street. This section of the town has not been properly lighted and the installation of these lights will be welcomed to residents of that neighborhood.

Ordinance 106 which amends Section 1 of Ordinance 18 was given the final reading and was passed. This ordinance provides for the search of any suspicious characters which may be found on the streets after a specified hour.

Resolution of Appreciation and Thanks.

Resolved, That a copy be spread upon the minutes of this society and a copy be sent the Gresham Outlook.

AMERICAN LEGION CLUB ROOMS OPEN EVERY NIGHT

Gresham Post club rooms are open every night in the east part of the Metzger hall above Carl Dahl's shoe shop, and all members of Gresham post are entitled to use the club rooms. All other Legion men and ex-service men are invited. At present there are not very many keys for the club out, but a large number have been ordered, and will be here in a few days.

The club rooms are free, but a small charge is being made for playing games. It was considered that this would make it more useful to all Legion men than it would be if dues were charged, since men who live at a distance from the city would not feel like paying dues for the very small amount of time they would get to use the club.

Tuesday, February 15 the club rooms will be the scene of a house warming and open meeting for all Legion men and ex-service men. Refreshments will be served.

MAY BE JUNIOR WHITE HOUSE

The point is being impressed upon Uncle Sam that he should furnish a suitable home for his vice president at Washington, and this historic old mansion is being pointed out to Congress as a fitting abode. It is the former home of Margaret Draper, who was the Princess Bancompagul, at Coon avenue and T. street.

GRADE SCHOOL ENROLLMENT GROWS

The last semester of school began Monday morning with a number of new faces in each room. The total enrollment was increased from 248 to 254. Eleven first graders entered the ranks of the second graders. They are Lucille Jennings, Elizabeth Thom, Roberta Kidder, Hazel Ireland, Marjorie Aylsworth, Maxine Maryott, James Shoemaker, Bud Bailey, Dwight Johns, Minnie Gantenbein and Sylvester Jackson.

To make room for the new second graders or perhaps because they have been studying so hard eleven second graders were promoted to the third grade. The list is as follows: Fern Jennings, Ruth Sterling, Robert Sterling, Leroy Kern, Richard Metzger, Fritz Baumann, Laurence Aylsworth, Koso, Mary Leonard, Lyle Trimble and Kermit Johnson. Irma Gill, Parker Holloway, Rodrick Walker, Helen Berry, Joe Wright and Wilbert Maxwell will be known as fourth graders for the rest of the year.

Eight fourth grade pupils received the coveted positions in the fifth grade. They are Thomas Bechill, Russell Taylor, Alfred Brunner, Elsie Mewhirter, Doris Brown, Frank Mason, Johnie Gantenbein and Walter Heiney.

Richard Beadle, Carl Zimmerman, Clifford Gibbs, Margaret St. Clair, Ada Mae Hudson, Helen Kern, George McAllister, Massao Yoshida, Winston Strong and Alberta Griffs will henceforth be counted among the sixth graders.

Elinor Botkin, Doris Bailey, Earnest Cox, Mildred Knighton, Guy Rusher, Florence Hill and Clara Baumann have entered the ranks of the seventh grade with this semester. Randolph Hammond, Robert Lambert, Paul Rusher and Helen Hisey have reached the eighth grade and will make an effort to complete the work of the eighth grade this semester.

There were 84 honor pupils last month the third grade leading with a percentage of 50 per cent which again entitles them to the honor pennant. Miss Mabel Ingalls is the teacher in this grade.

The eighth grade now numbers 32 pupils and as a result is a very busy room. A class party was given Thursday evening at the schoolhouse.

At the weekly assembly Tuesday, Principal C. M. Quicksall gave some brief instructions on fire drills after which the fire alarm was sounded and the children left the building from the assembly room. This is the first time they have put on this kind of a drill although they are familiar with the drill work and are ready at any time. The boys and girls conduct themselves admirably during these drills. Carl Dahl and A. Hammar of the Gresham volunteer fire department sounded the alarm Monday morning and were present to watch the children in their drill.

The camp fire girls held a popcorn ball sale at the schoolhouse in the first grade room Wednesday. The sale was well patronized and receipts amounted to $9.50. Miss Gertrude Alexander is the popular leader of these girls.

MISS MARJORY LYMAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Miss Marjory Lyman was the victim of a serious accident Tuesday evening when she was run down on Powell street by a motor cycle driven by Max Takaki of Orient and received a number of broken bones and sprained joints. Mr. Takaki also received some bruises and scratches but his injuries were only minor ones.

Miss Lyman was on her way to the library where a community sing was scheduled and was walking in the road on account of the muddy conditions of the walks. Mr. Takaki was on his way home from work and had gone about as far as the oil tanks when the lights on his cycle went out. He turned around and started back to town to get them fixed and only a few rods down the road about opposite Davidson's collided with Miss Lyman. Both were keeping to the side of the road to avoid the automobiles.

Marjory was quite badly injured and will be confined to her bed for at least five weeks. She has a badly sprained and bruised left ankle, and both bones of the right leg are broken just above the shoe top. The left shoulder, while the X-ray revealed no break, is badly bruised and strained and very painful. There is also a broken bone in the right hand.

She is said to be resting easier now and has recovered from the shock of the accident.

Mr. Takaki has been very anxious about Marjory's recovery and has done everything possible to aid.

Friends regret the accident which will deprive Marjory of her freedom and school for the next few months and wish her a speedy recovery.

BURGLAR HELPS SELF TO CLOTHES AND CIGARS

There was an attempted robbery of A. B. Elliott's store in Powell Valley Thursday evening but evidently the burglars decided to give it up or were frightened away.

This morning Mr. Elliott found that the panels of the front door were broken and that several holes were bored in the feed room door and one of the panes of glass in the feed room was broken.

O. F. Cady of Fairview was not so fortunate for his store was entered the same night and several articles taken, mostly men's wearing apparel of a rather small size. The intruder looked over the stock of underwear but it has not been discovered as yet whether he took any and a check on the number of socks and handkerchiefs has not been made. It is known that he took a cap, four pair of shoes and some overalls. He also emptied the cash drawer of the pennies that were left there during the night and helped himself to cigars, cigarettes and a bottle of extract of vanilla.

No clue to the identity of the robber was found but he left an old cap, a dirty bandana handkerchief and a partly worn pair of shoes on the store indicating that he had plenty of time in which to make his haul.

FAIR TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 19 TO 24

At a meeting of the North Pacific Fair association, which was held at Chehalis this week, the date of the opening of the Gresham fair was fixed as September 19. It was hoped that the date might be made a little earlier on account of the weather conditions but apparently this could not be arranged.

The Gresham fair will be held the week preceding the state fair this year and this is an advantage in many respects.

The opening dates for the fairs of the northwest were set as follows:

C.; August 22, southwest Washington fair, Chehalis-Centralia; August 29, Grays Harbor county fair, Elma; September 5, Spokane Interstate fair; September 12, New Westminster, B. AITKIN COMMENDS CALF CLUB WORK

D. D. Aitkin, president of the National Breeders association, in his address to the Columbia and Multnomah county breeders Monday urged that more systematic methods be employed to promote the dairy industry and the breeding of pure-bred stock. He said that the most effective and far reaching results were obtained through interesting boys and girls in the calf club project, and that the Holstein breeders ought to make as a part of their program the placing of 100 registered calves in the clubs of the state.

Several counties last year lined up a large number of boys in their program of livestock improvement. Nineteen Durham calves averaging $285 apiece were placed in the club of Klamath county, the banks, county court and Farm Bureau cooperating. The Shedd calf club of Linn county with its 32 members, representing 18 or 20 pure-bred Jersey calves has won state wide recognition. This club was promoted by the adult Jersey Cattle club of that county. For two years this club has won the $75 prize offered by the national Jersey club. Tillamook has started with the goal, the placing of 60 Jersey registered calves among the boys of their county. Clackamas has a junior Guernsey cattle club several members last year buying imported calves along with the adults. A registered Jersey bull calf is owned jointly by a Jersey club where the boys own only grades but are looking forward to breeding better stock.

What has Multnomah county done during the past two years? Only six pure-breds have been shown and of these but two were owned personally by the boys. This year there will be a Holstein club of at least eight members and a Jersey club of five or six boys. Nearly all will own registered calves. These boys will come from several districts to meet with their fellow members and club leaders. They will receive instruction on care and feeding of their calves and make field trips to compare calves from time to time. They will be urged to show their calves at the county, state and Pacific International fairs, competing in open class where possible.

Judging teams of three members will be selected from each club. These boys will be trained to judge hogs, sheep, dairy and beef cows and will enter the contest at the county fair competing for the honor of entering the state contests and the Interstate contest at the International Stock show. When grown these boys will be better able to buy stock intelligently as a result of this training.

Since the project continues on into the third year where a record is kept of the producing cow this is one of the most valuable projects in experience and in business training.

It is hoped that the leaders can get the cooperation that has been given in other counties in putting this program across and that funds may be provided to make attractive prizes at the county fair possible, prizes that are in proportion to the investment. Klamath county commercial club stimulated interest by offering $400 in special prizes for their calf clubs. Help boost the calf clubs and promote better livestock in Multnomah county.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Arthur and Mr. Cline attended the regular meeting of Anchor Council in Portland last Tuesday evening.
