GRESHAM LOCALS

Mrs. Ward Inglis entertained in honor of the birthday of Miss Mabel Inglis Sunday evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and the color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the dainty buffet lunch which was served. Those present besides the hostess and family and the guest of honor were, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Inglis, Miss Marion Inglis, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Raker, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Raker, and George Clark.

Mrs. W. C. Burch returned Saturday from Roseburg where she has been the past four weeks. She reports that Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fowler are rejoicing over the birth of a fine baby girl March 30. Mrs. Fowler will be remembered as Miss Mable Burch.

The special car that will convey the members of the local Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges to Escacada Saturday evening will leave the O. W. P. depot at 7:30.

Harry Truett, W. C. McCollaugh, and Frank Hodge have been elected delegates to the state convention of the Odd Fellow lodges at Albany the week beginning May 16. Mrs. Calla Kenney and Mrs. Christena Humason are to represent the local Rebekah lodge.

Roy Gibbs has been recommended by the local Odd Fellows to an appointment as district deputy grand master. Mrs. Lena Needham has been also recommended by the Rebekahs as district deputy president. These officers will be appointed at the session of the grand lodge in May.

W. R. Kern and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mathews in Portland. They had a most delightful day.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson was so unfortunate as to break her right wrist Saturday evening while cranking her Ford. Miss Johnson, who is one of the leading Hampshire breeders of the county, has recently added a very fine sow, Messenger Girl, to her herd of fine hogs. This animal comes from one of the large eastern breeders and carries the best blood lines of the breed.

Oscar Thoren has just commenced work on the new home of Mrs. L. T. Lusted on Kelly avenue near Powell. Claude Stockton is erecting a modern home of hollow tile construction in the Regner addition.

The foundations and floors are laid for the new home of J. V. Cogswell in the Thompson addition near Powell street. Mr. Cogswell has a bent toward landscape gardening and is already getting shrubs and flowers started for his new home when it is completed. His plans include many features which will tend toward making this home one of the show places of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hauswirth and son of Portland have moved into their new home on the Powell Valley road near the Standard Oil companies tanks.

The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the library on next Thursday afternoon, April 28, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. John Metzger, superintendent of social welfare work, will have charge of the program.

NEW BOOKS ARRIVE FOR CHILDREN'S WEEK

"The Survey", a weekly magazine devoted to welfare work has had a number of interesting items on problems of child life and its relation to the home. The magazine is on file at the library. The articles are enlightening and are written in a popular style.

This week is being observed throughout the nation as Children's Week. Miss Montague is recommending a number of books dealing with child life which may be obtained at the library. Among these are, "The Use of the Story in Religious Education" by Margaret W. Eggleston; "Our Neighborhood" by John F. Smith; "Roads to Childhood", by Annie Carroll Moore; and "The Boy Problem", by William Byron Forbush.

Miss Montague especially recommends an article in the May issue of the Century entitled "Julius Caesar's Stenographer." This is a history of shorthand from the days of the Roman Empire and is written in an attractive and readable manner.

CHURCH IS TO HAVE QUARTERLY MEETING

The fourth quarterly conference of the Gresham Free Methodist church will begin on Friday evening of this week, under the direction of the district elder, Rev. J. A. Hopper. Services will be held on Saturday evening also and on Sunday a full day's program is planned. Sunday school will meet as usual at 10 o'clock. An old fashioned love feast will be held at 11 o'clock, which will be followed by preaching. Those attending are expected to bring basket dinner which will be enjoyed between the morning and afternoon sessions. The afternoon meeting will be in charge of the Home Missionary society and will be in charge of Mrs. Wray and Mrs. Blair of Portland. The evening preaching service will begin at 7:30. Several preachers will be present and take part. All are cordially invited to attend.

CANNING CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED IN COUNTY

This is the year to Can! Fruit and sugar prices will be within the reach of all and the jars are empty because of previous conditions. "Urge your daughter to join the canning club and she will work with you during her vacation" says Ethel I. Calkins, club leader. The training which she will receive is excellent because the method is the best. The team contest work makes the project inviting. Remember that Multnomah county had a team that contested at the county, state and interstate fairs winning at each. Being State Champion won the trip to the Boys and Girls summer school at O. A. C.

Last year Wilma Chase of Orient as an individual won first in the county and state.

The Hazle Atlas Jar company are making an attractive offer for the best jars of fruit canned by club girls in the Northwestern states.

The First State Bank of Gresham has offered two special prizes of $6 and $4 for canning work and with these specials as well as the regular prizes canning should be an attractive project.

It is hoped to have at least six clubs organized.

FARMER'S WEEK AT O. A. C. WILL BE JUNE 13-19

Oregon farmer's week, since many farmers have reported through the county agricultural agents that they want it then, will be held at the state agricultural college June 13-19.

The date was selected because it is a relatively slack season on the farm. Roads are fine for motoring and all nature is at her prime for travel and camping. It will give parents of graduates an opportunity to take in commencement with formal graduation exercises on Monday.

It suits the college program of work coming in between the regular three term and summer session calendars giving college station and extension staffs time for farm and home problems.

This short and snappy session of the college will be in charge of Dr. A. B. Cordley, dean of agriculture. The whole college staff from "Prexie" down will join in making the stay of the rural folk a continuous round of profit and pleasure. Many hundreds are expected to come and enjoy it.

Progress in Enforcement of Prohibition.

Regulations, it is announced, have been drafted which will tend still further to tighten prohibition enforcement.

There is a gratifying progress in the working out of an effective program for such enforcement. Many of the difficulties experienced in many localities have been due to mistakes in policy. For instance the French liner Lorraine, on its arrival in New York on December 7th last, landed 2700 cases of champagne which were delivered to various consignees under permits issued by the prohibition enforcement officers. Six hundred cases were delivered from La Touraine December 17, 1920, 1098 from the Roussillon, arriving the same day, and 200 cases from the Lorraine on the 4th of January, 1921.

Beyond doubt it would be possible to secure conclusive medical testimony that delivery of this champagne for "medical" uses was not justified. A poll of the physicians of the country would undoubtedly render such a verdict. The officers of the American Medical association would, we believe, sustain this statement.
