PLEASANT HOME

The lecture and stereopticon pictures which Miss Edna Shoemaker was to have given at the Methodist church Friday evening has been cancelled because of a change in Miss Shoemaker's plans. Miss Shoemaker will leave today (Tuesday) for the University of Washington where she will take up some special work. Miss Shoemaker regrets that this change in plans prevents her coming to Pleasant Home at this time but promises to make this one of her first appointments when she returns later in the winter. Special interest is attached to the work of Miss Shoemaker as she is a Gresham girl and her family is well known and they are all active members of the Baptist church in Gresham. Miss Shoemaker's work in China has been followed by many local people since the time she went to the mission fields six years ago. The pictures which she shows were made from pictures which she brought from China and are of places and scenes with which she is most familiar. Local people will look forward to the time when they can see these pictures.

W. E. Markell has had his residence reshingled recently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lennartz went to Hood River Monday on business.

Homer Alhson is preparing to build a residence on his property adjoining that of his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bacon. A well is being dug and the basement of the new dwelling has been excavated.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Swanson and little daughter and two young friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coburn and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Biddle all of Portland. Although these people all live within a few blocks of one another none of the couples knew the others were planning the trip until they met at the Morrison home. W. R. Biddle, who was in the party was formerly well known in this vicinity as he owned the Novelty store in Gresham and was very active in church circles there.

A well is being dug at the home of William Caldo. This is the season of well digging and all who are planning such an improvement are anxious to complete the work before the fall rains set in.

Mrs. Mary Bacon visited at the home of Mrs. Robert Lundbohm Sunday after church. Mrs. Bacon also visited Mrs. J. Iekler and Mrs. Idelle Whilon during the afternoon.

The Rev. Mrs. Myers of Portland visited with Mrs. Mary Bacon recently.

Among those who are planning apple picking at Hood River and elsewhere are the Homer Moulton family.

A traveling photographer has taken pictures of the pupils of the different rooms of the Orient and Cottrell schools and the results vary. These pictures always add to an interesting collection of school day souvenirs.

Work on reshingling of the M. E. church will probably commence on Wednesday and volunteer labor will be appreciated. The junior classes of the Sunday school have volunteered to pick up and pile in order all the old shingles and if plans carry this work will be done Saturday afternoon.

POWELL VALLEY

Between 30 and 40 relatives and near friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Swan Magnuson Sunday afternoon to celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary. A delightful time was had by all and refreshments served by the guests who had arranged the affair as a surprise. A purse of money was given to Mrs. Magnuson with which to purchase some suitable gift as a remembrance of the occasion.

The Parent-Teacher association will hold its first meeting of the season at the schoolhouse Friday evening, September 30. At this time the regular business of the association will be cared for and the annual election of officers held. A good attendance is desired. This is the first business meeting for several months and plans of an important nature are to be discussed.

FAIRVIEW

The ladies of Smith Memorial church and their friends will be entertained at a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Cedric Stone on Thursday afternoon.

The regular all day meeting of Fairview grange will be held on the second Saturday of October. This arrangement was made to give the committee of this grange an opportunity to meet with the general committee of Evening Star grange which meets on the first Saturday when plans for entertaining the national grange will be made.

Miss Josephine Townsend left the latter part of last week for Eugene to attend the University of Oregon.

Among those from this place who have gone to Hood River to stay through apple harvest are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Moore, Mrs. Ruth Moller, Mrs. Dora Peterson and others.

Henry Barendrick dies in Portland.

Henry Barendrick, brother-in-law of Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Poleman Massy, died at his home in Portland on September 17. Mr. Barendrick is known to a number of people in this vicinity where he has often visited. He leaves to mourn their loss his widow, four daughters and three sons, besides many other relatives.

Funeral services were held Monday morning in Portland and interment was in the Hopewell cemetery near Amity, Oregon.

The bathing girls whose pictures you see so often in the summer, presumably bathe in the winter, too, but you don't see any pictures of them in their winter bathing costumes.

UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL OPENS AT GILLIS CHURCH

At a well attended and interesting meeting held Sunday afternoon at Gillis community church, a union or rather community Sunday school was organized to care for those in the community who live some distance from a church. A full corps of officers was obtained from the community and with a bit of outside help in starting a thriving Sunday school is in prospect.

Rev. Earle D. Sims of the Baptist church acted as chairman in organizing the school and it was decided first that the school should be a union school all denominations working together for community purposes. The Baptist Sunday school supply house has given upon request of Mr. Sims, a quarter's supplies of Sunday school literature with which to start the school. Song books were arranged for and all necessary supplies will be on hand.

The officers for the school were selected from those present who were from the community. They are superintendent, C. M. Lake; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Sadie Chase; secretary, Mrs. Mary Milne; treasurer, Ruth Elliott; librarian, Genevieve Manary; organist, Miss Amy Elliott. Those present were divided into classes and teachers selected as follows: Bible class, O. Everett; intermediate, G. W. Andrews; juniors, Mrs. Sadie Chase; primary, Mrs. C. M. Lake.

The school will open next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be held at that hour until further notice. The plan is to have pastors serving churches in this section preach at the church on Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock and a committee of three was appointed to secure such preaching service. Mrs. Chase, Mrs. G. W. Andrews and Mrs. Jas. McBain were appointed as a committee to secure preaching service.

There was a splendid attendance to begin with and a large number of adults were present. Besides Rev. Mr. Sims, a number of Sunday school workers were present from neighboring churches to give assistance if needed. Rev. A. Johnson of the Haley Baptist church and his wife were present and Rev. Earl B. Cotton of the Methodist church at Pleasant Home. Mrs. H. P. Christensen and others of the Mission church in Powell Valley, Mrs. Alta Gentry of the Pleasant Home Methodist Sunday school, Mrs. Chase of the Baptist Sunday school at Pleasant Home and a number of members of the Seventh-Day Adventist church which until recently held its services in the Gillis community church.

After the organization which was conducted by Rev. Earle Sims, Rev. Mr. Cotton and Rev. Mr. Johnson gave short talks after which the meeting was dismissed and the congregation broke up into informal groups discussing various problems and phases of the work.

COTTRELL

G. H. Blackburn spent the past week at the coast fishing.
