

CAR IS WRECKED; OCCUPANTS UNHURT

Ralph and Esther Markwart, brother and sister, had a narrow escape from death when a machine in which they were riding skidded on the wet pavement two miles west of Gresham, crashed through a fence and overturned, pinning the two beneath the wreck.

The two were returning to Gresham late Wednesday night after the parade in Portland. When near the farm of E. Chiodo, on the Powell Valley road, they attempted to pass another machine. Their car struck a pool of oil on the road, skidded about 100 feet, left the road and turned completely over. The automobile they had attempted to pass stopped, the occupants righted the car allowing them to escape. Neither was injured.

The car, which was a Ford bug, was quite badly wrecked, the top broken, windshield smashed and fenders bent. About ten feet of fence was broken down.

Guy D. Jones and Frank Westell visited the wreck soon after the accident and removed everything that could be easily stolen.

This is the second accident that Ralph and Esther Markwart have been in during the last two weeks. On the night of November 11 a machine in which they were riding ran into an automobile driven by two students at the corner of Division street and Ladd avenue in Portland. The Markwarts were driving west and struck the other car as it turned out of the avenue. While their machine suffered little if any damage the Overland containing the two students was thrown against the curb and the body bent.

PLEASANT HOME METHODIST SERVICES

CORBETT DAIRY HERD IS WINNING FINE RECORD

E. L. and Carl Power of Sandy recently purchased from K. Hanneman of Corbett, three registered Jersey cows, granddaughters of the great bull Rosaire Olga Lad. One of these cows has been on official test and has qualified for the register of merit in half the time required on two milkings a day.

Mr. Hanneman has a select herd beginning to make its importance felt through the official test. No cow will be kept that cannot qualify for a gold medal at four years old or over. A junior three-year-old has completed nearly six months' work at the rate of 900 pounds fat for the year. Nine hundred pounds would make her a world record in class AA. All other cows are put on test as they freshen. Other big records are in the making including a record of about 1000 pounds butter by the grand champion cow 1917, Chief Engineer's Viola. A daughter of Myra's Missionary promises as much fat as any cow in Oregon for November. A daughter of the new world record Jersey cow Lady Silken Glow will freshen about the first of the year and give account of herself. Lady Silken Glow has made about 1,040 pounds fat (not yet officially announced). This defeats Plain Mary, an eastern cow, and brings the high honors back to Oregon.

NATIONAL GRANGE MEET INTERESTS MANY HERE

Many members of the granges of this locality have had the privilege of attending one or more sessions of the national grange now being held in Portland, and large numbers have embraced the opportunity of taking the higher degrees, including the seventh, which is the highest. Many from here who had not heretofore belonged to Pomona or State granges have taken the degrees in order to be eligible to the National. It is said that 540 candidates were given the sixth and more than 3000 seventh degrees this week.

Among those of this immediate locality who now have the honor of belonging to the highest degree of the order are Judge G. W. Stapleton and Mrs. Stapleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Parsons, Mrs. S. R. Kitzmiller, George Honey, Mrs. E. Schwedler, Mrs. M. Volbrecht, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brugger, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sieret, Mrs. W. B. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ruegg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning, Mrs. Sophie M. Currey, Miss Evelyn Curry and Miss Margaret Anleker.

Plans for the excursion to be given to grange delegates on Monday are well in hand. Each subordinate grange is furnishing its quota of cars with a driver for each for the occasion. M. M. Squire is the captain of Gresham division. These cars are to report at the grange hall at 8 o'clock sharp to pick up the box lunches which the women of the grange will provide, a box for each delegate. The boxes, with a suitable wording printed on them, have been donated by the Portland Paper Box company. The cars will proceed to Woodmen hall at East Sixth and Alder in Portland to pick up their loads, then, under the direction of the captains they will go up the Columbia river highway as far as Eagle Creek, where the lunches will be had and where Columbia grange will furnish hot coffee and cream. On the return trip the delegates will be taken to Eastern Star grange hall, where they will be given a banquet by the granges of the county.

ALICE IN HUNGERLAND

How An Armenian Orphan Became a Movie Star.

A three reel motion picture film entitled, "Alice in Hungerland," is now being shown through the State as a part of the Near East Relief campaign. The heroine of the play, "Alice," was found by J. J. Handsaker, State Director of the Near East Relief, and other relief workers, in a Jewish orphanage in Constantinople. "We all fell in love with Alice," says Mr. Handsaker, "and we took her with us all through Armenia, that she might 'star' in our movies. The picture shows her frolicking with the hundreds and thousands of happy children in our orphanages, and it shows her distress as she saw the great multitudes for whom we have been unable to make room. The real Alice is now in America bringing a message to American children of the gratitude of the children of all nationalities, Armenian, Syrian, Greek, Jew, Chaldean, Assyrian and others for the life given them by America.

"Those desiring a showing of the pictures should address Near East Relief, 613 Stock Exchange, Portland, Oregon."

Queen Esther bazaar to be held December 17.

Starved---Except for America

"Except for American gifts through the Near East Relief, these three children and thousands of others would have died the hideous death of starvation, as multitudes have done during the past six years in the Near East," says J. J. Handsaker, State Director of the Near East Relief, who spent the summer in Armenia and southern Russia. "I secured this photograph near the city of Tiflis, Georgia. These particular children are a part of the 6,000 whom we are feeding in Tiflis. These three children are a part of a group who have been in the country for two weeks, where we give them intensive feeding to prepare them for the hardship of the winter. Among our 6,000 children in Tiflis are children of royal families, of millionaires, of professional and business men, all made one in their terrible destitution and poverty by the war which rages in the Near East."

Red Cross Tells What to Do for Colds and How to Avoid Catching Them

By S. ADOLPHUS KNOPP, M. D., New York

EVERYBODY knows what a cold is by its effects, but perhaps not everybody knows that it is due to a germ sometimes called micrococci-catarhalis. We may get this germ from the careless cougher, sneezer, or excited talker, through tiny droplets or sprays. The cold may develop at once, or it is quite possible that we also carry the germs for some time within us. When our system is rendered less resistant by chills, overeating, or intemperate acts of some kind or other, or by being badly nourished or overworked, these germs have a chance to multiply and then produce the symptoms of a cold.

To prevent infection, it is of course best to avoid the close proximity of a careless sneezer, cougher, spitter, or excited talker who expels small particles of saliva (droplets) when speaking. If one is on familiar terms with the individual, he can advise caution such as sneezing or coughing in a handkerchief, or at least holding the hand before the mouth during a so-called dry cough, which is in reality never dry, for droplets are expelled whenever there is a cough.

The individual who expectorates should, of course, always try to deposit his sputum in a receptacle (spittoon, cheese-cloth, or handkerchief) when indoors and in the gutter when out-of-doors. In crowded assemblies, street cars and subways, the dangers of becoming infected by others with the catarrh germs of course always exists.

What can we do to protect ourselves by making our system less susceptible when we are exposed? It must be remembered that when we are in good health, the germs of a cold coming from one afflicted with the disease have little effect on us, nor will those which may lurk within us have much chance to multiply and do harm. In the healthy individual the white blood corpuscles in our blood stream take care of the invading microbe. They swallow it; hence the name "phagocytes." Thus the best way to protect oneself from catching cold is to keep in the best physical condition.

In order to make the body resistant to contracting colds, breathe as much good, pure air as possible all the time, breathing quietly and deeply, particularly when out-of-doors. When indoors try to be in a well ventilated room. Whenever convenient, take special breathing exercises every hour or two, raising and rolling the shoulders upward and backward during the act of a slow and deep inhalation, retaining the air for about five seconds while holding the shoulders backward, then exhaling a little more rapidly than it took for the inhalation, during which act the shoulders move forward and downward.

Accustom the body to a daily application of cold water in the form of a plunge, shower bath, or a cold sponge. One unaccustomed to the use of cold water must of course begin gradually. This can best be done by standing in water at a temperature of about 105 degrees F. and squeezing out a sponge soaked in cold water at a temperature of 85 degrees over the back of the neck, in front of the neck, and over the left and right shoulder, so that the whole body receives the ablation, the head remaining dry. Should the individual not react, that is to say, feel warm after the bath, he should return to a warm bed for a few moments. In a few days reduce the temperature of the cold water to 80 degrees, then to 75 degrees, until he comes down gradually to 45 degrees, which is the average temperature as it comes from the faucet.

The judicious use of cold water, as just indicated, is the best means to guard the system against what is commonly called, "catching cold." The circulation will be improved, the respiration will become deeper and more regular, the skin more resistant, and the whole system less susceptible to chills.

Besides the external use of cold water, always bear in mind that the drinking of five to six glasses of cold water a day between meals, will materially help in the preservation of good health. The constipated individual produces an auto-intoxication, that is to say, creates a poison in his system which renders him below par and more susceptible to the invasion of the germs of common colds.

PIONEER RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

H. L. Waybill, a pioneer resident of eastern Multnomah county, passed away last evening, following an acute attack of neuralgia which affected his heart, causing his death. Although he had been in feeble health for several years, he was able to be about and yesterday went to the barn as usual to attend to his chores. He lacked one day of being 86 years and 6 months of age.

The funeral services will be held at the Pleasant Home Methodist church on Monday forenoon, November 21, at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Waybill is survived by his widow, one son, Stephen Waybill of Boring, and three daughters, Mrs. Matilda Knight of Pleasant Valley, Mrs. Sarah Wheeler and Mrs. Lucinda Wheeler of Boring.

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB OUTLINES YEAR'S PLANS

The Tuesday Evening Study club met in the library last Thursday evening to elect officers and make plans for study during the coming year.

This is the second meeting of the club this year, and while the attendance has not been entirely satisfactory to the president, Miss Norma Lee Peck, it is thought it will prove a great success before the winter is over. These study clubs have been organized all over the United States and have proven so popular that there are very few towns that do not have them. The primary purpose of the clubs is to create an interest in good literature, although the kindred subjects of art and music are not neglected. It is a little recognized fact that the value of these clubs is very great. The club in Gresham has decided to study the makers of literature, art and music of America during the ensuing year.

The following officers were elected Thursday: Miss Norma Lee Peck, president; Mrs. J. N. Clananah, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Kilgore, treasurer; Mrs. Cora Walker, secretary.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Gresham library Tuesday, November 22, and Miss Statter, of the Portland library, will give an informal talk. Social meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, beginning at 7:45 p. m. Anyone interested in study club work is invited to attend any of these meetings.

WRESTLING MATCH EVENT NEXT WEEK

Another wrestling match will be held in the Masonic hall in Gresham, November 25 and several good events are promised. The match is being promoted by Ed. Garlock.

Red Nutting, of Gresham, and John Vidhof, of Portland, will be the main attractions. Vidhof has wrestled O'Connell, Miller and a large number of the best wrestlers. Nutting wrestled at the fair and has won all matches he has held here.

Another good match will be between Oscar Butler, of Portland, and Charles Olson, of St. Paul, Minn. Olson has met most of the middle-weights of the country.

There will also be several good preliminaries.

UNION HIGH NOTES.

A finance committee has been elected by the student body. This committee will have complete control over the expenditures of the student body and will pass on all bills presented. This committee consists of Cora Johnson, Florence Roslin, Wilford Nasshahn and Newell Fancher.

The union high football team will meet Woodburn on Stapleton Field next Friday afternoon for one of the best games of the season. An effort is also being made to get a game with Estacada on the home grounds for Thanksgiving.

The boys were going to charivari A. C. Shagren, football coach, a few nights ago but changed their minds when they found he had been married two months. Mr. Shagren said he would be ready for them when they came, which leaves one in doubt as to whether it's a shot gun or a box of cigars. His wife is not with him because it was impossible to find a vacant house in Gresham. She is staying in Portland.

This is good book week and special work is being given in the English classes. Blanks for the students to fill out have been sent by the Portland Library association. They contain such questions as, "What is the best book you have read, how often do you read it, etc."

Principal Cannon has announced that he would like to see seven literary societies organized in the high school. The student body seems to like the idea and organization can be expected soon. These societies will give monthly programs in the assembly hall and furnish debating teams. Mr. Cannon believes these literary societies do a great deal of good in bringing out possible talent and giving self confidence.

Boyer, head of the music department for the Portland schools and leader of the largest men's choral organization in the west, will be the speaker at the musical entertainment to be held in the library on Friday evening, November 25, according to the committee in charge of the arrangements. He has also consented to lead the community singing. John Oliver, rising teacher of violin of Portland, will take part on the program.

The full program will be published in the next Outlook.
