Overcoats built from Virgin Wool--

Nothing will take the place of pure, virgin wool in maintaining the shape and service of a garment.

"Oregon City" start to "build" their overcoats when they select the fine wools on the ranges of the West. They cleanse them with natural soft water, which gives to the wool that lustre and strength.

Then they dye, spin and weave the wonderful all-wool overcoatings for which Oregon City won world awards as far back as the Centennial, 1876.

A master designer shapes the fabrics into smart, up-to-date overcoats for men and young men. They're tailored in a sunny plant in the happy atmosphere of the West

We can show you these new overcoats made complete by Jacobs'-Oregon City, worn from New York's "Broadway" to San Francisco's "Market Street." Look for the label. It assures you greater value and service in your Fall and Winter overcoat.

Floyd Mack, Wm. S. Everett and G. C. Casper left this morning for Blalock where they left their automobile during the recent snow storm. They hope to bring the machines as far as The Dalles where they can ship them out by boat or train. Word was received that the road was open now beyond The Dalles so they left to rescue the cars and other equipment which have been stored at the farm where the "goose hunting" party found refuge during the storm.

Fred Crane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crane, has been moved to the new Government hospital on the east side in Portland. Mr. Crane is still in a serious condition but friends hope that the untiring efforts of doctors and nurses, and his own strong constitution will pull him back to his health and strength. The hospital is open for visitors on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays from 2 to 5 p. m.

Miss Mable Michel is assisting at the First State Bank during the absence of Miss Mary Christensen who is spending a couple of months in San Diego, California, visiting her brother, Hallie Christensen.

Among recent purchasers of White Lilly electric washing machines are H. C. Glover of Eagle Creek and Mrs. Pearl Atterbury of Gresham. Both are well pleased with the work of the machine. Mrs. Atterbury says it will do everything but hang up the clothes.
