

GRESHAM WOMAN WILL HEAD EUROPEAN SCHOOL

Miss Maude Cleveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cleveland of Gresham, who has spent the past month visiting here, has been chosen by the American Red Cross to organize and supervise a model industrial school for boys in Montenegro under the auspices of the Junior Red Cross. This is an entirely new project which is receiving the hearty co-operation of the Jugo-Slav government to which the school will be turned over after it is thoroughly established. It is to become the model for other schools to be built up later.

Several unusual situations exist in connection with this school. In the first place, Montenegrin boys have ever looked forward to one of two occupations, that of warrior or teacher. They have made good as such, but have scorned the industrial arts, which have been left entirely to the women. Work has been done in a most primitive way, including spinning and weaving, which have been done by hand. Modern machines will be installed and the boys taught to use them.

Miss Cleveland will take time on her way to Washington, where she is to get final instructions from the Junior Red Cross and interview the ambassador to the United States from the Jugo-Slav republic, to visit the Federal Vocational school at Pittsburg, which is considered a model for this country and for the world. In a very real sense she becomes the educational ambassador from the new world to the old.

The fitness of Miss Cleveland for this work is apparent to all who have watched her rapid rise in the educational world within the past few years. A graduate of a Portland high school and the University of California, she has been on the faculty of both Leland Stanford and California universities and was at the head of the department of physical education for women at the latter institution when she resigned to take up war work under the American Red Cross soon after the entrance in the war of the United States. For two years or more she held responsible positions in the war zone and at the close of the war took up work under the Y. W. C. A., with headquarters at Antwerp, Belgium. Her work here had largely to do with American women and the wives of American soldiers.

One line of work which she has established in that country is a summer camp for working girls under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. This camp was open during the past summer from June 1 to the end of October and cared for 50 girls at a time, the groups changing once a week. In that way 700 girls, many of whom had never enjoyed a vacation, were given a chance to recuperate and learned for the first time the advantages of supervised play. These girls have promised Miss Cleveland a rousing reunion when she stops in Antwerp enroute to her new field of labor.

The school to which Miss Cleveland is going is located in Danilovgrad, Montenegro, Jugo-Slavia. She will go from Antwerp to Paris and will likely proceed to Marseilles in southern France, where she will go by boat on the Mediterranean and Adriatic seas.

MANY ESSAYS WRITTEN ON HOME BUYING

When you want something done quickly and well just suggest your wish to the enterprising educators of our burg and through them to the alert boys and girls of our schools. Things will move.

The suggestion given in Friday's Outlook, which had been presented to the grade school and high school that the pupils write short essays on Doing My Christmas Shopping in Gresham, has brought out some fine ideas. There are so many articles and so good that there is difficulty in selecting the best. This will be done, however, and the prize winners and some others will appear in the Christmas Outlook on Friday.

SPECIAL PROGRAM DEC. 23 AT UNION HIGH SCHOOL

By PRIN. ROY CANNON.

We would like to have each and every parent present Friday afternoon, December 23, at which time the school will render a program. Miss Edella Towle and Miss Gladys Neal, two Gresham girls now attending O. A. C., will be present and Superintendent Cannon has arranged, through the support of the student body, for Arthur Kirkham, who is a fine soloist, to be here and assist the Misses Towle and Neal. We would like to have the parents of our boys and girls visit in our daily work but we realize that they are busy people and their time is well taken. However, for the afternoon of Friday, December 23, we hope to have each parent with us. Those who do not come will surely miss a splendid treat.

The invitation to be present Friday afternoon, December 23, is not confined to parents only. Anyone interested in the welfare of our schools is urged to be present.

MRS. J. G. EMBRY DIES FROM PARALYSIS

Mrs. Emma Embry died at her home in Gresham Monday morning at 2:30 following the third stroke of paralysis. For the past year Mrs. Embry had been in failing health and for several weeks had been in a serious condition. Her death was not altogether unexpected.

The burial service will be on Thursday. There will be no services in Gresham. The funeral procession will leave the undertaking parlors at 1 o'clock and the burial services will be conducted at the Damascus cemetery.

Emma Bennett was born at Sand Creek, Wyoming, on March 13, 1879. On October 2, 1900 she was married to J. G. Embry of Palmer, Oregon, where they made their home for many years, later moving to Damascus and a few years ago coming to Gresham where they have resided ever since. Three children, Russell, Roba and Beth were born of whom Roba alone survives. Russell died October 30, 1919, as a result of an accident and Beth died in infancy in the year 1914.

Besides her husband and daughter there are left to mourn their loss two brothers Russell Bennett, of Wyoming, and Wm. Bennett, of Alberta, Canada and a sister, Mrs. Mary Vivian, whose home is in Wyoming, besides a number of other relatives and many friends.

DAIRYMEN TO HOLD ELECTION; GRESHAM LOCAL TO MEET MON.

At the recent special election of the Oregon Dairymen's Co-operative League to determine whether or not the league should liquidate. Although there are 3100 members less than 600 voted against liquidation. Owing to the fact that so many members failed to vote at all there was less than the required proportion voting to make the action legal. A special meeting has been called of Gresham local for Monday evening, December 19, to discuss the plans before the second special election to be held on December 27.

It is most important that the members meet and all vote on the questions before the league. The following statement to members has been sent out to all the newspapers in the state in sections where the league is operating.

As a result of the referendum on December 6, 1921, on the question of liquidation of the Oregon Dairymen's Co-operative League, your board of directors is confronted with the following facts:

The law requires a two-thirds majority of the votes cast before a co-operative association can voluntarily liquidate and wind up its affairs. Only a few more than one-third of the total membership voted. The vote stood 625 for liquidation and 588 against liquidation. Only 588 members out of a membership of 3100 voted in favor of continuing the league.

At the mass meeting held in library hall, Portland, Oregon, on November 14 and on December 6, demand was made by some members from Washington county upon the board of directors to resign in a body. Under the constitution and by-laws, we find that this would be illegal and impossible. Furthermore, while we have no selfish wish to continue as your governing body, we cannot ignore the disastrous results which might follow an attempt to swap horses in the middle of a very turbulent stream. Hence, whether we like it or not, we are forced to face the immediate issues which are presented to the organization.

A superficial analysis of the situation resulting from the referendum vote might lead you to conclude that since the two-thirds vote required for dissolution was not obtained, the only thing to be done would be to open the plants and announce that product would be received as usual. But when you reflect that the volume of product decreased rapidly through the months of August, September, October, and November to the point where the unit cost of manufacturing and handling, even with the efficient and economical business management, is prohibitive, we are forced to pause before accepting the product from the remaining loyal members with no possible hope of making a substantial return therefor. The following figures will give you some idea of the position in which we find ourselves:

Total pounds of butterfat handled by the organization. This includes milk, sweet cream, and sour cream.

May	528,732.33
June	474,285.12
July	365,520.05
August	252,694.29
September	187,979.48
October	169,943.32

Comparison of deduction to be made for sinking fund, interest, and operating costs for the months of May and October per pound butterfat. The figures for October are approximate but may be higher when all accounts for that month are in and paid.

Average total deduction per pound B. F. for May				$,115
Average total deduction per pound B. F. for October				.228

Translating the October cost into 100 pounds of 3.8% milk for Zone No. 1 will make the total deduction for that pool amount to $,718 per 100 pounds and for Zone No. 2 milk pool $1,25 per 100 pounds. No milk was received in the Zone No. 5 milk pool in October.

Under the existing conditions, your board of directors, at the meeting held on December 7, 1921, decided to stand on their former recommendation to the members to liquidate, and have instructed the secretary to issue a call for another special meeting of members to be held at Library Hall, Portland, Oregon, on December 27, 1921, for the purpose of voting whether or not the league shall liquidate.

It is requested that all of the members cast their vote in order that the board of directors may have the necessary expression of the wishes of the members in the matter of liquidation.

On the ballot sheet "Yes" means liquidation and "No" means to continue the league. When you have voted, place your ballot sheet in the small voting envelope and seal the envelope. Then sign the letter addressed to the secretary of the league and enclose that letter and voting envelope in the large stamped envelope addressed to the secretary of the league and mail.

By authority of the Board of Directors,

A. E. Westcott, Pres.; A. B. Flint, first Vice Pres.; Theo. Brugger, second Vice Pres.; J. J. Van Kleeck, F. A. Baker, Directors, Executive Committee.

ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY PROVES SUCCESSFUL

The young people of the Zion Evangelical church gave a splendid performance last Friday evening when they presented two plays "Bridget's Investment" and "A Perplexing Situation" before an audience of more than 200. Every one of the characters rendered their individual parts so well that personal mention could not be made unless they were mentioned unless perhaps it be the character of Uncle Eptimas "from way up kentry". This part was so well taken by Andrew Brugger and was so appealing to the audience that it proved very popular. Bridget with her Irish brogue was very amusing. This character was presented by Miss Frieda Ramser.

Both plays were coached by Rev. H. H. Gebhardt, the pastor.

The musical numbers by the Misses Frieda and Katherine Bratzel and the Misses Pearl Ruegg and Hilda Byers were exceptionally fine. The gross receipts for the entertainment were more than $60.

CHRISTMAS OUTLOOK PRINTED NEXT FRIDAY

Never has a holiday number been undertaken by the Outlook which has called forth so much good matter and awakened so much interest as this year's issue. Friday next is the date.

You will be pleased with it from the first page to the last. It will be at least 16 pages.

It is to notify all that any matter for this big issue must reach this office by Thursday forenoon to be sure to get in.

The latest ads can be received in Wednesday night, except want ads which will be taken up to Friday morning.

Again our readers are asked to help us in recording local happenings by calling phone 1561.

QUEEN ESTHER BAZAAR WILL BE SATURDAY

The Queen Esther circle of the Methodist church is planning to give a bazaar and bake sale at the Sunday school hall opposite the Methodist church on Saturday, December 18 from 2 to 5 p. m.

The fancy work booth will contain many articles of interest to Christmas gift seekers and will be of a practical as well as a beautiful character. Miss Alice Peterson is chairman of the committee in charge of this booth.

Miss Gertrude Southard is chairman of the committee in charge of the bake sale and plans a goodly supply of cakes, cookies, bread, pies, etc., for the Sunday dinners.

The circle has also planned for a candy sale under the direction of Lucile McCarter and committee. This booth will be particularly attractive to those with a sweet tooth and how few there are who haven't at least one tooth of this variety.

EXPOSITION QUARTET WANTED HERE AGAIN

The Portland Exposition Quartet gave a concert here on Wednesday night under Masonic auspices which captivated the audience and won for the singers many words of praise. A spontaneous demand was expressed that this quartet be engaged for one number of next season's lyceum course, which will probably be handled under high school or other local auspices. The program of solos, duets and quartets was varied and pleasing and Mr. Ingram's musical oddities took the house by storm.

Our Special for Xmas. An 8-light tree decoration, complete for $2.50. Will burn on your house lighting system. Fred L. Bourne, Gresham, phone 1101.

HOME TOWN MERCHANTS DISPLAY HOLIDAY GIFTS

Buy your Christmas presents at home—This advice is not so hard to take when one considers the attractive displays in the windows of some of our merchants and the displays are not at all complete as yet for only a very few have put in their Christmas window displays.

Bishop Bros.' store has a variety of useful and attractive articles that would make attractive gifts. Christmas decorations add much to the beauty of the window.

Guy Jones has an unusual lot of novelties made from wood displayed this week which would prove interesting as presents.

The answer to the annual question "What to give him?" is answered in the attractive window display at the Edw. Aylsworth store. All of the articles displayed would be suitable gifts. Bright holly and attractive arrangement make this window real Christmas.

Many other windows are beginning to reflect the Christmas atmosphere but the next week will be the time of a general blossoming out with holly, tinsel, and the paraphernalia of the Christmas season.
