 Ira Brooks and son Dickson had a narrow escape from being struck by the O. R. & N. train at Rockwood one morning last week while on their way to work. They were approaching the track when they suddenly saw the train bearing down upon them. By a quick turn Mr. Brooks ran his machine into the ditch and escaped injury. The only damage to the machine was a bent fender.

Mrs. Ora Brooks, who has been ill, is improving.
 Grandma Butler is quite ill at her home here.
