A girl knows she is going to "live happy ever after" because she can look around and find so many of them that are not doing it.

If you can't be original, be natural—there is hardly anything so original as that.

Not many would have to "start life all over" if they had started life all right.

Did you ever notice how easy it is to dispense cheap sympathy and how hard it is when it costs something besides words?

If you always have a good alibi for not doing something, don't be surprised if others soon begin to have good alibis for not having anything for you to do.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Mrs. Mary Shoemaker is enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. J. Buchanan and two granddaughters of Rickreall, Oregon. Miss Edna Shoemaker, who spent several months at the University of Washington in pecial study, has returned to the home of her mother in Gresham, where she expects to remain until next summer, when she will sail for China to resume her missionary work.

Miss Doris Zimmerman underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at the beginning of the school vacation and is now able to take up her school work again.

Election of officers for the Methodist Episcopal choir last week resulted in the selection of the following: president, Oliver Gill; vice president, Miss Gertrude Alexander, secretary-treasurer, Miss Mabel Shipley; librarian, Miss Winnifred Osburn; manager, H. W. Strong.

Mrs. Sarah Donley, her daughter, Mrs. Roy Ashworth and baby came from Spokane on last Sunday for a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. H. M. Shaw, and sister, Mrs. Leslie St. Clair. Mrs. Donley has returned to her home, accompanied by Mrs. Shaw. Mrs. Ashworth and baby will remain here for a short visit before taking up housekeeping in Portland, where her husband is employed.

Andrew Johnson of Litchfield, Minnesota, arrived last week to spend the remainder of the winter with his son, Oscar Johnson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hosner are enjoying a visit from the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Howard, of Ione, Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Howard bought the Wendall Cleveland home and eight acres adjoining last summer and expected to move here for the winter, but were detained. They are planning to come in the spring to make their home here.

Mrs. W. L. Gorsage underwent a minor operation at a Portland hospital last week and has been staying for a time with her sister in Portland. She is reported to be making a good recovery.

Matt Schanno went to Centralia, Washington, last Friday, where he visited over the week-end. He returned Sunday night, with Mrs. Schanno, who had been there visiting with her mother and brothers and sisters.

The current number of the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine contains a very fine article descriptive of the work of the society in Oregon, written by Mrs. R. F. Walters, who is the State historian.

MOTHER OF P. B. EDER DIES IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Theresa Eder died January 6, 1922, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Stafford of Portland, at the age of 77 years, eleven months. She was a native of Germany. She leaves to mourn her death five children, Otto and Frank, Sr., and Mrs. Tracy Bauer of Missouri, P. B. Eder of Pleasant Home and Mrs. Annie Hansberger of Portland. She also leaves numerous grand children.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, January 8, at Miller & Tracy's undertaking parlors. Interment was in the Pleasant Home cemetery.

CHURCH SERVICES CALL OUT RECORD HOUSES

Church going appears to have a great impetus in this vicinity during recent weeks, judging from the crowds which fill the local churches. Good congregations and helpful services were the rule last Sunday.

At the Baptist church the new pastor, the Rev. D. Q. Barry, was greeted by a full house and a keen interest was evinced in all lines of the work.

At the Methodist Episcopal church a most helpful communion service was held in the morning, when more than a hundred communicants participated. The evening service was unique in that, for the first time in the history of the church it was necessary to open the annex of the auditorium for a regular service. At both these services the pastor's usual practically helpful sermons were supplemented by splendid congregational and choir singing. The congregational singing is promised as a feature of the evening meetings in the future under the efficient leadership of H. W. Strong. Choir Director Bishop is drihing a full choir for the services and expects to have thirty or forty voices in the near future. Work on a cantata for Easter will begin at once and singers are invited to join. Orchestral music will supplement the voices.

It is often called a little world, but it seems pretty big to the lonesome old fogy whose family is away on a vacation.

One who always "says what he thinks" soon has decent people thinking a lot about him that they don't dare say.

It's getting about so that modern daughter hates to invite a young man to her home for fear her modern mother will vamp him away from her.

"TRADE AT HOME" VOICED IN POETRY

The Outlook has received the following poem on home trading written by Mabel Baker a student in the English department of union high school. It comes as an aftermath of the "Do your Christmas Shopping at Home," contest, which was considered of great benefit to the local stores. The idea is all right, and the spirit of Miss Baker's poem is the right spirit. The poem is as follows:

Do your shopping here in Gresham,
Help our little town, we pray.
It is not as large as Portland
But it may be some day.

There are lots of stores to buy from—
Bishop's, Walrad's, Metzger's, too,
And the things are all worth having,
That is what we're telling you.

So hurry with your shopping,
Come to Gresham any time.
That is all we have to tell you
In this small jingling rhyme.

HOW AN AIRPLANE BOMB DROPS

Now, you thought a heavy bomb dropped from an airplane fell like a plummet, didn't you? This picture-diagram, made by the "Scientific American" and which we print by special arrangement simultaneously with that journal, shows that a released bomb travels with the swift airplane for a while and then slowly turns to earth as the horizontal momentum lessens.
