

GRESHAM OUTLOOK

Published every Tuesday and Friday at Gresham, Oregon, by the Outlook Publishing Co., H. L. St. Clair, Editor and Manager.

One year, $1.50, six months, 85c, three months, 50c, trial subscription, 50c. Combination rates with all the Portland Dailies. Weekly Oregonian, Weekly Journal and Oregon City Enterprise.

ADVERTISING Rates reasonable. Our representative will call. Official paper of the Town of Gresham. Official paper of the Town of Fairview.

Entered as second-class matter March 8, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Garden seeds have made their appearance.

The honks of the wild geese flying northward are heard.

It was noticeable that not as many robins as usual wintered in this region but their cheering presence is again observed.

Fall in line, boys, for that band organization. It can and ought to be put over. Gresham should have a wonderfully fine band and Mr. Adrian, an old band man, has undertaken to give it a start. Remember the meeting to consider organization at the Gresham theater next Tuesday night.

It is observed that the past winter has been a very severe one on roads. Strange as it may seem to a foreigner, the rains of the usual winter tend to pack the gravel roads while the repeated frosts cause upheavals and loosening which with heavy auto travel has nearly ruined the roads. Graveled streets in the city are in a deplorable condition.

Gresham people had hoped the 1925 fair site would be definitely located by this time and that the suspense would be over, whether favorable to the Gresham site or not. It will of course, come up later but probably not until after Julius Meiers' return from his world tour, said to be in the interests of the fair. However, the delay encourages apathy and loss of interest in the project.

Already the political pot is beginning to warm up. The primary is not far away and the time for filing nominations is near by. A time like the present is likely to encourage a lot of political aspirants and the votes may look for a long ticket. The Outlook is not authorized to make definite announcement but can say that eastern Multnomah will have a strong man in the field who will work to oppose certain proposed innovation inimical to the interests of this section.

KEEP THE HEALTH FIRE BURNING.

The law of compensation seems to hold good even in vital statistics. Official figures inform us that the death rate is decreasing and the suicide rate increasing. Seemingly if man cannot die from natural causes within a satisfactory period of time he will shuffle off the mortal coil of his own volition. The decline in the death rate in 1921 over 1920 as reported by one of the great insurance companies is described as quite remarkable—in brief 13.7 per cent. Tuberculosis decreased 16.5 per cent, Bright's disease decreased 5.5 per cent, diseases of the heart 17 per cent and diseases relating to child bearing 15.2 per cent. There will be still further decrease when the government learns that human beings are, economically at least, as valuable as hogs, and then functions intelligently through its health department to educate the people in the matter of sanitation, stripping the mask of mystery from simple medication and putting before the men and women of the land the A. B. C. of health conservation. The schools should teach the children something of the habits and indiscretions that throw a monkey wrench into the natural machinery, and they should know the reasons why. The calm indifference with which civilized governments all over the world have ignored the education of their peoples in matters pertaining to health is an indictment of civilization. Billions for war, millions for pork barrels, hundreds of thousands for political fence building, but not a cent to teach the people how to preserve their health, upon which all happiness and prosperity is based. The medical profession is fast in the strait jacket of idiotic ethics that have been the direct cause of thousands of deaths, and the great field of information (or mis-information) has been turned over to the quack doctors and cure-all fakery.

WELL KNOWN SHIP BURNED AT SEA The Northern Pacific, which was burned at sea the other day, was known to people of this community. She was known as the fastest ship on the Trans-Atlantic run. Before being taken over by the government, she was on the Flavel-San Francisco. On the first trip she made after being commandeered by the government, she carried Oregon troops from San Francisco through the canal and up to New York City. The 65th regiment of the coast artillery were among the passengers. Carroll Hedin and Raymond Dunbar of Fairview and Leslie St. Clair of Gresham were among the soldiers on board. The Northern Pacific's sister ship, the Great Northern was wrecked several months ago.

WALTER'S WIGWAG.

Sooner or later we expected it. The edict comes from Chicago that bobbed hair must go. Once more joy has gone from its accustomed haunts. And to think some unsolicitous person from Chicago, the well known Illinois village, made famous by high winds and women with big feet, should father a movement to discourage mere man from fooling himself about the age of the fair ones. You can tell when the girl with the bobbed hair washes her ears, and this alone is considered a distinct advantage over the car-garage style coiffure. Out here it is hard to tell whether they are 16 or 60. The bird that puts on enough powder to fill the wrinkles gets just as great a kick out of life as the gay young broiler. Another thing, the lass of 60 is not troubled with her grandchildren tugging at her skirts. They can't reach them.

There is some consolation in the fact that here in Gresham the fair young things are a little jealous of grandma and they will be first to adopt the latest fad, and leave the dear old girl alone with her cute little deception.

SANDY BLUFF

Chas. McGourty, who was taken to St. Vincent's hospital about a month ago, passed away on Tuesday, January 31, and was laid to rest in a Catholic cemetery in Portland Saturday, February 4. He was 75 years old, and leaves to mourn their loss a wife, Mrs. Cecelia McGourty and a daughter Katherine. They moved from Boring to this vicinity about two years ago buying a place of six acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Matthews and daughter have returned to Oregon after spending some time in California. They are going to build on their 20 acres, on the Booth road.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Radford visited Saturday evening and Sunday with Mrs. Radford's parents in Vancouver.

Mrs. H. H. Watkins was in Portland on business Saturday.

The Parent-Teacher association met on their regular meeting night, the first Friday of the month. In spite of the stormy night and bad roads a large crowd was in attendance. A very interesting business session was held, after which a splendid program was rendered, at the close of which a very spicy newspaper entitled "The Cottrell Whizzer" was read by Mrs. Van Fleet, E. E. Van Fleet was editor, Mrs. Wm. Bancke business manager, and J. Fowler reporter. A nice lunch was served by the refreshment committee. The next meeting will be March 3. Another good program is promised, also good eats.

Peter Hauglum has been quite sick but is slowly improving.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN CASE AGAINST BURNS

The case of the state of Oregon against John L. Burns which started January 18 came to an end on February 4 when the court discharged the jury because it could not agree. When the jury was discharged it stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. Burns is the man indicted jointly with Corey for the killing of Buck Phillips on June 14, 1921. He was defended in both trials by B. F. Mulkey and D. C. Lewis.

Burbank has done some remarkable stunts with nature but he'd make the hit of his life if he'd invent a hen that would lay best when egg prices are highest.
