Mistake Corrected.

The officers of The Berry Growers association have called attention to a statement made in the Outlook in the issue of February 3. The article is headed "Extension Leaders Inspect Work Here." The part referred to is "growers have practically made prices for shipping next year." It should have read "growers have practically made arrangements for shipping."

FARMING IN AFRICA WILL BE ILLUSTRATED

How farming is done in South Africa will be told by one who knows, at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening.

G. A. Roberts, graduate of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, Ames, Iowa, who has been in charge of the work in agriculture in the old Umtali Mission, Rhodesia, South Africa, will occupy the pulpit at 8 o'clock. His talk will be illustrated by the use of lantern slides, curios, etc. Mr. Roberts is a man in the full vigor of life, full of enthusiasm for his work and will have a story of real life in a most fascinating land.

The pastor, the Rev. A. S. Hisey, will occupy the pulpit in the morning. The topic of the sermon will be "The New Church for the New Day."

The special music for the day will be of a high order. A quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Strong, Miss Doris Zimmerman and Oliver Gill, will sing "I Will Give You Rest." Mr. Rusher will sing "While Thou Art Near." In the evening the stirring service of congregational singing led by Mr. Strong, and a full choir anthem "I Will Extol Thee," will make a most inspiring prelude to Mr. Robert's lecture.

The Epworth League topic for the evening will be "Our Opportunity and Obligation." Genevieve McAlister will be the leader.

The Willamette Ladies' Glee club will give their splendid concert at the church Monday evening.

The man who is "wise in his own conceit," at least knows that he is highly respected by somebody—himself.

NEW MEN MAY OFFICER LOCAL GUARD COMPANY

Several members of the Gresham Co. of Federalized Nat'l Guards have been recommended as officers of the company. Floyd Mack has been recommended as second lieutenant. Roy McCarter has been recommended as staff sergeant. W. A. Inglis, who is a civil engineer is the only man in the company who is properly trained for the position of chief scout and observer as his work includes surveying. The men are indeed fortunate in having such a man. E. W. Stratton has been chosen as prospective company clerk. It will be necessary for the war department to confirm these appointments before they will become legal.

There still remain seven non-commissioned officers to be appointed. Men who have never seen service have just as much chance to qualify as a non-commissioned officer as those who have seen service as ability will be considered above everything else. Several of the ex-service men have expressed their willingness to step aside and give the younger men a chance as soon as they show the ability to fill the positions.

Monday evening has been chosen by the National Guards as their regular drill night. They meet in Metzger's hall. All who are interested are urged to attend. There is a place for five more men in the company now. After that number has been supplied the names of the applicants will be put on a waiting list and they will be given the first preference. Whenever one of their members move from Gresham so that he cannot attend the meetings he will be discharged.
