LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN.

It will be interesting if we can learn what has become of the much heralded program promised by Chairman Lasker when he took the reins of management of the Shipping Board from Admiral Benson and outlined his plans to develop a merchant marine that would put America at the forefront of maritime nations.

ALL HANDS MUST WORK.

A desire to practice the game of getting something for nothing seems to have been existent in man since the earliest time, but to date the scheme has not proved a success. Some analysts tell us that no desire is implanted in the human breast that is impossible of attainment, but it is doubtful if any way ever will be found—and it is hoped it won't—whereby man can live without labor.

The Yaquina Bay "News" frankly tells its readers why all news is not published. The Outlook heartily seconds the "News" in the reasons given.

DOES IT PAY TO WORRY ABOUT APPENDICITIS? Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-i-ka, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which nothing else can dislodge. One man reports it is unbelievable the awful impurities Adler-i-ka brought out. FOREST PATROL BY AIR GIVEN UP

Those who enjoyed seeing airplanes circling overhead last summer will be greatly disappointed this year when they fail to see the immense birds of the air. In spite of being curtailed last year on account of reduced appropriation the men who belonged to the air service did some wonderful work. This year, however, a greater reduction has been made which will necessitate the discontinuing of the airplane forest patrol.

The air forest patrol has saved millions of dollars of timber lands. Last summer several million dollars' worth of timber was burned down because of an adequate patrol and the coming season may see still greater destruction.

When the patrol was started in 1919, pilots, planes and gasoline were furnished by the army air service. The forestry service provided observers, liaisons officers, maps and technical equipment.

The national forest, parks and reservations of California, Oregon and Washington were patrolled. The expense totaled $125,528.28 and more than $625,000,000 worth of timber acreage was protected—the cost being less than 2 per cent of the value of the property patrolled. There were 376 fires reported and 2777.17 hours flown, with a total mileage of 260,211 miles or 10 times the circumference of the earth.

GARDEN NOTES.

Gardening is one of the oldest of human occupations and one in which a large portion of the population is interested in some degree either for profit or for recreation, and to provide fresh vegetables for the home table.

"Almost anyone can plant seeds, and if he does not treat them too cruelly, they will grow," states a very complete "Crop Book" issued by Lilly's, Seattle, "but to be a successful gardener requires skill, knowledge and experience. It must be remembered that plants are living things—that they breathe, drink and eat, that if their surroundings are congenial, they will thrive, but if uncongenial, they will struggle along between life and death, and although they may finally reach maturity, they will never reach the state of perfection which will make the gardener proud of his achievement."

It is really surprising that plants thrive as well as they do sometimes under adverse conditions. Naturally, the first requisite is good seed, but there is little danger in buying good seed from reliable seedsmen who test all seed sold. It never pays to buy cheap seed as the little saved would be insignificant compared with a crop failure.

Life in a seed is wonderfully persistent but there are some obstacles that it cannot overcome. In most of the cases where failure is commonly attributed to poor seed the real cause is due to carelessness in planting or unfavorable conditions of soil or water.

Frequent causes of failure are planting too early, too deep or too late. The thorough preparation of the soil is of the greatest importance. By all means the ground must be thoroughly pulverized, granulated and smooth. The rows should be straight. If the ground is wet, beds may be raised by cutting paths a few inches deep around them for drainage, but otherwise the garden should be left flat.

Most seed should not be planted too deep. Plenty of time should be allowed for the weather to settle and for the danger of cold nights to pass, as these will frequently give them set-backs from which they will never recover.

Neither should they be planted too deep. An old rule is to plant to a depth of five times the diameter of the seed. The earth should be packed firmly over the seed, especially when the soil is light.

Short Course in Beekeeping.

A two-days' course in beekeeping will be given under the auspices of the Multnomah County Beekeepers' association February 24 and 25, in room 612, Oregon building, Fifth and Oak streets, Portland.

Members of the Multnomah association will be in attendance from 9 o'clock a. m. to 9 o'clock p. m. each day, and all people interested in beekeeping are invited to attend these meetings and bring their troubles and questions for the "question box."

The program at present is not completed but A. E. Meserve will talk on "Comb Honey Production" for the small producer, Friday evening at 7:30. Professor Scullen, of Oregon Agricultural college, has consented to deliver a lecture on "Colony Organization, Swarming and Increase," Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The subjects of "Spring Management," "Extracted Control" will be taken up at the afternoon sessions. Leaders in these departments will be announced later.

A full line of equipment will be on display, together with up-to-date methods of assembling same. This should be of special interest to the small beekeeper.

People in surrounding cities and country are especially invited to attend, as these meetings will be open to all who are interested in beekeeping, and are the beginning of a general educational course which is to be launched by the Multnomah association in an effort to promote better beekeeping and a greater production of honey.

IN MEMORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

Continued from page 1 on his death, with my countrymen" wrote Thomas Jefferson "Verily a great man hath fallen in Israel." Washington Irving said of his "The character of Washington may want some of those poetical elements which dazzle and delight the multitudes; but it possessed fewer inequalities and a rarer union of virtues than perhaps ever fall to the lot of one man." His passing ended a life of patriotic service and loyalty to a country he loved. It is well that the people of the country have named him "The Father of his Country."

FINAL DAIRY LEAGUE MEETING BELIEVED A GREAT SUCCESS

The final meeting of the Oregon Dairywomen's League, which was called to decide the stand to be taken by the league on the proposed taking over of a local creamery, was a great success in-as-much as it decided the matter under discussion.

The result of this meeting has not been completely checked up but it is thought that all the league members who had not already signed up in favor of the plan, were present at this meeting and placed their signatures on the list.

It has been agreed, in accordance with this plan, to purchase the building of a certain local cannery. The funds are to be raised by placing the preferred stock into a common pool. Full particulars as to the complete plan of operation will be given as soon as the matter is checked up by the committee in charge.

C. E. Rusher Has Accident.

C. E. Rusher was quite seriously hurt several days ago when he fell from a tree which he had climbed in order to prune. He broke three ribs on his right side and bruised his face quite badly. The tree that he received the fall from is in the Methodist parsonage yard. This is only one of several accidents that Mr. Rusher has received. He has had both of his knees broken. This was the reason for his present fall as he was unable to catch himself when he started to fall.
