THE FARMER MUST BE WATCHFUL

Let the farmer keep his weather eye open when he considers taking advantage of legislation aimed at greatly enlarging his borrowing capacity. The adage "Beware the Greeks Bearing Gifts" may not fit the situation with a nicety, but it may be well to remember that borrowed money is easily squandered while that earned by the sweat of the brow usually is carefully conserved. Relief must be afforded of course, and it will be afforded, because if the nation's prosperity is not to be dangerously checked the expansion of farmer credit is inevitable. However, washing all the confusing technical fly specks of the picture and looking at it through plain horse sense glasses the farmer never will have a cent of money lent to him except it be on security that is unquestionable, legislation or no legislation, and when money is borrowed there is established a lien on the farmer's production and correspondingly a certain domination of distribution and the fundamentals of business management. Care must be taken that the financial interests do not get too strong a grip on the agricultural group of our American life. It is obvious that farmers, particularly stock raisers, cannot operate on short time loans but they should be cautious if opportunity is presented to them to get money with such ease that its value will be lost to sight. It is easy to drift down the stream, but there must be a day of reckoning—always a day of accounting and settling up. The role of domination must be played by the farmer, not by the financier.

INSURANCE FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

The suggestion of unemployment insurance has to recommend it little more than an appeal to emotion. Men need work rather than insurance, work at a living wage—honest reward for honest industry. Human nature is very weak at best and the moment the worker finds a prop to lean upon he is likely soon to lean so heavily the support will break. Platform orators and those who cash in on flag waving and spurious patriotic mouthings may paint lurid pictures of the suffering of "the great unwashed" in the heated tenements of the cities; they may find occasion once more to drag into the sunlight the thousand and one economic fallacies that have kept the world at war for years, but the plain truth is that nature has destined man shall live only by his labor and anything calculated to dull the ambition cannot be regarded with favor, particularly in this land of plenty. It will be a happy day when "charity" is abolished entirely in the scheme of things and "justice" takes its place. The idea of handing "allowances" to idle workers is repugnant to the American mind. It would tend to sap men of their initiative, to eliminate their self-reliance, and worse it would put a damper on their incentive to think. The problem of steady work is not an impossible problem, but it is one that must be solved by the ingenuity of man. The comforts of our homes with all their labor saving devices come to us as the result of suffering from the elements and the natural desire to make life more comfortable. Out of the spur of suffering comes a better world. Without the spur the world gets flabby. Unemployment insurance is the last word in un-Americanism.

Genoa and Bolshevism

Substance of latest information about the proposed conference at Genoa is that the plans are pretty much up in the air. There is probability that at least, the conference will be postponed. There is the possibility that it will not be held at all. It would seem that the planners in Europe proceeded on the assumption that the United States would come into the conference, however badly the plans might be messed. So the Russian bolsheviks were invited to send delegates, whereupon the soviet government at once began to put on airs. It declared the invitation to be quasi-recognition, predicted that the formal recognition would come of the conference, and announced intention to demand from the allies enormous sums for reparation.

American intelligence at once regarded as extremely doubtful, to say the least, this government's participation in the conference, after the bolsheviks had been invited. While a formal announcement of intention has not come from Washington, it may be that this government's attitude has been somehow made known to the European powers. Or its silence may have come to be regarded as dissent.—Albany (N. Y.) Journal.

WOUNDED ASK PRESIDENT NOT TO FORGET

Wounded and disabled soldiers are supporters of the bonus for all but not to the exclusion of special legislation for disabled. A delegation of wounded from the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, was appointed to call on the President and Congress asking that pending legislation aimed to assist them be not overlooked in handling the bonus question. The picture shows the delegation leaving the White House, escorted by the President.

WALTER'S WIGWAG

Miss Janet Richards, lecturer, speaking at a meeting of the Girl's Protective League recently, in New York, suggested "that to curb vampirish tendencies in the modern girl and protect men weak enough to permit themselves to be vamped by flappers, mothers should form a protective league for their sons." The lecturer said that recently five mothers, all with sons, came to her and said the most serious thing they now have to face is saving their boys from girl vamps. It is about time mothers were making the world safe for their boys. Of course it remained for the sons to tell mother. Father would never think of such a thing. Man has always been the goat, and have been imposed upon by women with hellish designs. Women have always inspired men with their cute little mental telegraphy. Some of the messages have gone C. O. D., and some have been received Doc. The world is full of weak men, who have not the stamina, or moral courage, to resist the little devils. It is about time mothers came to the assistance of their sons.

What has become of the old fashioned girl that used to help mother with the dishes, and mend the family hose? Some of them are rolling their own, and don't care a darn about the holes, if they don't show. Wigwag suggests that parlors be provided in ball rooms where mothers may accompany their sons and give their moral support and guidance—a room where boys may retire with safety until danger is passed, and the persistent vampire has transferred her affection to some other unsuspecting boob. If mother is busy entertaining at bridge, chaperons could be depended upon to look after the boys, and nurses for poor old dad.

Yes, that's the solution.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

No. 20552. In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah. In Probate. In the Matter of the Estate of William C. Ulrich, Deceased. Notice is hereby given, that Christine Ulrich, has been appointed administratrix of the estate of William C. Ulrich, deceased, by the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah, Department of Probate, and has qualified. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same duly verified as by law required, at the office of McGuirk & Schneider, Gresham, Oregon, within six months from the date hereof. CHRISTINE ULRICH, Administratrix. MCGUIRK & SCHNEIDER, Attorneys for Administratrix. Dated and first published, Feb. 14, 1922. Date of last publication, March 14, 1922.

Income Tax Facts. Changes in the revenue law are of material benefit to the average family man. Under the revenue act of 1921 a married person, living with wife or husband, whose net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less, is allowed a personal exemption of $2,500. Under the revenue act of 1918 the exemption allowed a married person was $2,000, regardless of the amount of net income.

The normal tax rate is the same, 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions, and 3 per cent on the remaining net income. Given his personal exemption of $2,500, plus $400 for each dependent, a married man with three children—the average American family—will pay this year on a net income of $4,000 a tax of $12. On the same income for 1921 he would have paid a tax of $56.

Every citizen and resident of the United States must determine for himself whether his income for 1921 was sufficient to require that a return be filed. Full instructions for making out a return are contained on the forms, a copy of which will be sent to taxpayers who filed a return, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file a return on time, on or before March 15, 1922. Forms may be obtained from collectors of internal revenue and branch offices.
