

BETTER POTATO CAMPAIGN PLANNED

A meeting of the potato club leaders and potato project leaders of this vicinity and the leading club leaders of the county was held Tuesday evening in the office of county agent, S. B. Hall. There were about 25 present.

The preliminaries for carrying on potato club work was discussed and a program adopted for the year in the new potato project. The plans outlined are as follows:

Any community in which there are six or more growers that are interested in potato improvement may sign an agreement to grow from one-half to one acre of potatoes this year and cooperate with the rest of the neighbors in trying to eliminate diseases and pests.

Three meetings will be held during the season. As many of these patches will be covered as possible at each session. Hill selection will be done to get as good seed as possible to plant on the following year.

STOP THAT LEAK

In a jiffy by pouring some of our magic radiator cement into the leaky pipe. This cement is recognized by all motorists who are keen about the welfare of their machines as the premier remedy for radiator leaks. It does the work where all others fail. Remember a leaky radiator does untold injury to your motor.

Keith Lyman, who is a teacher in the Klaber, Washington, high school and athletic coach, visited over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lyman.

An interesting meeting of the Home Making club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of the leader, Mrs. A. S. Hisey. Among other things a yell leader and song director were elected, who were Helen Maxwell and Mildred McKinney. The club plans to meet every two weeks at the leader's home and live up to their name which is "The Snappy Five." After the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

A surprise party was given to Parker Holloway in honor of his birthday Saturday afternoon, when about 30 of his friends and classmates came rushing in at 2 o'clock. Parker received many useful presents. The afternoon was spent in games and a good time was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served but his birthday cake was the most attractive part of the program. Maxwell Bent being the lucky winner. The party broke up at 5, all wishing Parker many more happy birthdays.

J. N. Faris of Portland, a former resident of Gresham, was a business visitor here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rusher enjoyed a visit on Sunday from the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lansdowne.

Mrs. I. T. Bent, night operator on the telephone board, has been ill for some time and is still confined to her bed.

Joe Peak's car, which was stolen and found again, has at last been returned to him, after considerable delay on account of legal technicalities.

Floyd Mack is planning to go soon to Manzanita to wire a house which is being built by Claud Stockton.

Mrs. J. H. Cone has been ill for several days with an attack of "flu" but is reported improving.

Edward Strong and Maurice Botkin, students at Leland Stanford University, have arrived home and will not return for the spring quarter on account of recent illness. They expect to resume their studies in the fall.

Glen Kellum of the University of Oregon and Miss Adele Schenk, a student at the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth, are among the Gresham students who are enjoying a week's vacation.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

By CORA JOHNSON.

Sophomore Day, which was celebrated last Friday morning at the high school, was one of the most enjoyable events of the school year. The entire class with their class advisor, Miss Miriam Inglis, is to be congratulated upon their success in reproducing the lyceum course offered by the high school and in imitating to perfection a number of their teachers and the principal as well.

Grant McMillan in the role of Roy Cannon, given full charge, introduced the members on the program and, as each party took his seat, he made the concluding remarks, "Have we omitted any items? If not, we will spend the remainder of the time in study."

Theo. Smith in the role of Elsie Mae Gordon, gave several humorous songs and readings.

Rose Potter, Clara Mason and Doris Zimmerman in imitating the Sun Flower Entertainers were exceptionally fine.

William Fritz, Ray Strong, Edward Schenk and Henry Lunday made their appearance as the Ricketts Glee Club and showed ability second to none. No doubt Ellison-White or the Cadmean Company will get into communication with them soon. Ray Strong in a short Hawaiian skirt doing the tango and the high kick was alone worth the price of admission. The dress suits they wore will admit them to the 400 elite of Gresham.

Herman Walters when giving his fatherly talk in the reproduction of Edward S. Kindley was good.

The playlet, "Dinner Served," rendered by Esther Wilhelm as the negro wench, William Maybee, her husband, Herbert Burdick as the flunkey, Edward Southard as the captain and Guernsey Wood as the top-sergeant was entertaining.

The class song written by Mildred Metzger was sung by the entire class.

Frank Peranzi, recently from Italy and an accomplished piano-accordion player, rendered a forty-minute program before the high school Monday morning. The selections were well given and well received. Mr. Peranzi is an artist in his line and is a teacher on the piano-accordion. Several parents were present and enjoyed the occasion. Maurice Botkin, president of the student body of last year, gave a short extemporaneous talk as did Harry Wostell, member of last year's graduating class. We are always glad to see any former student of union high and welcome them to visit us at any time they can.

The last basketball game of the season for Union High School No. 2 was played last Friday night on the Scappoose floor. Owing to sickness the full team could not go but we proved to be of sufficient strength to return with the scalps of the Scappoose team. The score was 25-15.

Scalloped Salmon.

One-pound can pink or chum salmon, 1/2 cup of fine dry bread crumbs; 1 teaspoon butter, 1 heaping tablespoon flour, 1 pint good rich milk, salt, pepper and paprika.

Melt butter in a saucepan and add flour and stir until melted and mixed but not browned. Remove from fire and slowly add milk until smooth. Then return to fire to thicken like cream. Add a little salt, pepper and paprika to suit taste. Remove salmon from the can, remove any bits of bone and skin, and separate flakes with fork. Butter a pudding dish, add a layer of bread crumbs, then a layer of salmon, and cover with the dressing. Lastly cover top with crumbs and bits of butter and place in the oven about 20 minutes to heat through thoroughly and brown on top. The size of the baking dish will regulate the number of layers of salmon and other ingredients.

Petroleum production in United States has reached its peak and will begin to decline within three years, according to Dr. Ralph McKee, professor of chemical engineering at Columbia, in an address before Buffalo Engineering society. Dr. McKee predicted that the extraction of oil from shale would then become one of the country's greatest industries.
