

CHESTER A. LYONS WILL ADDRESS GRESHAM P. T. A.

The people of Gresham and community are to be given an opportunity to hear one of the best informed men on community welfare on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the grade school, when Chester A. Lyons will speak before the Parent-Teacher association.

Mr. Lyons is an expert in handling boys and is known nationally through his Big Brother movement. He has conducted the Big Brother Farm near Lebanon, Oregon for a number of years and has had great success in his undertaking. He had 90 boys on this farm last summer.

This address by Mr. Lyons will be equal to any chautauqua lecture and will be interesting to any one who has the welfare of the community at heart. Admission free.

The Whitney Boys' chorus and the Girls' Glee club of the grade school will sing. At the close of the program refreshments will be served.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a short business session prior to the lecture.

INJURED BOY IS RAPIDLY RECOVERING

Little George Dietl, who received a scalp wound last Wednesday in a collision with a car driven by Wellesley Taylor, a high school student, is rapidly recovering from his injury and no serious complications are expected.

The report in the last Outlook seemed to imply that the driver of the car went on without making any effort to find out what injury was done. It has been explained that when the child picked himself up and walked to the sidewalk, and did not cry, Wellesley supposed he was not hurt but that after school he reported to the parents just what had occurred. In a letter to the Outlook Mrs. Chas. N. Taylor, says, "I wish to state that the Dietl boy was on a truck, which was turning the corner at Bishop Bros. store and Wellesley was watching the boy thinking he would jump off and run across the street, which he did and Wellesley put on the brakes and stopped suddenly and the boy ran right into the side of the fender after the machine had stopped. The boy then went back to the sidewalk and stood watching Wellesley, who stayed for a minute to see if the boy was hurt, but as he did not cry or say anything Wellesley went on to the high school thinking he was not badly hurt. We feel very badly to think such a false report should circulate about our boy. The 20th Century grocer on the corner said Wellesley was not to blame and according to the grocer another gentleman who saw the accident also expressed the same opinion."

MARRY A MILLION SURE THIS TIME

Mary Landon Baker, of Chicago, sailed for England last week where for the third time she will face her wedding day with Allister McCormick, of Chicago, and stockholder in the International Harvester Co. Twice she has left him waiting at the church. But this time she says she will go through with it.

VEARL HOWELL TELLS OF GARDEN WORK

One of the most interesting of the Gresham boys' and girls' club is the Garden club. There are at least 12 boys who are members. Like the other clubs, the boys meet on Thursday every two weeks for the purpose of discussing the work. Last Thursday Vearl Howell, who belongs to a garden club in Powell Valley told the boys how he made his garden last year.

The ground that Vearl had to plant his garden was all sod. He measured off a piece 20x30 which is the regulation size of the club gardens. The ground was so hard to dig up on account of the sod that his father spaded it up for him first. Vearl then spread two inches of manure over it and spaded the ground over again. He then applied to inches more of fertilizer and respaded it. He then drew a plot on paper and planted on paper first. One of the rules of the club is that each boy must raise at least five varieties.

Vearl planted lettuce, peas and carrots in rows 18 inches apart. The cabbage rows were 20 inches apart. Having the rows close together not only saves space but it also holds the moisture after it is cultivated. When the lettuce was taken out, tomato plants were set out in its place. Radishes were planted with the carrots as the radishes grow quickly and are gone by the time the carrots need the space. Carrots are also said to keep the worms away from the radishes.

In spite of the ground being so soddy this garden grew some fine vegetables which the owner could well be proud of.

This year Vearl has another garden. He has already planted parsnips, carrots and beets. In planning his garden he has chosen what he thinks will sell well. He has found that there is a demand for sage so he expects to plant some. Dill was also chosen as a good seller.

The club boys selected baby beets, carrots, onion sets, cucumbers and sweet corn as the best planting prospects that were apt to sell well.

One of the boys told about using tar paper to put around cabbage plants to prevent flies from laying eggs close to the cabbage to hatch out into worms. The paper can be placed completely over the young cabbage and a hole torn out of the top for light. This method has proved a success.

All the boys are enthusiastic about the club work and have gone to work determined to raise vegetables for home use, for the fair and also to sell.

GIRL MAKES BIG PROFIT ON DUCKS

A record kept by Helen Althaus, who lives with her parents on a Gresham farm, shows that her 11 ducks have laid 1288 eggs from August 30, 1921 to April 27, 1922. No forcing food was fed. During the past year Helen has made a profit of $73. Her figures are as follows: Profits to date, $25.05; value of ducks at $2. $22.00; value of drakes at $4. $8; value of eggs, $18. Total $73.05.

PORTLAND BOYS WIN CUP PUT UP BY JUDGE G. W. STAPLETON

The Portland boys won the silver cup which was put up by Judge G. W. Stapleton at the wrestling and boxing contest between B Company, 162d Infantry of Portland and Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 186th Infantry of Gresham which took place in the Masonic hall last Saturday night; but it was only secured by a close margin. The Gresham boys put up a good fight in spite of the fact that nearly all of them had never appeared in the ring before. The decisions were made giving 50 per cent for aggressiveness, 25 per cent for ability and 25 per cent for ring generalship. Battling Ortega, near Welter weight champion of the world, acted as third man in the ring.

The wrestling came first. Reidlinger of Gresham weighing 114 pounds, was matched against Wolfstone whose weight is 118 pounds. After completing two rounds the match was decided to be a draw.

Pish Jennings, 139 pounds entered the ring against Fellman, 132 pounds. Fellman took one fall after four minutes and 30 seconds, which gave him the decision according to amateur rules.

The first boxing match was between Dick Lane, 143 1/2 pounds against Ronning, 143 pounds, of Portland. At the end of the third round, Ronning was given the decision on points. This was the first time Lane had appeared in the ring but put up a good fight.

Cooper was given the decision in the bout with Herbert West. West won the first round which lasted one minute. Cooper won out in the second in one minute and forty-five seconds. West received a blow on the left jaw that left him dazed. He commenced the third round but he did not last long. Cooper won by a knockout 30 seconds after the third round opened.

Gresham scored a victory when Maitland Geddes, 157 pounds, boxed

Campbell 161 pounds. The first two rounds were each a draw. Geddes received the decision on points after the third round. This was by far the best bout of the contest.

The match between Roy McCarter, 160 pounds and "Fat" Lein, 182 pounds promised to be an exciting one for Gresham. During the first round McCarter showed himself to be the best man. Before the gong had sounded for the second round, it was discovered that McCarter's right wrist had been injured when he "lained" on Lein's jaw during the early part of the round. A doctor in the audience was called and after an examination refused to let McCarter finish the bout. McCarter was given the decision, however, for showing more aggressiveness than his opponent.

A demonstration fight was put on by Keller, 118 pounds and Schnell 135 pounds, both of Portland, to show what B Company could do. Both boys were fast and were given a big hand. This completed the evening's entertainment.

A second contest has been promised to take place in the near future between these two companies either in Portland or Gresham. C. G. Schneider will put on the gloves with Captain Hale of B Company.

Captain Hale admitted that the Gresham "farmer" boys had the advantage of the B Company men in size. Gresham was unable to match the lightest weight Portland man and Portland could not match our heaviest weight man who was Frank Southard.

Jackson Jones would have entered the ring if it had not been for a broken rib which he received while in training for the bout.

Financially the contest was a success, Gresham's share of the proceeds amounting to about $25. The boys feel that they were well supported by the local people and appreciate the interest taken in the contest.

COMMUNITY PARTY IS DECLARED A SUCCESS

A number of young people and older as well gathered at the Gresham Grange hall Thursday night for a community party. K. A. Miller gave a good talk on community cooperation. Among other things he mentioned an anonymous letter which he received recently. In this letter, it was suggested that the city purchase the J. H. Metzger block and turn it into an amusement park. Mr. Miller said that this would be a great improvement for the city. An amusement park would keep the children off the streets. He spoke of a pool where the children could wade as being a good thing.

The evening was spent in playing games which everyone joined in and seemed to enjoy. The older ones took as active a part as the younger boys and girls.

Royal Neighbors Will Entertain.

An entertainment is being planned by the Royal Neighbors to be given at Metzger's hall on Friday evening, May 12. It will include good music and speaking and a playlet, "The Old Maids' Convention." A small charge will be made for the entertainment but refreshments will be free.

The Bank of Gresham pays 5 per cent interest on time deposits.—Adv.

A big show is scheduled for May 6th at the Gresham theater under auspices of H. O. Bone, head of the local Standard Oil force in aid of the company's candidate for queen of the Elks' Prosperity week and carnival to be held in Portland auditorium the week of May 15 to 21. "Red Crown Beatrice" as she is known is a member of the company's Portland force and the local Standard Oil station is boosting strongly for her. The proceeds of the big show will go to buy votes for their candidate. Members of the local company bought the house for Saturday night and invite all their friends and the public generally.

WORK HARNESS STOLEN FROM GRESHAM FARMER

On the same evening that burglars broke into Metzger's store, a double work harness was stolen from Wm. Stanley, a farmer living in the vicinity of the 12-Mile store. No connection is made between the two robberies as it is thought that the ones who broke into the store were professionals while the others were not thought to be.

M. M. Squire was notified of the loss but so far no trace has been found of the missing harness.

EX-KAISER USES SAW MADE IN GRESHAM

"Made in Germany" was a legend much in evidence in America until events of recent years made it unpopular. By the irony of fate the tables are turned and Wilhelm Hohenzollern, well known a wood sawyer of Doorn, Holland, and who once achieved quite a reputation as an emperor and war-starter, is now using an Oregon-made drag saw in his private wood lot. This information has been received by P. A. Combs, president of the Beaver State Motor company, makers of Beaver drag saws, from an English saw agent. The ex-kaiser's drag saw is a Beaver, made at Gresham.

F. C. JONES RECEIVES BID FOR GRAND STAND

The bid for the building of the new grand stand on the Multnomah fair grounds was given to Frank Jones, contractor. The new building is to be placed where the machinery hall now stands only a little closer to the track. It is to be twice the size of the old. The lumber secured when the old one was torn down will be used in the new one. Through a typographical error, it was stated in a previous issue of the Outlook, that a new pavilion is to be built. The grand stand is to be rebuilt but not the pavilion.

FORMER GRESHAM BOY BECOMES MISSIONARY

Burton L. Beegle, until recently a professor in Seattle Pacific College, is about to take up missionary work under the Free Methodist Board in the Panama Canal zone, where he will have charge of the work. He will be accompanied by his wife and two small children. With them will go Miss Emma Corson, who will take her degree from the college this year.

Mr. Beegle is a brother of Mrs. G. Cox and W. E. Beegle of Gresham. He was converted in his boyhood at Bethel Baptist church and attended school in both Gresham and Pleasant Home.

ARBOR VITAE NATURAL GROWTH IN THIS SECTION

D. Hill of Dundee, Illinois, was a Gresham visitor last week, the guest for a few days of his niece, Mrs. C. D. Bush.

Mr. Hill has one of the largest evergreen nurseries in the world. He is very much interested in the arbor vitae found in this vicinity and Mr. Hill thinks it is native to no place else in the world. He says it is closely related to the ordinary cedar but is distinct enough to be regarded a separate variety if not a separate species.

The arbor vitae is found along Johnson creek and on the hillsides and seems to be limited to a small area extending from near Linnemann to a short distance east of Hogan.

This will be news to many readers but as Mr. Hill is an authority on evergreens his opinion may be accepted by those less informed.

JAS. SPIERS SUCCEUMBS AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

The children are Walter of Pleasant Home, Randolph of Lacy, Iowa, Mrs. Nettie Killin of Cottrell and Burleigh of Disbury, Alberta, Canada.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon at the Pleasant Home Methodist church at 1:30. The Rev. A. J. Ware of Oregon City, will preach the sermon. Interment will be in Mt. Scott cemetery.

TOURIST PARK UNDER WAY ON FAIR GROUNDS

Gresham's tourist park, which is located on the Multnomah county fair grounds is being equipped with accommodations that will make it an A-1 park. Improvements are already under way. Water is being piped throughout the grove; electric lights installed and fireplaces built. There will be tables and benches in sufficient amount to supply everyone. Accommodations are being planned for any number of automobiles in case of bad weather or storms. When the work is complete, Gresham will have a park second to none.

The main entranceway has been regraded and graveled. Supervisor Hillyard delivered and spread 20 loads of gravel in less than eight hours. This would not have been possible if he had not had the Mack truck which the county commissioners gave over to his use. "Some work for one little truck in one day" said Mr. Snashall as he watched the truck make trips back and forth with gravel.

MISS ESTHER MARKWART BRIDE OF PORTLAND MAN

A beautiful but quiet wedding was solemnized last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Markwart when their daughter Miss Esther became the bride of Edward Scheel of Portland. The bride was beautifully gowned in a delicate apricot crepe de chine bridal costume. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and bride's roses.

The Rev. D. Q. Barry was the officiating clergyman. The ring service was used. Miss Lillian Markwart, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She was dressed becomingly in a baby blue organdy gown. Her brother Ralph Markwart was best man.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the completion of the ceremony.

The young couple left in the evening on their honeymoon. They will make their future home in Portland.

JUNIOR PLAY IS DECLARED "BEST EVER"

"All of a Sudden Peggy", which was dramatized by the union high school of Gresham junior class last Friday evening was a pleasant surprise to everyone. The music, the costumes and the acting was unusually good. It was thought that the senior play was the best of the year, but "All of a Sudden Peggy" left nothing to be wished for in the picture of an English home life and its problems. The threads of romance were delicately interwoven. The process of untangling the web which was threatened by real spiders, often became knotted with troublesome problems that did not right themselves until the curtain was ready to fall for the last time, at which time things righted themselves "all of a sudden."

OREGON CITY PASTOR AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Bethel Baptist Sunday school reached the high water mark in attendance last Sunday. The music by the juniors was an inspiration. The cradle roll also received five new recruits. A party is being planned for the babies and mothers in the near future. The Rev. Leonard was the acceptable supply in the morning service.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Ware of Oregon City came with the Aldrich male quartet and rendered valuable service which was much appreciated. Misses Mary Wold and Clara Mason gave a duet, "The Wonderful City of Gold", in a very pleasing manner.
