Estray Notice.

I have in my possession one cow about 4 years old, light red with a few white spots, also one steer about 4 years old, dark red with a few white spots. They broke into my farm about June, 1921, causing damage to growing crops.

Steve Kaptur, 228 Alder street, Portland, who claims to be owner of same, take notice that said cow and steer will be sold at my place, about 1 1/2 miles north of Rockwood, Oregon, on Tuesday, May 23, at 2 o'clock p. m., by M. M. Squire, constable, to cover cost of damage, feed and pasture and court costs.

DR. ABBETT WILL BE AT METHODIST CHURCH

Dr. J. T. Abbett, formerly district superintendent of the Eugene district of the Methodist Episcopal church, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church at Pleasant Home next Sunday morning. He will preach at Gresham in the evening.

The pastor of the local church, the Rev. A. S. Hisey, will occupy the pulpit in the morning, preaching on the topic, "The House We Live In."

The choir will render some splendid music for both services, singing in the morning the anthem "Make a Joyful Noise." In the morning Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Strong will sing a duet, and in the evening the choir will sing the anthem "If Ye Love Me." The Misses Myrtle Rusher and Doris Zimmerman will sing the duet, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" at the evening service. The junior choir will have a special number for the Sunday school.

There will be no prayermeeting at the church this week, on account of the meeting of the Home Missionary society.

The vacation school for the grade children in the Sunday school will be held during the two weeks immediately following the close of the grade school. The dates are from May 22 to June 2. Children and parents should begin planning for this popular event, which was so well attended last year.

Piano Tuning.
 $3.00. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Remember the date, May 11. Grange hall. Surprises are in store for all.

A news story states that Miss Newton, organizing secretary of the British Women's Temperance association, finds the orgies among young girls a definite menace in Great Britain. This is perhaps a worldwide menace at the present time.

Every time we read of a healthy man's committing suicide and that he "leaves a wife and six dependent children", the wish comes that he might be brought back and killed all over.

GRESHAM LOCALS

An animal which is thought to be a mountain beaver lost himself on Main street yesterday afternoon. When John Brown and Gus Johnson came along he was on the sidewalk in front of the First State Bank. After a considerable chase the men finally captured him. He is now on display in John Brown's window. He is dark brown with a short tail, long teeth, and about the size of a half grown mountain beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiles returned Monday from California where they have spent the winter. They made the trip both ways by automobile and traveled more than 6000 miles while away the past seven months. They have both improved in health because of the change. They will live temporarily in the cottage belonging to Jno. Roberts near the latter's residence. They plan to build on their property on Wallula Heights during the summer.

Mrs. Ella Oliphant of Lents visited with friends in Gresham and attended to business matters one day this week.

The W. C. T. U. bake sale will be held at Cecil Metzger's grocery on Saturday afternoon, May 6, at 2 o'clock. A generous supply of pies, cakes, salads, etc., will be offered.

M. D. Kern is at Mt. Angel this week on business.

A radio demonstration will be given this evening at the Gresham Grange hall by J. C. Hallock, a Portland radio expert. Everyone is welcome to come and hear him.

Mrs. Armstrong, mother of Mrs. C. Gordy, arrived in Gresham Thursday morning from Pacific Beach, California. She expects to make an extended visit at the home of her daughter.

Miss Mildred Kummel and Miss Beatrice Anicker gave a piano recital last Tuesday at the studio of their teacher, Miss Frieda Bratzel, which was much enjoyed by the mothers and friends of Miss Bratzel's music pupils. Some of the composers from which the young ladies played were Brown, Richards, Oestlin, Kreutzlin, Streabog, Gurilt and Anthony. All the work was memory work.

One of the most interesting features of the country fair and bazaar which is being planned by the Baptist Ladies' Guild for May 11 will be the Chinese booth, where real Chinese girls will serve tea in true oriental fashion. They will be superintended by Miss Edna Shoemaker, for six years a missionary in China, who is spending her furlough at the home of her mother in Gresham.

Mrs. Bonnie Cloninger and children are here from Scappoose for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Rose Metzger and sister, Mrs. Harold Kern. The latter leaves today to join her husband in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison have moved to Pleasant Valley, where they are occupying a bungalow just completed for them on the W. L. Kesterson place. They are caring for Mrs. Harrison's mother with the assistance of Mr. Kesterson.

Dr. D. A. Waters, of Portland, was a Gresham visitor today and a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. St. Clair.

A meeting of the Gresham Rebekah lodge will be held Monday, May 8.

Sunday school will be held at the Zion Evangelical church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock followed by divine worship in the English language at 11 o'clock.

The Tuesday Evening Study club will meet May 9 at 7:45 p. m. in the library. Miss Farnsworth will discuss Josephine Prescott Peabody's drama, "The Piper."

Chas. E. Moore left recently on a 10-day trip to southern Oregon.

WOMEN WILL HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MITE OFFERING

The annual mite box opening of the Women's Home Missionary society will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ott on Roberts avenue on next Wednesday evening, May 10. A splendid program has been arranged for the evening, which will include addresses by Mrs. G. W. Libby, district president and Mrs. A. B. Manley of the Settlement Center. The musical numbers will be duets by Miss Myrtle Rusher and Miss Doris Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Strong, Miss Mary Hansen, Miss Gertrude Alexander, Margaret Matthews and Carolyn Whetstone. The latter will be accompanied on the piano by Gwendolyn Metzger. Mr. Strong will lead in singing by the assembly. The members have invited their husbands to be honor guests of the occasion.

The assistant hostesses will be the Mesdames C. J. Lundquist, Wm. C. Averill, J. H. Hoss, C. S. Wyeth, H. L. St. Clair and J. S. Carlson.

The Mothers' Jewels will be entertained on next Tuesday afternoon, May 9, in the Sunday school hall in Odd Fellows building, at 3 o'clock. The children will bring their mite boxes for the annual opening.

Gresham Royal Blue Lodge No. 525, L. O. L., second and fourth Wednesday nights in I. O. O. F. hall. Visiting brothers welcome.

THE BANKER'S CHIEF OBLIGATION.

(This is number eight of a series of special articles published by the First State Bank, Gresham, Oregon, by permission, approval, and upon information furnished by its New York correspondent, the National City Bank, of New York, the largest bank in the world today.)

The Banker's first obligation is to safeguard the funds in his custody, and keep himself in position to meet all demands for their return. Every other claim upon him is subordinate to this. The banking business would disappear if this requirement were not strictly observed. It is not enough that a loan shall be "good" in the sense that there is ample security to guarantee its payment sometime; it must be collectable when due, if the banker is to be secure in his own position. He must be able to arrange the maturities of his bills so that his outstanding funds will be always returning to him in a steady flow, and that he may continually re-dispose of them to meet the changing needs of his customers. The funds which one patron borrows in the spring may represent the surplus which another patron has at that time, and by fall the latter will not only want all of his own funds but claim the privilege of being borrower in his turn.

As a bank derives its lending power from the community in which it is located, serving only as manager of the funds given into its custody, it is evident that any change in business conditions that affects the amount of liquid wealth in the community will quickly affect the lending power of the bank.

A bank itself does not create wealth. It is not an industry; it does not carry on production, and it cannot of itself supply wealth to the community. It is a receptacle, a reservoir of the floating, liquid wealth of the community. Its function is to aid production and trade by making this floating wealth more available and more useful than it could be without being gathered together. It is an agency for the more efficient use and handling of the community's wealth, but not for the making of wealth by any magical method, such as the printing press affords, or by creating deposits through loans. It is important to keep this in mind, because when people begin to complain that the banks or the government should make it easy to obtain credit, it is time to utter a warning.

Sound banking requires that somebody shall put a dollar of wealth into a bank for every dollar that the bank loans out, and when we speak of wealth we include the paper representatives of the liquid wealth which is moving in trade.

The wheat, meats, cotton, lumber, coal, and merchandise of all kinds that are being transferred are creating and depleting bank deposits as they move. It is through them that the pools of deposits, or lending power, are created. When prices rise the deposits are increased, and as prices fall they are decreased. These funds are the basis of the banking business.

(To be continued in the next issue of the Gresham Outlook.)

The First State Bank, by reason of its membership in the Federal Reserve System, is enabled to keep its assets in such a condition that it can realize on the greater portion of its loans and investments on very short notice, and at the same time loan to the community much more than it otherwise could safely do.—Adv.
