

ELECTION TOTALS GIVEN FOR CITY

The race for governor was one of the most interesting features of the summing up of the votes cast in the three Gresham precincts. Hall led with 129 votes but Olcott came a close second with 91. Patterson took third place by 15 votes while Lee and Bean received 3 and 1 respectively.

Rankin led over Walker by only 11 votes with a total of 112. Holman received 61 which placed him third on the list. Hoyt and Lightner and Muck showed they were in the race with 61, 47 and 46 votes.

Hoff left Ryan far behind in the contest for state treasurer by securing 144 votes. There were 90 votes to the credit of Ryan.

The list of representatives who received Gresham votes contained 34 names. Hurlburt led out with 160 while Kubli came next with 158. Loyalty in the support of local candidates was expressed by the votes given to H. A. Lewis. He reached third place with 147. O. A. Eastman reached sixth with 138 votes.

McCort and Burnett were favorites as justice of the supreme court receiving 210 and 205 votes.

Rossman was declared the winner here as judge of one of the circuit courts. He secured 136 votes while Crouch came a good second with 95.

The circuit court judge of the fourth judicial district was won by Tazwell. He received 140 votes while Moulton got 54.

M. M. Squire got 42 votes for constable of Multnomah county district. Other names were entered but did not count as they only received one and two votes apiece.

Williams was recalled in Gresham by seven votes. The yes received 133 and the no 126. Fred Buchtel was also recalled by three votes—127 in favor and 123 against it.

The present system of recall falls only a little short of being a joke. What actually happened during the present county election shows how illogical it is. Fred Buchtel was recalled from office by 7,761 votes but he was also re-elected as a public service commissioner by 4,654 votes. McCoy led the commissioner's race with 5,348 while Ostrander came third with a total of 2,872.

The democratic ballot showed very weak in Gresham. Pierce only received 25 votes for governor while Starkweather came next with 17.

Those serving on the election boards in Gresham were: City hall, Precinct 309 1/2, D. M. Roberts, chairman; Mrs. H. L. St. Clair, judge; Mrs. Annie Hevel, first clerk; Mrs. Nellie Roberts, second clerk; Mrs. Lucy Davidson, third. The county board were Ben Matthews, chairman; G. W. Kenney, judge; Floyd Mack, first clerk; Miss Gladys Sharp, second and Miss Vivian Hevel, third.

Condon's Hotel, Precinct 309, D. C. Ross, chairman; G. W. Wonaclott, judge; Mrs. Alice Merrill, first clerk; Mrs. Lena Needham, second; J. G. Metzger, third. Those on the counting board were John Brown, chairman; Mrs. Minnie Clanahan, judge; Mrs. Josie Bliss, first clerk; Mrs. Nell Thorne, second; Mrs. Leta Lish, third.

Murphy's hall, Precinct 308—Mrs. O. A. Eastman, chairman; M. D. Kern, judge; Mrs. F. E. Todd, first clerk; Mrs. Atterbury, second; Mrs. Gullikson, third. Those on the counting board were Mrs. A. H. Dowsett, chairman; J. Lawrence, judge; Mrs. M. Sunday, first clerk; Mrs. C. J. Lundquist, second; E. Stratton, third.

71, HE STROLLS 'CROSS CONTINENT

Still going strong though past three score years and ten, Henry Stewart, of sturdy Scotch stock, is now strolling from San Diego, Cal., to Washington, D. C. He expects to reach the National Capitol in June. Stewart has walked in Egypt and Africa and has made fifteen walks across the American continent.

BUNDLE DAY CAMPAIGN TO START MAY 24

Club and church women are actively engaged in promoting the Bundle Day Campaign designed to collect and ship spare clothing to help clothe the near-naked of the Near East. Young people's societies of the churches are raising a clothing fund to deliver the clothing free of transportation charges. Their aim is at least 25c per member and as many more quarters as may be collected from friends outside their organizations.

The campaign has national, state and local endorsement from clubs, lodges and religious groups because of the piteous appeals coming from the war-torn areas of the Near East.

The committee is asking for coats and suits for men, women and children, overcoats, shoes, cotton and wool stockings, cotton and wool dresses, knit underwear, the heavier the better, blankets and quilts and everything else that will give warmth in winter or service in summer. The things not wanted include laces, silks, very thin cotton and all other articles neither warm nor serviceable. Anything is wanted that might be needed in America if no clothing, cloth, needles, thread buttons had been available for six years.

"And do leave the buttons on," said Mrs. Hugh McGuire of Portland, a member of the State clothing committee. "Last year a whole shipment of clothing came to one relief station minus all the buttons—not even hooks and eyes to hold the garments together in the fierce wintry winds."

Deliver bundles early at the home of J. E. Metzger or send directly to Near East Relief, Portland. Clothing must reach Portland not before May 24, nor later than May 30.

The Ad Club Quartet has the proud distinction of being Portland's leading professional organization. Their appearance Wednesday evening, May 24, at the Gresham Theater will be a rare musical event.—Adv.

GRADE SCHOOL SPRING FESTIVAL GIVEN AGAIN

Much enthusiasm has been aroused over the proposed repetition of the spring festival by the Gresham grade school. Those who witnessed it on last Wednesday are anxious to see it again and those who missed the beautiful exercises will be given an opportunity. Principal Quicksall reports that people from all over the county and many in Clackamas county as far away as Estacada have expressed their intention of attending on next Thursday evening.

The charming drills and dances will be enhanced under the huge light which has been promised by F. L. Mack. Several added attractions will supplement the program, among them being a radio concert being arranged by Mr. Mack and musical numbers given by J. E. Metzger with his Brunswick amplifier. Oscar Hare with his wonderful trained elephant will furnish an amusing number.

The money raised from the entertainment will go to swell the fund for a moving picture machine for the school.

PLEASANT HOME GIRL WINS HIGHEST IN FIRST STATE BANK ESSAY CONTEST

What Lincoln's Gettysburg Address Has Meant to the World.

By ANNA LENNARTZ.

Well might this theme be stated as What Lincoln himself has meant to the World, for we know that this immortal address is only an outgrowth of the wonderful personality of Lincoln. His strength, his hopes, his joys, his fears for our nation are expressed in this address, given to the people at a time when they needed the encouragement and faith in the outcome of future, as we have needed it many times since when trials and dangers have assailed our homeland.

We must know the personality of the man before we can rightly interpret this address. Lincoln was a man acquainted with the hardships and difficulties that surround the people of the nation. He understood the feeling of the people at such a time and felt himself lacking in ability to address the people on that day. He wished that he might deliver a great speech that would show the people what he hoped and prayed might be the outcome of their struggles over the differences on the subject of slavery and secession. But as Lincoln was not versed in college English he used a language more touching in its appeal to the heart of the nation and as no one else could do he made them feel their own responsibility in the matter by dedicating themselves to the finishing of the task and the carrying on of the work that is ever before us, making the world better for our having lived in it.

Lincoln himself was conspicuous in his devotion to his country and before any personal feeling came one for his country. In this address he planted the seeds of a world peace by advocating universal brotherhood and one person living to help another in this world. He knew that in peace was the only way to live, so he tried and did bring about greater friendship between the nations and settled the difficulties between the sections of his country so that there should be more reason to expect peace and not an eternal strife that might rend the country asunder. We can little imagine how enthusiastic Lincoln would be if he knew of the plans of the Disarmament Conference and the attempts at world peace that are being made by the countries of the world.

Lincoln was a man of peaceable disposition and was deeply grieved when he knew that the Civil War was inevitable. He felt that it was a test of a nation to see if it could exist in freedom and equality and continue to be a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. At this time in history the United States government was a world wide experiment.

CHARLIE ROBERTSON IN A HERO ROLE

When he pitched a no-hit, no-run game without a man reaching first, this pet of the White Sox didn't realize he would get writer's cramp from autographing baseballs for pretty girl baseball fans, but that is just what happened. The girls kept Charlie busier than his player opponents.

GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

More than 200 boys and girls from the grade schools of the county outside the city of Portland received eighth grade diplomas at the annual graduations exercises held in Lincoln high school in Portland last Saturday afternoon. W. C. Alderson, county superintendent, presided and the diplomas were presented by Charles S. Rudeen, chairman of the board of county commissioners. E. V. Littlefield gave an address and a program of readings and music was furnished by pupils of a number of the schools. The orchestra of Union High school No. 2 of Gresham furnished a number, as did the girls' glee club of the Gresham grade school. This latter number was especially good and the girls were called back for encores. Other schools of this vicinity furnishing numbers were Fairview and Lynch.

The last Outlook gave the names of the graduates from several of the schools. The names of Hazel Cooley was omitted from the list of the Gresham school. The names of the graduates of the schools in this part of the county not already published are as follows:

PRIZES AWARDED IN BANK ESSAY CONTEST

The first prize in the recent essay contest gotten up by the First State Bank of Gresham was awarded to Miss Anna Lennartz of Pleasant Home who is a student of Union high school in Gresham. The names of all those who won prizes and the classes in which they participated, are as follows:

Class 1. Seniors and juniors—first prize, Anna Lennartz; second prize, Ruth Schedeen; third prize, Grace Hoffmeister of Boring.

Class 2. Sophomores and freshmen—First prize, Agatha Harding of Corbett; second prize, Kathleen Bailey; third prize, Mae Lang.

Class 3. Eighth grade—First prize, Evelyn Ledine of Boring; second, Wilma Fenske of Troutdale; third, Walter Marx of Boring.

Class 4. Seventh grade—First prize, Adele Marx of Boring; second, Bernhard Robertson of Cottrell; third, Lucile Frykstrom of Boring.

The prizes were awarded last Saturday evening in the Masonic hall in Gresham as a part of a program planned for that occasion. Those receiving first prize in each class were given first choice of three prizes, an Indian blanket, traveling bag or dictionary. Unfortunately some of the first prize winners were not present so the next in order were given first choice.

The Outlook has asked for permission to print the first prize essays in each of the four classes and will publish them during the next few issues. The essay written by Miss Anna Lennartz will appear in today's issue. Two hundred and thirty pupils participated in the contest.

The union high school orchestra of Gresham, led by Wm. Rutherford, furnished several musical numbers on the program. A. Meyers of the First State Bank showed his appreciation of the splendid work being accomplished by the orchestra when he presented them with a check for $25.

Invocation was given by the Rev. A. S. Hisey.

Miss Florence Honey's piano solo called forth an enthusiastic encore from the audience.

The topic given to Judge G. W. Stapleton was "The Duties of the School Directors." Some of the essays according to Judge Stapleton (who acted as one of the high school and also one of the grade school judges for the contest) overreached the mark. They told that Lincoln was born in a log cabin in Kentucky which had nothing to do with the Gettysburg address. For this reason a number of the essays could not be counted in the contest.

"The American Flag," a recitation by Betty M. Hansen, was full of patriotism.

Little Miss Doris Allen's aesthetic dancing furnished a treat for the audience. She came out from Portland accompanied by her mother to present her pretty dances. The Allens are former residents of Sandy.

The talent of the Gresham girls was displayed by Ada May Hudson when she danced the Highland Fling, and by Doris Bailey in her recitation "The Black-eyed Rebel."

"Patriotism means more than an impulse to shoulder a gun and march away" was the remark of Carl M. Little of Portland in his talk.

A short talk was also given by R. E. Cannon in which he commended the essay contest.

W. C. Alderson was asked by Mr. Meyers if he was in favor of the giving of essay contests. Mr. Alderson said that he considered such contests very good as an educational feature.

The prizes were to be presented by Mr. Meyers but as the program was quite a long one, the hour grew late before they could be given out. Mr. Meyers brought the prizes in and placed them on the chairs so the audience could see them. His address to the prize winners was appreciated by the audience.

The judges in the essay contest who were present were Mrs. J. M. C. Miller, Wm. Morand, Judge G. W. Stapleton and the Rev. A. S. Hisey.

There was every indication of the appreciation felt by the audience for the commendable work of the First State Bank in getting up the essay contest. All the districts surrounding Gresham were represented in attendance. It is impossible for outsiders to realize the amount of clerical work necessary to carry out such a contest successfully. The bank wrote 500 letters between the time the contest started and ended.

The faithful work of the judges including the Rev. Earl B. Cotton is also to be commended.
