We have adjustable screens complete in all sizes—or by the roll, or the foot.

Prices are lower this year.

GRESHAM MAN WEDS PORTLAND GIRL

The marriage of Harold J. Busick and Miss Gladys G. Jackson of Portland on last Saturday evening, May 20, came as a complete surprise to friends. While the young couple had been going together for some time, no one knew of the wedding date.

The marriage was quietly solemnized at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, with Will Hessel and the groom's sister acting as witnesses.

Harold Busick is well known in Gresham and is a representative of the Gresham Overland company. The young couple expect to make their home here.

DYING FATHER SEEKS NEWS OF SOLDIER SON

The aged father, lying at the point of death is calling piteously for his son according to word received by American Legion Department Headquarters from the Frank Burns Post at Condon, Oregon. All efforts made by Harry N. Nelson Department Adjutant to locate Fred Clarence Rice have been in vain and this final resort is being made to the press of the state to assist in finding the boy. He was last heard from in December when was in Bremerton Navy Yard but he left there leaving a Portland address which he never reached.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS

Gresham now has six long distance copper telephone circuits to Portland. These replace the four iron circuits formerly used. Prior to the November sleet storm, which caused so much damage to telephone property, the long distance lines serving Gresham were routed along the Base Line road from Portland to the Twelve Mile House. The new circuits are routed along the Sandy road on the poles carrying the circuits serving eastern Oregon and Washington as far as Fairview from which point a new pole line has been built on the east side of Fairview road to the Base Line road. This rearrangement and improvement has been made at a cost of $10,500.00 and now gives Gresham the benefit of the highest grade of long distance circuits and should insure a more rapid and satisfactory service than heretofore.

It is of interest to note that the improvements made in long distance transmission in the past few years have almost revolutionized the long distance service. Through the invention of vacuum tube repeating apparatus and the application of this to long line circuits, telephone engineers now state that there is no limit to the distances to which long distance transmission may be had, provided circuits are properly built and weather conditions and a few other unavoidable things do not interfere. In fact, it is said conversations would be possible from the earth to the moon if there were poles on which to place the wires.

One of the most remarkable demonstrations of the result of long distance improvements was on November 11, 1921, when President Harding delivered an address at Arlington cemetery near Washington, D. C., on the occasion of the burial of an unknown soldier whose body had been returned from France. On that occasion it is estimated that President Harding's address was heard by 100,000 people at Arlington cemetery, 35,000 in New York and 20,000 in San Francisco, and could have been heard by additional thousands if they had assembled. Not only was President Harding's address heard by the assembled crowds but there was also a program of music and other addresses in connection with the ceremony which were also heard. This was by far the greatest audience that ever listened to a single speaker and most of the same equipment which enabled the voice to be carried so far is now available for our every day commercial conversations over the long distance telephone.

The radio will, of course, make it possible for larger numbers of people to hear addresses than heretofore, but for commercial purposes the development and use of the wire systems is still necessary and perhaps always will be.

Spraying Time in Oregon.

Spraying time comes with growing time in Oregon. Indeed successful orchardists beat the first stirrings of nature and get their sprays on where protection is needed while the buds are swelling but before they burst open, says the O. A. C. Experiment station report.

Protection of apples and pears against San Jose scale, blister mite and red spider mites is had by use of lime-sulfur 12-100 as a dormant spray. For scale only or for leaf roller of apples, miscible oil 8-100 is recommended.

Delayed dormant spray time follows quickly on the heels of the dormant, especially in sudden bursts of good weather. When the cluster buds are separating just enough to expose to view the blossom buds is the time for this spray as per station reports. Lime sulfur 3 1/2-100 is the material. For aphids on apples add nicotine sulfate three-fourths pound to 100 gallons of spray solution.

For scale, red spider mites and twig miner of pines and plums the dormant spray—just as the buds are opening—is lime-sulfur 12-100.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH

The last Sunday in May has been hallowed by half a century of observance by the soldier organizations of our country as a day sacred to those who fell in defence of the flag in all our wars.

Next Sunday morning the last remnants of that heroic multitude once a mighty host, will bear their colors to the churches of our country to pay their homage to their fallen comrades, and themselves to receive the homage of a country redeemed by their sacrifice.

It will be so in Gresham. The G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, the Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary will worship in a body at the Methodist church. All members of these organizations, and every service man in the community is invited to occupy a section of the church reserved for them at the morning service. The pastor of the church, the Rev. A. S. Hisey, will preach an appropriate sermon. The church choir will furnish suitable music.

Tuesday, May 30, at 10:30, appropriate services will be held in the Baptist church, followed by the decoration of the graves of the soldier dead in the cemetery, with suitable floral offerings.

Decoration day should be universally observed by all patriotic people for the decoration of all graves and the beautifying of the cemetery.
