For the Most Economical Transportation

Wins First in Economy Run

The Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy run described below meant 360 miles of difficult mountain roads, far harder than average road conditions in our locality.

CHEVROLET WON FIRST, going the 360 miles on only 12 gallons of Red Crown gasoline and one pint of oil. Thirty miles to the gallon of gasoline over adverse road conditions. Just another instance of Chevrolet Economy. Every owner testifies to the wonderfully low fuel consumption of the Chevrolet.

A local Chevrolet owner recently made a run around the Tillamook loop on which he averaged over 31 miles per gallon. The Chevrolet is the most economical transportation for it is as easy on tires as with fuel, and mechanical maintenance is nominal.

You can see for yourself the sturdy little car that takes you so far in comfort at such low cost. Phone 2331 for a demonstration.

"RED CROWN" used exclusively in ANNUAL ECONOMY RUNS

The Los Angeles-Yosemite (Camp Curry) Economy Run is probably the most famous event of its kind in the motor world. Every year about the middle of May, while the snow still lies deep in the mountain passes, from 15 to 20 cars start the strenuous 360-mile run across the interior valleys and up the difficult mountain roads into the Yosemite Valley. Every car is carefully groomed for victory, and driven by an expert.

And in all the six runs so far held, all cars entered have used Red Crown gasoline exclusively.

This year the car making the run on the lowest consumption of fuel, a *Chevrolet driven by Dominick Basso, made the entire trip of 360 miles on 12 gallons of "Red Crown" (an average of 30 miles to the gallon), and a pint of Zerolene.

The average gasoline consumption for all cars participating was phenomenally low. This furnishes striking evidence of the continued success of this company in manufacturing a motor-car fuel of the highest grade, justifying for six successive years the unanimous choice of automotive engineers eager to establish the best possible records for their cars. This year, 18 of the 20 cars entered made the entire distance on less than 20 gallons of "Red Crown," although owing to recent rains the roads were unusually difficult.

Red Crown gasoline is the most economical motor fuel on the market today, because it contains the maximum number of heat units that can be rapidly and uniformly vaporized in the modern carburetor and go into complete combustion in the cylinders, producing the maximum power the engine was designed to develop.
