WHY NOT A FIREMEN'S DAY?

What a fitting tribute it would be to the volunteer firemen who guard the lives and property of so many millions of our people if a common day were fixed to show public appreciation of the unselfish service of these splendid men. Flowers in the coats of men on Mother's Day are beautiful and inspiring. There is even a little sentiment here and there for Father's Day, and perhaps this idea may grow to greater proportion. Father, however, can wait, and he will be glad to wait if we can see a Firemen's Day come into being. When it does, let us hope it will take a practical turn. State laws pretty generally fail to protect the volunteer fireman, and villages are quite incapable through taxation to guarantee any adequate fund to take care of the widows of those who die for us or for those dependent on the fireman when he is rendered incapable of further work or service.

To some extent insurance can be used, but even this form of protection has its limitations. Pending some state or national recognition every village can well afford to assume leadership and endorse a local fireman's day. The village authorities undoubtedly would approve such a plan. Games could be arranged in the afternoon, and at night a monster entertainment could be staged.

Suppose every person in the community were to pay one dollar for a ticket, it would not take long to raise a fund that would be practically beneficial, and that could be administered by a selected committee of citizens in whom confidence rests and whose interest in our brave laddies is well known.

Perhaps other and better ways of raising such a fund might be suggested, of course. The point for our folk to consider is that something should be done and done quickly.

MEASLES AND MOSQUITOES.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health for the city of New York, makes the flat assertion that measles can be completely wiped out in this country in 48 hours. In the same breath we are authoritatively advised that the pestilent mosquito cannot fly more than 1000 feet and live.

What a reflection on the United States government, if these assertions be correct, and there is no reason to doubt them. The one great necessary step; namely, passing this information under government authority directly to the people, is ignored. Consequently, measles still carry death and suffering to the young, and mosquitoes spread their poison over almost every inch of the United States.

It may be possible for the press, unaided by the government, to bring some relief, though lack of unified action undoubtedly must end in failure.

If the mosquito cannot fly more than 1000 feet, then every householder has it within his power to establish for himself at least a mosquito zone. Clean up for 1000 feet. See that old bottles and tin cans containing water are destroyed or emptied, that cesspools are kept closely sealed, that house gutters are kept clear. Sprinkle suspected spots with kerosene, the cooperation of every citizen.

For measles Dr. Copeland's recipe is even more simple. Keep the patient absolutely isolated for 48 hours. How easy it would be for the government to lay down practical rules to destroy these evils and to enlist the people in a united campaign to that end, asking in plainly signed advertising under the signature of the president of the United States, if necessary, the cooperation of every citizen.

If the gentlemen, now so busy flitting for the vote, would press thorough legislation of this character, perhaps they might stand a better chance than they will by rolling the pork barrel.

Lucky Friday.

Who said Friday was unlucky? Washington was born on Friday. Shakespeare was born on Friday. American was discovered on Friday. Richmond was evacuated on Friday. The Mayflower pilgrims landed Friday. The Battle of Bunker Hill was fought Friday. The Battle of New Orleans was fought on Friday. The Declaration of Independence was signed Friday. Yes, and Robinson Crusoe had a man named Friday.

Nobody knows why frogs croak, but probably it is for the same reason that men croak.

Come and hear the celebrated male quartet Saturday evening, July 15, at the Odd Fellow's hall in Boring, at 8 o'clock. Admission 20c and 35c.

OREGON GROWERS GIVE PRICES ON FRUIT

Salem, Oregon, July 3, 1922.—The Oregon Growers Cooperative association has advanced the price of prunes one-half cent on 30-40s and one-quarter cent on all other grades, above the opening prices. The price as announced is as follows for prunes packed in 25-pound boxes, f. o. b. shipping points:

30-40s 11 1/2 c, 40-50s 9 3/4 c, 50-60s 8 1/2 c, 60-70s 8c, 70-80s 7 1/4 c, 80-90s 6 3/4 c, 90-100s 6 1/4 c.

Oregon prunes have been sold in more markets this year than ever before, according to officials of the association, and it is their belief that this will help materially to dispose of this crop as well as future crops. Great Britain, Central Europe, Canada and domestic markets have responded with an eagerness for the 1922 pack that has been surprising.

The first payment of two cents per pound on gooseberries has been made to the members of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association in the Willamette valley according to a statement issued recently. This will be followed by other payments and the closing of the pool as soon as the shipments of the canned fruit is completed.

Strawberry growers are also being advanced a like amount. Cherries are now moving faster. The association expects to move two cars of black cherries before the end of the week. Several cars have been shipped from The Dalles to Chicago and New York markets.

The loganberry harvest is on with practically every yard busily caring for the fruit. Growers state that a considerable tonnage will be lost on account of the hot dry weather of the last few days. The crop is suffering from a lack of rain and the fruit which usually ripens toward the end of the season will not amount to much according to growers.

The cherry and Loganberry crops will come together this year and growers who have not engaged their labor report considerable alarm over the scarcity of help.

RURAL SERVICE CONTEST CREATES MUCH INTEREST

Oregon weekly and semi-weekly newspapers have been fairly pouring into the office of the department of industrial journalism of the college to be listed in the rural news service contest to be a feature of the annual meeting of the State Editorial association at Corvallis, July 21 to 23. Elbert Bede, president of the association and editor of the Cottage Grove Sentinel, will be chairman of the judging committee.

Indications are that even more interest is being taken in the contest by Oregon editors than was the case last year when competition was keen.

Classes in the contest are: first, grand champion, free for all, except dailies; second, paper published in town of not more than 1500 population; third, paper of fewer than 28 columns all home print. Suitable prizes will be awarded as announced.
