THE CHILD'S ENEMIES.

All investigations should begin with and be for the benefit of the child. The population of the United States today would be fifteen or twenty millions more had it not been for the neglect of the parents and the municipal governments. More than fifteen or twenty millions of children have been born in the United States in the past 15 or 20 years, who have died because of criminal, domestic, and municipal neglect.

We belong to the brass-band possession in works of superficiality. We are excessive talkers, but are rather meagre in labors of worth-while investigations.

We hate the drudgery of patient, toiling investigating for the protection of our children. We have criminally neglected the child prior to birth and immediately following his entrance into the world.

We are perfectly willing for congress to vote millions of dollars to fight diseases now destroying our hogs, sheep, cattle, and horses, but we have spent one hundred years preventing congress from voting an appropriation to stamp out the diseases destroying our children.

We are perfectly willing for congress to pass an appropriation from which we can get financial benefit, but we cry economy if congress tries to pass an appropriation to stamp out the murderers of our children.

We are blowing trumpets and congratulating ourselves about the magnificent work we are doing along lines of sanitation, but we are doing practically nothing to eradicate the great venereal diseases that are affecting the population of the United States.

There is a continuous stream from the cesspools of society flowing through the yards and municipal governments of this country, poisoning the lives of our children and staining the characters of our boys and girls.

Before we used antitoxins in diphtheria five out of every ten cases died. Now, with the use of antitoxins only one out of ten dies.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION TO MEET AT CORVALLIS

The 15th annual convention of the national home economics association will be held at Corvallis, August 1 to 5. The leaders selected O. A. C. for its many advantages and in recognition of the advanced work accomplished in instruction and extension at the institution.

The program has been arranged to interest especially housewives, vocational and other teachers, extension leaders and workers, institutional managers and social service specialists.

L. S. Hawkins, directors of educational work united typhetae of America, is one of the national celebrities selected as speakers. Some others of note, aside from the Oregon people, are the following:

Florence A. Ward, extension worker for women, United States department of agriculture; Dr. Caroline Hedger, S. Agnes Donham, educational director and author of Boston; Lucy A. Studley, assistant professor household management, University of Minnesota; Harriet E. Wittum, Northwestern University Settlement House, Chicago; Mary Brooks Picken of the women's institute of domestic science, arts and science, Scranton, Pa.; L. Ray Balderston, Teachers' college and author of New York; Edith M. Barber, director of Syracuse Home Bureau, Syracuse, New York; C. P. Langworthy, chief office of home economics, United States department of agriculture; Katherine Phillips Edson, industrial welfare commission for state of California; Mary Anderson, chief of women's bureau, Washington, D. C.; and Margaret Ebbitt, assistant manager of Congress hotel, Chicago.

This is the first time the national home economics association has selected any place west of the Mississippi river for its annual conventions.

It is hard to sell "run-down" property and it is harder to sell a "run-down" man.

If a man has a hard time keeping his head above water, it is time to get out of deep water.

Perhaps there is no single thing that angers a man more than the sight of a woman who doesn't like children.

WHERE SUCCESS BEGINS.

Two persons have recently handed the editor the following poem with the usual request to publish. The author is not known but it is said a lieutenant colonel of the British army caused a copy to be placed in the hands of each soldier under his command in the world war. We all need the pointed reminder of these verses. In fact, they contain "more truth than poetry."

It's All in the State of Mind. If you think you are beaten, you are, If you think you dare not, you don't, If you think you'd like to win, but think you can't, It's almost a 'cinch' you won't. If you think you'll lose, you're lost, For out in the world you find Success begins with a fellow's will— It's all in the state of mind.

Full many a race is lost Ere even a step is run, And many a coward fails Ere even his work's begun. Think big and your deeds will grow, Think small, and you'll fall behind, Think that you can, and you will— It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are, You've got to think high to rise, You've got to be sure of yourself before You can well win a prize. Life's battles don't always go To the stronger or faster man, But soon or late the man who wins Is the fellow who thinks he can.

MERCHANT'S CONVENTION TO BE ONE OF INTEREST

Among the many entertainment features scheduled for the tenth annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Merchants' association to be held in Portland, August 7 to 12, will be the "Trail Blazers of '49", a miniature reproduction of pioneer camp life of the Pacific Coast, which will be staged in the public auditorium.

The entire building will be devoted to various features of this old-time event. The main auditorium will house the vaudeville show. The two wings will be given over to dancing and in the basement will be the '49 camp with beer halls, gambling houses, sideshows, and numerous other attractions.

R. L. Brackett, one of the Buyers' Week executive committee, is chairman of the committee in charge. He has ordered each member of the executive committee to report at the show garbed in "rough clothes."

There will be the vigilantes, a sheriff and a town constable, two immense bars in the beer halls and all the glittering fixtures that go with them, and plenty of drinks from sparkling fruit champagne to foaming mugs of one-tenth of one per cent beer.

There will be faro banks, chuck-luck, twenty-one, wheels of fortune and other old-time gambling devices at which one may try their luck for a fortune. Money of the paper variety will be given to each visitor on entering and the one who has the biggest roll at the end of the evening's entertainment will be presented with a valuable prize.

The vaudeville program will be from 8 to 9:30 p. m. Men only will be admitted to this event.

This event and the big fashion show, which is scheduled for the week of the convention, will be the two big entertainment features provided for visiting buyers and their wives. In addition, however, there will be luncheons, smokers, excursions, banquets and many other features for men and women and theater parties exclusively for women.

Several hundred buyers already have notified headquarters that they will attend, and each day the number is becoming larger. The executive committee has its plans perfected for the entertainment of the visitors, and only details now have to be worked out.

Forest Expert to Make Field Study in Alaska.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has sent Associate Forester E. A. Sherman of the forest service to Alaska to make a two-months' field study of department problems there. Mr. Sherman, who was recently in Portland, has gone to Alaska, where he will make his third inspection of conditions in the territory.

Mr. Sherman was joined at Juneau by District Forester C. H. Flory, who is in charge of the 20,000,000 acres of national forests in Alaska. They went from Juneau to Valdez, thence to Fairbanks, where they will inspect the agricultural experiment station and later the one at Matanuska. From Fairbanks they will travel over the new government railroad to Seward, and thence by steamer to Cordova, headquarters of the Chugach national forest. From there side trips will be made to the Prince William Sound region and to Katalla. An inspection trip will also be made from Ketchikan over the Tongass national forest in southeastern Alaska.—U. S. Forest Service.

Pink Salmon Salad.

1-lb. can pink salmon. 1/2 pint celery. 1/2 pint mayonnaise. Free the salmon from skin, bones. Pick the fish apart and add the celery (which has first been cut fine) and mayonnaise dressing, tossing lightly. Season to taste. Save a little mayonnaise to pour over the top. Arrange in salad dish and garnish with curled lettuce and drops of red jelly, or serve on fresh, crisp lettuce leaves.

A good many men still go on the theory that taking advantage of opportunity means taking advantage of the other fellow.
