"WATCH IT GROW."

"Watch it grow." Thus Leon B. Baketel, staff correspondent for the Portland Telegram, ends his write-up of the fair in yesterday's Telegram.

Which moves the Outlook to say that is the spirit that should permeate not only the newspaper reports but the entire community and county relating to the county fair at Gresham.

More of that sentiment, with a rightly-directed effort back of it, regardless of the weather or other unfavorable conditions, will make the fair the success it ought to be.

There is only one thing better than the honest desire to "Watch It Grow," and that is the loyal determination to "Make It Grow."

Make it grow and you'll have the satisfaction of watching it grow.

WOMEN AND THE FAIR.

"One thing can be said about the management of the fair and that is that for the first time the women have a look in, and more." So says Addison Bennett in his write-up of the fair in today's Oregonian. We question the statement that the condition referred to exists for the first time and presume that the veteran Oregonian writer has noticed the ladies more this year than formerly. However, this is the first time the fair has had a ladies' band, which is really an orchestra, and seems to have given satisfaction.

The important part taken by women in connection with the Multnomah county fair as superintendents, clerks, etc., has been noticeable for years past. Several women owners of race horses have had entries on the racing program. Women have from year to year displayed their thoroughbred livestock. The county club leader, who superintends the boys' and girls' club exhibits, including their livestock, is a young woman well posted on all lines of club work.

It is a safe guess that fully half the exhibits are entered by women.

The women are really a great inspiration in connection with the county fair. Their work is important. They are great boosters. They make a success of what they undertake.

It may be admitting a good deal but the women could make a very creditable fair just by themselves.

But their needs should be considered more than in the past. Their displays are often tucked off in a corner with poor light and poor ventilation. In consideration of their ability and their interest in the fair they should be provided a better place for their displays. It's wonderful what they can do with poor conditions. Give the women a building of appropriate design and arranged to house the various domestic and art departments and they will surprise everyone with their work.

There should be a women's building at the fair.

WRITER COMPLIMENTS GRESHAM.

Addison Bennett never visits this locality that he does not write up some complimentary things about Gresham and he seldom fails to express his interest in the Outlook. Here's his latest from today's Oregonian for which we thank him: Gresham Good Town.

Gresham is one of the finest cities in Oregon. It is not a large place, but there is a large volume of business transacted there. I do not think there is a weekly newspaper in Oregon that has a finer office, or that does a bigger business, than is done by the Gresham Outlook. It publishes, by the way, semi-weekly, Tuesday and Friday. This office has just installed a self-feeding press, which was running close to 2800 impressions an hour yesterday. The office has several other presses, two Mergenthalers and all sorts of modern equipment. Really a $50,000 office and rushed with orders all the time.

The nearly three months' dry spell is broken by welcome showers.

Whatever the weather, don't miss the fair which is said by many to be the best ever.

The grange exhibits are the backbone of the agricultural displays. Any one of them would make a creditable county exhibit at a state fair.

The Hall-Olcott ballot recount didn't come up to Mr. Hall's expectations so he has called it off, but it brought out an unexpected result which calls for a grand jury investigation into irregularities and possible election fraud.

COOLIDGE AND WIFE WILL VISIT CITY

RUSSIAN REDS ISSUE BREAD LOAN CERTIFICATES.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Daily Mail reports that the Bolsheviks are floating an internal loan of so fantastic a character that if it were not vouched for on the authority of the Communist paper "Rote Fahne", one would think the tale invented by their enemies. The loan is called a "bread loan" and certificates and shares are made out in pounds of rye instead of in rubles. A subscriber of 4,000,000 rubles, or, in the new monetary system arrived at by cutting off noughts, 400 rubles (no exchange value) the present price of a pound of rye (36 pounds) receives a certificate entitling him to receive full value in rye at the end of the year. This is a powerful appeal to speculators. They know the ruble falls consistently and are certain that rye will be considerably dearer in a year. The Moscow government guarantees the loan by a special corn fund created for the purpose and by a reserve of 10,000,000 gold rubles.—Robt. E. Smith, President Lumberman's Bank, Portland.

PHILIPPINE COAL OFFERED.

It is reported that General Logan, Agent at Manila for the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, has cabled to Secretary of Commerce Hoover offering Philippine semi-anthracite coal to assist in meeting the coal and railroad emergency in the United States. General Logan suggested that if a handling and shipping organization were perfected in the Philippines, and shipping board vessels were made available for transportation, 20,000 tons could be shipped monthly to America. The commerce bureau agent is holding informal conferences with mine operators to perfect tentative plans in case the offer of shipments from the island is accepted.—Robt. E. Smith, President Lumberman's Bank, Portland.

D. E. Towle and the Outlook reporter have decided that the Multnomah county fair was too late this year. Arrangements will be made hereafter to hold the fair at the beginning of the raspberry season when the fruit is in such desperate need of moisture.
