

SPECIAL ELECTION IS CALLED FOR CITY

The Gresham city council held a special session Wednesday evening, Aug. 16. The main issue brought up and discussed at this session was the raising of sufficient funds for extending water mains throughout the city for fire protection. The committees ordered to investigate the matter brought in their report. It has been estimated such an extension will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The plan is to put four-inch water extensions on all the main streets in the residence part of city. The mains will be extended north on Main street, north on Cleveland avenue, east and west on Powell street, north on Walula avenue to the Section Line road, and west to a point opposite Dr. Peak's residence, east on Lawrence street and south on South Roberts avenue. With the exception of the Section Line road, all of these extensions will be extended within 500 feet of the city limits. Hydrants are to be erected at the standard distance which is about 250 feet apart. It will then be possible to have ample water for fire protection anywhere in the city limits with the use of hose.

The council has decided to hold a special election on September to submit to the voters the question of extending these mains and to authorize the council to issue 20-year bonds at 5 1/2 per cent not to exceed $20,000. If the measure is passed all of the legal work in connection with the bonds will be done by Atkinson & Zelka, a Portland bonding company.

The following were ordered paid at the last two meetings of the council:

GRESHAM PEOPLE AT REUNION OF CLAN

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning attended the third annual reunion of the Bonny clan held on August 6 at Woodburn. There were 5 descendants of Dr. Truman Bonny and his brother, Jours Bonny who met at Woodburn.

Dr. Truman Bonny, who was Mrs. Manning's grandfather, came to Oregon City accompanied by his brother in 1846 and took up claims. Dr. Truman Bonny claim was located two miles north of where Woodburn now stands and his brother's was two miles east of Woodburn.

The Bonny descendants known as the Bonny clan meet once a year. Last year Mrs. Manning was appointed by the clan to write the life of her grandfather and read it at the reunion this year which she did. She also wrote up the story about the brothers' trip across the plains which they made when they first came to Oregon. As has already been stated, this trip was made in 1846. The trials and hardships which they underwent seem in these days of plenty to be too terrible to have ever been a reality.

The clan gave Mrs. Manning a rising vote of thanks for her splendid write-up and made a motion to make her historian of the clan. Mrs. Manning expects to have the history perfected next year and the family tree traced back to one Thomas Bonny who came to America from England on the steamship Hercules in 1634.

Mrs. Mannings maiden name was Sherwood. The name was first derived from the famous Sherwood forests in England where Robin Hood and his men used to live.

Bethel Baptist Church.

Bible school next Sunday at the Bethel Baptist church convenes at 10 a. m. Dr. and Mrs. Driver of Portland, former chapel car missionaries, will be present and Dr. Driver will have charge of the service at 11 a. m. Everybody is invited to worship at the "Glad Hand church."

CLUB MEMBERS WIN MANY HIGH HONORS ON DISPLAYS AT FAIR

Many high honors were won by the members of the boys' and girls' clubs at the Multnomah county fair this year. They far exceed those of last year. The stride forward which they have taken is expressed in a conversation which the Outlook reporter had with S. J. Allen last Tuesday after Mr. Allen had inspected the club showings. Mr. Allen is state livestock leader.

"The exhibits of Holsteins and Jerseys are exceptionally good. That of the hogs is also good so far as numbers are concerned," said Mr. Allen, but the pigs are young and do not show up to the best advantage. The club barn is filled to capacity and the boys and girls have done better work in getting exhibits ready for the fair than ever before as far as fitting them up for show ring. Many of them are entering their stock in the open show ring. The demonstrations being presented by stock club members are interesting. That on the proper care of pigs and the wrong method was very good. It was put on by the Lynch club. Each pig was five months of age and the one properly cared for weighed 140 lbs. and the other not given proper care weighed 55 pounds. The demonstration of a model hog pen is interesting and shows feeders, houses, etc. It was put on by the Victory pig club.

Five judges judged the various exhibits. They were Mr. Lindgren who judged hogs; Prof. E. B. Fitts, the calves; Miss Helen Cowgill, the sewing, canning and home making exhibits; Mrs. H. C. Seymour, the canning team work and H. L. Long the garden, potato and corn displays.

The club exhibits were tastily displayed in booths in the club building. Colored paper and paint the entire scene an artistic appearance. It showed much effort on the part of the members and their leaders.

The East of the Sandy booth was cleverly gotten up. Camp Dough Boy was a complete picture of camp life. The display of potatoes showing potato diseases was a good representation of that district and was educational as well.

Maplewood, Hillsdale and West Portland occupied one booth. The sewing exhibits of each district were of interest and showed good workmanship.

Three other districts occupied a booth. Troutdale had a fine sewing display with many pretty kimonos. Fairview had sewing, cooking and canning displays while the "Sew a While" club from Wilkes displayed kimonos and aprons and many other pretty things in the line of sewing.

The Russellville club had bread and sewing in the same booth with the "Pollyanna Stitcher club" from Rockwood. This booth was one of the best.

The Gresham booth had a good display of sewing and canned goods. Vegetables from the garden club occupied a prominent place. The cooking club had buns, bread and cake on display. The bread was especially good and won first prize.

Cedar, Victory and Lusted clubs occupied the same booth. Splendid displays of dresses and many pretty things were on every side.

The records of the Dairy Herd Record club covered the walls of their booth. The neat appearance of the records won the admiration of all.

A visit to the Powell Valley booth brought to view some splendid wheat put on display by the garden club as well many kinds of vegetables. The cookery club won first prize for the best cookery display. The canned vegetables also added to the appearance of the booth.

The Gilbert poultry club brought eggs for their booth while the sewing club contributed many pretty dresses and luncheon sets as well as many other dainty things.

The gowns, dresses and other articles were placed in the Orient booth by the sewing club. The potato certification club won first prize on its booth display.

The family budget of canned goods in the Portland club's booth presented a very attractive appearance. It was put on by the Oregon State Canning team and was composed of the individual canning displays all put together into one group. The individual garden exhibits were also placed in one group. A good display was put on by the camp cookery club in this booth.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED AT FAIR BABY SHOW

A baby show was held on Saturday afternoon during fair week, and many babies received prizes of money or of various articles donated by different merchants. The show was to have been held in the chautauqua tent but rain on that day made it too damp out there and the show was finally held in the front part of the main pavilion. Mrs. Fred Crane of Rockwood was placed in charge. Many happy mothers with smiling babies awaited the opening of the contest.

The prize for the prettiest baby was given to Mrs. Elmer Henke of Gresham. It was $5 in cash. The second prize in this division went to Mrs. G. B. Moe of Portland and was a sack of flour.

A prize of $1 was offered for the baby having the best head of hair and it was given to Mrs. J. S. Cook of Troutdale. Mrs. Chas. Dahlquist of Portland received second prize. Mrs. Chas. Wicklander of Boardman had the honor of having the smallest baby under one and she was presented with $1. The fattest baby prize of $1 was given to Mrs. Roy B. Erickson of Portland. Mrs. Carl Alder of Myrtle Creek received $1 for the brunette prize. The blonde baby two years old was won by Mrs. Walter Trout of Gresham. It also was $1. The prize of $1 for a pair of twins two years old was presented to Mrs. Ruth Macho.

SHORT CIRCUIT CAUSES BURGLAR BELL TO RING

A burglar alarm which sounded Tuesday in the First State Bank aroused the people living within hearing distance. They felt certain burglars must be at work in the bank. An inspection failed to reveal any burglars.

The alarm continued to ring so Floyd Mack was summoned to find out what caused it. He soon discovered a short circuit in the electrical wiring and quiet was restored.

HIGH FREIGHT RATE PROHIBITS SHIPPING

By D. E. TOWLE.
Manager Berry Growers Packing Co.
The week's movement of canned goods has been good, a total of 3175 cases having been billed out. This is rapid work in making cases, labeling, packing, stenciling and loading. Fisher's crew is fine when it comes to wading through work.

Our office force is busy compiling the growers' accounts. Every scale ticket must be audited and entered up and the items run into the thousands. We have had so little response to our invitation to order sheep corral fertilizer that we did not feel warranted in incurring the expense of organization for the work as it would mean a trip to eastern Oregon. It is probably a mistake to not try out this fertilizer as it is known to be of great value and should be handled during the dry season, but we are ready to act as soon as we get orders enough to warrant the expense.

We have secured a limited quantity of vetch, mixed with gray oats that can be seen at the cannery.

This is the time to sow and get a heavy cover crop before winter. If you are interested, please call.

A last word about those empty crates. We would like to have them returned at once if possible as there is a loss for all of us in the delay as the weather is very damaging to the crates. We have dry storage and you should get credit on your account for them.

Ray-Maling of Hillsboro called up yesterday to know if their crates had been returned as they wished to return our cherry boxes and take their crates as a return load. This also applies to the Oregon Packing Co., and Starr Products Co., so please get busy.

The present outlook for fresh fruit trade is none too good. The apple, pear, prune, and peach markets are opening at new low price levels and the extortionate express and freight rates prohibit the movement of fresh fruits to the territory that would otherwise be the best consuming market.

To illustrate a few sample sales and the express on the shipments will show just what the fruit shipper is up against. These items are copied from the Pacific Coast Packer of Aug. 12:

Peaches, 24 bushels, from Porum, Oklahoma, sold in Kansas City, Mo., for $36 and the express was $21.84.

Seven bushels cucumbers from Thackerville, Oklahoma, sold for $8.75 and the express was $6.76.

Cantaloupes, 82 flat rates from Gurdon, Arkansas, sold for $47.50, and the express was $47.53.

Twenty-six bushels peaches from Mountainburg, Arkansas, sold for $42.75, express 26.10.

Squash, 15 bushels, from Ingleside, Texas, sold for $18.
