UNION HOME THANKFUL FOR LAST WEEK'S RAIN

By WALTER RAMSER

One of the longest dry spells on record has been ended by a general rain. The only disadvantage of any proportion is that much grain remains to be cut and quite a good many farmers have not yet stacked, but if this rain does not continue too long the damage will not be great. The benefits to potatoes, meadows, pastures, kale, gardens, berries and fruit is so great that a little damage to the grain can be overlooked.

Mr. Ritzau is threshing in the neighborhood of the Union school now, and is working our way. He says that the crop is so light that a week's steady work would almost clean up the season's run.

Louis Hoffmeister had 11 of his Holsteins at the Gresham fair.

Walter Schwedler was assisting with the work on the fair grounds.

During the berry season Mr. Gran headed the lesson of the early bird that catches the worm and got up before daylight and took his berries to the early market in Portland.

Mrs. Wedin and two smaller children visited with her married daughter in Washington.

Mr. Schwedler was kept busy the past few weeks binding grain for the neighbors.

Rudolf Mullenhoff raised a new variety of winter wheat this summer, one that is recommended by the agricultural college. Particulars later.

The poultry culling demonstration held by Prof. H. E. Cosby at the Schwedler farm was well attended, considering the short time it was advertised, and the fact that most of the farmers attending laid off harvest to come. Probably the first striking success of this demonstration was recorded the day following, when a young man who had no use for chickens (this means only the feathered kind,) invested in five or six dozen of them, selecting them after Prof. Cosby's method, "summa summarum." This was the best lecture on poultry the writer ever heard, and all the neighbors are urged to plan to attend the next meeting, when it is held some time in the fall.

Patrons of the Union school district are awaiting several cars of gravel to fill up around the school house.

Work will soon be started to pave Foster road in Clackamas county, beginning at the county line and going south.

Mr. Oldenburg, of Sycamore, passed through here looking for a small farm.

The Damascus farm bureau plans to secure a booth at the Clackamas county fair and enter in competition with other parts of the county.

BORING

Mrs. Clara Wolf, of Portland, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Metzger, Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Clarence Siefer, of Portland, died at her home Thursday of this week of peritonitis. Mrs. Siefer was well known and left many friends in Boring, having resided here for several years prior to her marriage. She was the daughter of Mrs. Emma Gregson and the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Siefer. She leaves a husband and two small sons. The time for the funeral has not been arranged although it is understood the funeral services will be held from the First Methodist church here with interment in the Damascus Cemetery.

Mrs. Durham and little daughter, of Portland, are guests this week at the Jas. Imel home.

F. M. Morgan is confined to his bed with a wrenched back as a result of an accident while loading ties at Bull Run, Wednesday.

Mrs. W. H. Dinsmoore, of Sheridan, Oregon, visited for several days this week at the home of her brother, E. V. Maulding and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Addington and family are moving to Grants Pass, Oregon, this week. They are taking their entire farming equipment and have rented a large farm in the Rogue River valley.

Several Boring families expect to leave Saturday for the hop fields in the Willamette valley.

Miss Genevieve Manary, of Gillis, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Yau, this week.

Miss Martha Maulding left Wednesday for a two-week's visit with relatives at Sheridan, Oregon.

The Two Hoyts vaudeville road show will show at the Boring theater Sunday evening.

HALEY

The Rev. Andrew Johnson will speak next Sunday evening at the Haley Baptist church on the subject "The Christian and the Dance." There will be special singing by Miss Martha Higberg. Everybody welcome.

Stability starts with the crude

One of the most important requirements of a good motor oil is that it possess stability—that is, that it maintain its chemical composition and its lubricating body under all conditions of engine operation.

If an oil changes its chemical composition—"breaks down"—at high operating temperatures, it can no longer maintain a lubricating film between the bearing surfaces, and its value as a lubricant is destroyed.

Certain crude oils possess a higher degree of stability than others. Because of its large production of practically every type of crude, this company is free to choose for the making of Zerolene only those crudes which are particularly adapted for the purpose.

The Patented Vacuum Process

In the process of distilling and refining these selected crudes, it is of the greatest importance not to destroy their natural "oiliness" and stability. For this reason we employ our own patented high-vacuum process exclusively. By this process the oil produced—Zerolene—retains all the natural "oiliness" and stability of the original, selected crude from which it is made.

No other refiner on the Pacific Coast uses any form of vacuum distillation. No other refiner in the United States uses as high a vacuum as this company.

Zerolene of the correct grade for your car gives perfect lubrication and permits the development of maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage.
