GRESHAM LOCALS

The Gresham Parent-Teacher association will meet Wednesday evening, October 18, at 8 o'clock at the Gresham grade school. The program committee is preparing an excellent program which will include addresses by prominent speakers and will follow the business session. The public and especially the parents of the school children are cordially invited.

Mrs. R. E. Myers, wife of Rev. Mr. Myers of Montavilla visited for a short time Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Rusher.

The roof of the J. N. Clananah home has been re-shingled.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Williams, Mrs. C. Gordy and Isaac Leland have returned from Zillah, Washington, where they went to work with fruit. They found the apples very wormy. Some of the growers there do not expect to harvest their crops. The Gresham people spent one day in Yakima attending the Washington state fair.

The J. H. Morrison home on Maple avenue has received a new coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Manning spent Sunday visiting in Troutdale at the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. D. Howard.

Miss Myrtle Rusher expects to spend the week-end in Albany visiting her brother, Glen Rusher, who is employed at a furniture manufacturing plant there.

Miss Lucy Adams has leased her chicken farm on the corner of Cleveland avenue and Powell Valley road to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Young of Corvallis. The lease is for three years. Mr. Young is an ex-service man and has been taking a government vocational training course at the college. They will come to Gresham about October 24. Miss Adams has purchased a new bungalow on Barker road which is being built by Mr. Hornicker. It will be ready for her to occupy about November 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunting and family have moved into the former Stocker home on Fourth and Hood avenue. This house has recently changed hands and is now owned by Mrs. W. W. Cotton. Mr. Bunting formerly had charge of the cannery at Carver, Oregon, before coming here.

J. M. Stransky, who lives on Maple avenue has severed his connections with the Jones Lumber company of Gresham and is now working on the night shift at the company's mill in Portland. He drives back and forth in his car. W. J. Samson, who lives on Cleveland avenue, is now employed in the Gresham lumber yard.

A party of Gresham men returned Thursday from a hunting trip. Those who went were Frank Metzger, Oran Lingle, Gisher Jennings and Leslie Perry. They left Gresham last Saturday. They shot six deer and brought four home.

The pool hall in Gresham has changed hands. Chas. Cleveland has sold out to D. M. Roberts and Mr. Roberts has already taken possession. He will be assisted by his son, Kenneth. Mr. Cleveland thanks the public for their patronage while he was conducting the business.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church of Gresham will serve supper to the Royal Neighbor convention and to the public on Wednesday evening, October 25. Further details will be given later.

A bazaar, entertainment and chicken supper are being arranged by the Ladies' Aid society of the Zion Evangelical church for Wednesday, November 8. The affair has been set a week earlier than at first planned on account of a conflict of dates, and articles for the sale will necessarily be finished promptly. They are to be turned over to Mrs. Theodore Brugger.

Miss Belle McGregor, a teacher from Rufus, Oregon, was the guest this week of Mrs. R. H. Todd. Miss McGregor has not been in Gresham for two years and was particularly struck with the substantial improvements which have taken place in that town.

Miss Clara Mason is unable to continue her school work at present on account of illness. She is confined to her bed.

Andrew Pullen has returned to his work for the P. R. L. & P. company at Three Links near Estacada, after several days' visit with his mother, Mrs. W. E. Beagle.

Miss Jean Gould, of Tillamook, visited several days this week with her grandmother, Mrs. P. A. Gould and other relatives.

FARM OWNER OBJECTS TO WATER DISTRICT

Gresham, Oregon, Oct. 13, 1922.—Editor Outlook:—Believing that your columns are open for the fair consideration of all questions of a public or semi-public interest, I wish space in your valuable paper to voice a few objections to the proposed Rockwood Water District.

The writer in company with 15 other farm owners of the proposed district have given this question careful consideration for the past few days and the more we have studied this project the more we are convinced of the error there will be in pushing this project over at this time. We have made a careful poll of the residents and voters of the proposed district and we find a total of 600 legal voters, men and women, and a gross total of not to exceed 450 homes.

Of this number of homes it is estimated there are 50 that would find it a hardship to pay the water rate if the system was installed free of charge. There is an estimated 200 that would gain nothing by installing the water as they already have permanent systems and therefore would gain nothing by the change. This would leave an estimated 200 users to help carry an estimated $150,000 investment at 5 1/2 per cent, plus 5 per cent depreciation, plus the annual operating costs which the friends of the enterprise claim will not exceed $3000 per year.

So it can be readily seen that from a business standpoint it would be difficult to interest investors with a hope of making a profit from the investment. Please do not forget that when this system is fully installed it will require $18,750 per annum to carry it and the land owners will be elected to pay the fiddler for many years before the project will create a reserve fund from the sale of water to retire the bonds.

Think of the absurdity of laying 40 miles of water mains in a farming district that is already supplied with an abundance of good water for farm use, with farm products selling for less than one-half of the cost of production and taxes already high enough to take one-fourth of the value of the crop. My hope is that you will be aroused to see the extravagance of this enterprise and that you will induce all of your friends to go with you to the polls tomorrow and vote NO on this project.

If it carries I know of one 62-acre ranch on the Base Line that will be for sale cheap. Truly yours,
D. E. TOWLE

COLUMBUS DAY IS OBSERVED

The Gresham banks remained closed all day Thursday, October 12, in observance of Columbus day. It was just 430 years ago yesterday since Columbus saw a small piece of land which proved to be an island and marked the discovery of America. Columbus Day, so far, has not been made a legal holiday and only the banks and public places remain closed on that day; but in consideration of the many hardships and privations which Columbus endured on his voyage of discovery, it would seem no more than right if this day was set aside as a legal holiday and observed as such by all of the people in the United States.
