

A WOMAN'S THOUGHTS.

Were Partly on the Sermon and Partly on Her Experiment at Home.

"Did you think of the roast during the sermon?" she asked her husband, driving home. "Yes, twice, in spite of myself," he replied.

They had left home after placing their meat, etc., in the oven, controlled by a Lorain attachment, set the disk at 250 degrees and started off for church.

Coming home at 1:30 they made a b-line for the Reliable gas range, turned the gas off, put the food on the table, wondering how it would taste (for it was their first experiment), and pronounced the roast the most perfect they ever tasted, the baked potatoes done to a turn, and enjoyed the novelty of having dinner ready for them after being absent 4 1/2 hours.

This is not a boast, but a true happening. Anyone on the salesfloor of the Gas company will be glad to furnish name, address or phone number of the family which reported the above. These wonderful ranges are on sale at the Gas office on Alder, near Fifth.—Adv.

WOMAN OPPOSES SCHOOL MEASURE

Gresham, Oregon, Nov. 3, 1922.—Editor Outlook:—Complying with your request for communications on the school measure, pro or con, I wish to express my opposition to it.

With regard to an implied opinion stated in your editorial of October 27 that we may sometime add to our prohibitive measures: "You can't send your children to un-American schools," I wish to take issue.

The implication in the above is that only the public school is "American." This is a broad statement which cannot be proven in fact. Some of the finest, most cultured, most patriotic men and women in the state are teachers in schools NOT public. Graduates and students from these same schools vied with those of the public schools in patriotic service of their country during the World War and poured out their blood as "100 per cent Americans." It must be remembered, that the schools of our great country were private American schools two or three generations before the establishment to any great extent of free public schools.

The slogan of "Free Public Schools, open to all" is misleading and is made to catch the unwary. The passage of the proposed bill would give no privilege to the citizens of Oregon which they do not already possess and would most certainly take away from them inherent rights, God-given and guaranteed by the constitution of the United States.

Obviously, the question of religious liberty is at stake. Although it is not mentioned in the bill, it would take away from parents their right, based on religious convictions, of maintaining private schools where teachings of their faith may be combined with general education. That this is a serious question is proved by the fact that Catholics, Jews, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Seventh Day Adventists and many leaders in practically every Protestant church in Oregon are uniting in opposition to the bill.

Our very national life is the outgrowth of a desire for greater freedom of thought and religious expression on the part of our forefathers. We would be untrue to our heritage if we, by our intolerance, should deny to a group of our citizens the very rights for which our forefathers braved the dangers and difficulties of a new land in order to gain religious liberty.

Our state must maintain an ever advancing standard of excellence in schools. These standards must be upheld in both public and private schools. The two, existing together act as stimulants, each to the other.

After studying Oregon's proposed school measure, Nicholas Murray Butler, the eminent president of Columbia University, New York, says:

"If Prussia had won the great war, this bill is precisely the sort of measure which it would have introduced in every country that came under its control.

"This measure should be entitled, 'A Bill to Make Impossible the American System of Education in Oregon.' It is fundamentally un-American in its principle and purpose and should be defeated." LENA C. ST. CLAIR.

HOW TO KEEP APPLES FREE FROM WORMS

"Watch the orchard carefully at the beginning of the growing season and spray when the codling first enters before it has a chance to go through the orchard." This is the advice given by E. E. Collins, a successful apple raiser near North Yakima, Washington. Mr. Collins does not believe there is a certain time to spray. He says in his experience he has noticed that the codling moths always start in one corner of the orchard and gradually spread through it. If the infected part is sprayed immediately, its spread is thus prevented for the time being until a start is made somewhere else.

The branch in the window at the Gresham Outlook is from Mr. Collins' orchard. Lester Spencer brought it home with him when he returned from a visit in that region. A larger part of the orchards in the Yakima country contained many wormy apples this year but there were very few wormy apples in the Collins orchard. He is therefore, confident he has reached the right solution.

The codling moth caused many wormy apples this year not only in Washington and Oregon but in many other adjacent states. Many growers blamed the spray by saying they did not think they were sold a good quality of spray but this idea has been abandoned by specialists. The unusually favorable weather conditions allowed all of the broods of the codling moth to hatch. The applications of spray were not sufficient to kill all the eggs and the warm days and nights caused the worms to grow very fast. Thus Mr. Collins' idea is proven to be true. If spray could be applied at just the right time and in sufficient quantities the problem of wormy apples would be solved.

Candidates for Governor

When a candidate for public office makes a campaign promising what he will do if elected, it is fitting and proper that the voter examine the public records to ascertain whether or not the candidate's record squares with his campaign promises. In the present campaign Candidate Pierce professes to be the apostle of lower taxes.

Mr. Pierce's Record

1. Of the $9,376,000 of state taxes for 1922, Mr. Pierce specifically approved of $8,564,039. This is 92 per cent of the total. Mr. Pierce had no opportunity to vote on the other 8 per cent, as he was not a member of the legislature when it was up for vote.

2. He voted for 57 per cent of all tax appropriation bills of the 1919 session of the legislature, and for all the appropriation bills of the special session of 1920.

3. The State Highway Commission now works without pay. Mr. Pierce introduced a bill to pay the commissioners $12,000 a year.

4. He voted to submit a bond issue of $400,000 for a new penitentiary. Governor Olcott has repaired the old one with convict labor at no tax expense.

5. Mr. Pierce claims he wishes to relieve real estate of the tax burden; yet he is the author of a bill submitted to the legislature which would exempt from all taxation moneys, notes, credits and accounts.

6. In the last few years he voted for 185 salary increases.

7. He voted against the bills to consolidate the state bureaus and commissions.

8. He introduced a bill providing for the most elaborate commission any state ever had. He specifically provided "to secure every citizen of Oregon an opportunity at all times to work for the state," and provided a $5,000 salary for the head of the commission. This bill was purely Socialistic.

9. In the 1917, 1919 and 1920 sessions of the legislature there were appropriation bills introduced totaling $10,552,000. Of these Senator Pierce voted for $10,075,000.

Measured by every standard, Mr. Pierce is the most consistent little tax booster the state of Oregon ever had.

Mr. Olcott's Record

1. He introduced a change in the state secretary's report which has saved the state many thousands of dollars since 1912.

2. His renovation of the penitentiary saved the state nearly half a million dollars.

3. He secured funds for a training school building for the Boys' Institute without a single dollar or additional taxes.

4. He is the originator of the Oregon Blue Sky Law, which saves the Oregon people millions of dollars annually.

5. He was responsible for the stopping of junketing trips by state officials at state expense.

6. He secured the passage of a budget law effecting large economies in the state government, which could not otherwise be accomplished.

7. The change in the State Sessions Law, recommended by him, saves the state $10,000 a year.

8. He has been universally commended for the excellence of his official appointments.

9. He is responsible for changes in the administration of the state farms, which this year brought returns of $491,000 into the state.

10. He has shown himself, by his acts, a friend of the ex-service men, has warmly supported the bonus measure, and has administered the law in the interest of the ex-service men with honesty and efficiency.

11. He has taken the first real constructive step in the equalization of the state tax situation by the appointment of a committee of experts to investigate and report to the legislature the entire scope of the tax problem in this state, thus assuring that any changes to be made will be made along sane, conservative and constructive lines, which give far more promise of securing results than demagogic bawling and idle campaign promises such as are being made by the non-partisan candidate of the Democratic party, especially in the light of his record as the champion tax producer of the state of Oregon.

State Monopoly of Schools would cost— In taxes—

Over $1,000,000 a year for operation

Over $3,000,000 for buildings and grounds

THE first cost of state monopoly of schools would be something over three million dollars for new buildings and grounds. We would have to pay a yearly tax of over one million dollars for operation in addition to what we are paying now.

They propose that Oregonians pay this bill for "Real Americanism." But it is not Americanism to take away the right of the parent to control the education of the child.

They propose that we pay this bill to have "Compulsory School." But we actually have compulsory school right now under the present law.

Be not deceived. What this burden of added taxes will go for is an experiment in education along communistic lines—the substitution of state monopoly in education for parental guidance. Russia is trying this experiment. Let us profit by her failure. Let us maintain our democracy and save millions of dollars.

OREGON CONGRESSMEN SHOULD BE ELECTED

Oregon's delegation, consisting of Representative W. C. Hawley (First District), Nicholas J. Sinnott (Second District) and C. N. McArthur (Third District) is generally regarded as the strongest and most influential delegation in Congress. Mr. Hawley is a ranking member of the Ways and Means Committee; Mr. Sinnott is chairman of the Public Lands Committee; Mr. McArthur is a ranking member of the Naval Affairs Committee. They are all experienced, capable and industrious legislators. The State of Oregon will do well to re-elect these three men on November 7 and thereby continue Oregon's high prestige in the House of Representatives.

What Osteopathy Does in Acute Appendicitis

Does appendicitis always mean that the afflicted one has to undergo an operation with its many attended dangers? That seems to be the generally accepted theory. But, long experience in the practice of Osteopathy has proven to me beyond a doubt that in acute cases the majority can be completely cured without the knife and drugs. Everyone has a natural fear of the operating table and rightly enough, too. It is like a leap in the dark, and is bad enough in cases where it cannot be avoided. But when it can be avoided, every effort should be made to do so. I could cite many cases to prove this point. One of them follows:

One morning, a young man came into my office with a severe pain around his appendix, so severe in fact that he could not stand erect. He had been very sick all during the

GRESHAM MAN OPPOSES ROSS ISLAND BRIDGE

In an interview with the Outlook H. S. Harvey expressed himself in opposition to the Ross Island Bridge project and said that his views were held by many citizens of this vicinity. Their ground for opposition as stated by Mr. Harvey, is the excessive cost of a bridge at the location named.

The necessity of another bridge to take care of the ever increasing traffic from this part of the county is recognized but it is claimed that if this proposition is voted down the county would then be free to build another bridge, farther up the Willamette river, which could be built at a cost of many thousands of dollars less than the Ross Island bridge and the balance could then be used in the improvement of county roads and pavement of the Section Line road. The location advocated is at about the location of the Sellwood ferry.
