

ANNUAL MEETING OF TELEPHONE CO. HELD

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Damascus Telephone company was held last Monday afternoon, January 8, in the C. S. Mudge hall. A large number of complaints were heard and remedies discussed. New directors were also elected for the coming year.

When the matter of poor service was discussed, the statement was made that there would be better service if each one of the telephone users, whether renter or stockholder, would see that his telephone is kept in order and put in a new battery when one is needed. In case the line is out of order, any party seeing it should repair it himself if possible. It often happens that a twisted line in front of the house causes that particular line to be out of order and perhaps causes other phones to be cut off. In case the trouble cannot be easily repaired, a lineman should be called. Each one is urged to pay more attention to his individual line and thus do much toward remedying the phone service.

When the election of directors was taken up, Roy White, the secretary, was asked if he could do the work for less money than he had during the past year. His answer was that it could not be done for less as there are no wages in it at the present salary. The secretaryship was then offered to any one who cared to take it as the present incumbent was perfectly willing to have some one else handle it who could do the work if he would be willing to work for less. Mr. White then explained the amount of work which fell to his office which includes the making out of reports, etc., and after he had finished those present seemed satisfied to let the salary remain at the same figure.

The election of directors was then held by ballot. Jake De Young, W. Donley and Roy White were re-elected, having served last year. The new ones elected were Arthur Heacock and S. A. Roberts. A director's meeting was to be held at the close of the stockholder's meeting for the purpose of electing a chairman and secretary but for some reason was not held. A list of the officers will be given at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stone sang, "Larboard's Watch," which was also enjoyed. The toast from 16 of Fairview's high school students, drilled by Mrs. Janet M. Grant, deserves special mention. CLACKAMAS NOT TO HAVE COUNTY AGENT

Clackamas county will not have a county agent this year. This was the final decision which had to be made after the county court had refused to provide funds this year for the employment of a county agent. The appropriation was voted out at the budget meeting held last December and the court has taken the position that, although the action of that session is only advisory, it will not make any changes in the plan drafted at the taxpayers meeting held a week from last Saturday.

The request for the retention of the county agent was made by a committee of Oregon City business men and the executive committee of the Clackamas County Farm Bureau. Those included in the committee chosen were C. E. Spence, L. Adams, Judge Dimmick, O. D. Eby and C. H. Dye of the Farm Bureau. John Humphrey, Percy Cauffield, M. D. Latourette all of Oregon City joined forces with the Farm Bureau and presented a petition to the county court last Thursday to have the county agent reinstated but their efforts were in vain. Protests were also voiced at the budget meeting by the Damascus Farm Bureau.

The items stricken off of the Clackamas county budget this year were the county agent, $2300; assistant club leader, $1750 and state and county fairs, $1000. The salary of the health officer was cut from $800 to $300, but $100 allowed for his expenses. One clerk was cut from the tax department with a salary of $1020 and the overtime allowed of $600 cut off. The salary of the chief deputy in the recorder's office was cut from $1200 to $1000. The employment of a county health nurse was defeated. The inclusion of $2500 in the budget for this purpose was one of the first questions voted upon and was defeated by a sizeable majority. The total levy for Clackamas county will amount to $500,000. The $30,000 increase voted will be applied only on roads.

PLEASANT HOME

Sunday school at the Pleasant Home Baptist church now opens at 10 a. m. The B. Y. P. U. convenes in the evening at 7:30. The young people are having very interesting meetings and the new officers are capable, energetic Christians who take a very active interest in the work. Wilbur Altman is president, Myrtle Nasshahn is vice president and Helen Moulton, secretary. There will be no preaching service in the evening. The members of the church feel great satisfaction in announcing that the Rev. A. J. Ware will supply the pulpit every Sunday evening with the exception of next Sunday for an indefinite time. The Rev. Mr. Ware was formerly pastor in Pleasant Home and is beloved by all the members. The only regret is that he cannot become a permanent "fixture," but his work as county Sunday school missionary in Clackamas county occupies the greater part of his time. Plans are going ahead nicely for the purchase of a parsonage and those in charge hope to make definite arrangements soon.

HALEY

The cottage prayer meetings of the past week have been well attended. Next Sunday the usual services will be held. In the evening an English sermon will be preached. The Mission circle meeting for January will

As the result of a survey made by the United States department of agriculture, it is announced that farmers are buying 30 per cent of their food requirements. In the opinion of the department this is too high a percentage. Farmers should produce at least 30 per cent of the food they consume. The four states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi led in the percentage of food production for home consumption. The New England states produced the smallest percentage of the food requirements of their immediate communities.
