The fruit is much larger and the fruit buds mature extremely large cherries and they do not fall. Bear in mind that fully 50 per cent of our cherry crop falls before maturity.

UNION HAS HOME DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL.

A two-day home demonstration school held at the Union schoolhouse on January 16 and 17 under the direction of Miss Margery M. Smith, assistant nutrition specialist at O. A. C. was a splendid success.

The demonstrations were such a success that, upon the suggestion of Miss Smith, the community voted to hold a series of meetings and have demonstrations by Miss Smith at each meeting.

Miss Smith has been holding meetings throughout the state in various communities. Her purpose, in holding these meetings and in giving demonstrations on the preparation of food for the table, is to teach the parents the food needed by the various members of the family in order to keep each one in good health.

On Tuesday afternoon, January 15, the first meeting of the two-day session was held. Miss Smith explained the different parts of wheat and advised using the whole of the wheat. She had baked some health bread, using whole wheat flour, oat meal cookies and corn bread before the meeting.

On Tuesday evening some lantern slides were placed on the screen showing that a healthy child is a well fed child.

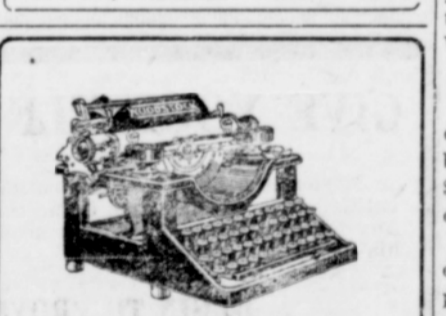

On Wednesday morning, January 17, Miss Smith arrived at the school early in the morning in order to make vegetable chowder to serve to the school children at lunch time.

The making of vegetable chard or greens was demonstrated by Miss Smith on Wednesday afternoon. She had already prepared this dish and several kinds of salads and made vegetable chowder before the meeting.

The series of meetings planned for the future will include one afternoon meeting each month. A definite date will be announced later.

CLACKAMAS TO HAVE COUNTY AGENT

The Clackamas county agent is to be retained according to word received from Oregon City. This has been made possible through an arrangement made by the Clackamas County Farm Bureau and was accomplished in spite of the fact that the county court has refused to make provision for the office, following the curtailing of the $2300 appropriation by the budget committee.

Certification of the work by the county court is all that is necessary and no funds are to be asked for this year although it has been announced that a drive will be made for the inclusion of an appropriation in the budget for 1924.

PLEASANT VALLEY

By G. N. SAGER.

C. F. Albright of Seattle was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Pillister and children of Lents were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Troge last Sunday.

Among those who transacted business in Lents Wednesday were John Barnard, L. C. Hollenbeck and Clarence Paine.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Richey were Portland visitors Tuesday.

The Pleasant Valley Parent-Teacher association held an interesting and well attended meeting Monday evening.

Principal Roy Cannon of the Gresham high school was present and gave a splendid talk on the problems that confront teachers and parents of the present generation.

If we had more teachers who were imbued with the high ideals and the enthusiasm and executive ability to carry them to a successful conclusion, possessed by Principal Cannon, many of the problems would soon be solved.

Mrs. F. A. Lehman gave an interesting report of the activities of the County Council which met in Portland recently.

Other interesting numbers were on the program. The best means of financing the local circle was one of the questions discussed.

The discussion developed a wide divergence of opinion as to the best way to proceed, however. The box social seemed to be the most popular means where the general public was expected to participate.

Pleasant Valley grange will hold its regular monthly session Saturday evening, January 27. Installation of the newly elected officers and initiation of new candidates into the mysteries of the order will be features of the evening's program.

Poor Potato Seed Costly.

Many persons who grew potatoes good enough to certify last year sold off most of their good ones and planned the inferior stock sorted out of those sold as certified seed and in nearly every instance this stock carried too much disease to certify this year. In sorting potatoes this winter, save out for planting purposes plenty of good shapely tubers for next season's planting. It is best not to save very small ones as many of these that seem very ripe or mature have mosaic. Any potato with a pointed stem end should be discarded.—O.A.C. Experiment station.
