W. C. T. U. FARM HOME IS WELL OFFICERED

ADA WALLACE UNRUH.
 The directors of the Children's Farm Home of the W. C. T. U. held a most enthusiastic meeting recently in Corvallis for election of officers, hearing reports and making plans for the coming year. Prof. A. C. Schmitt, who has served as president of the board since its organization, finding his college work so absorbing that he could not give the necessary time, refused re-election.

Judge Walter H. Evans, of Portland, was unanimously elected president and is planning aggressive work. At the earnest solicitation of the board Mr. Schmitt accepted the position of first vice president. Mr. W. K. Taylor of Corvallis, was retained as second vice president. H. C. Seymour of O. A. C., as secretary and H. Hirschberg as treasurer. With some reluctance Mrs. Unruh consented to continue as financial manager. New members elected on the board to fill vacancies were, Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, Portland, Mayor Geo. L. Baker, Portland, and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Salem, and an active campaign for funds is on, Portland and Salem having already organized.

Inasmuch as county judges have been compelled to commit children who are only dependent to state institutions for delinquents, lacking other provisions, and the fact that gifts from philanthropic individuals, while generous cannot keep pace with the needs, the Oregon legislature will be asked to aid in building one cottage. While a logical program of economy is being pressed by the governor, and supported by the legislature, humanitarians believe that to fail in loving care of children is a false economy. A study of the mere feature showed conclusively that to care for dependent children in the Farm Home at an expense to the state of $16 per month for each child is cheaper than to send them to the state institutions where their expense of care averages $35 per month. To send the child out as an asset to the state rather than a liability is a matter of great amount.

NEW GROWERS SHOULD USE GRIMM ALFALFA

"A considerable acreage of alfalfa will probably be planted on the river bottom and other of the well drained soils of western Oregon next April and May," says G. R. Hyslop, farm crops specialist at the Oregon Experiment station. "It is a good plan to secure the seed of the genuine Grimm alfalfa before stocks are depleted and to anticipate needs for landplaster which usually helps in getting a stand of alfalfa. The Grimm alfalfa seed is usually planted at about 15 pounds to the acre. This amount may seem excessive to experienced alfalfa growers but for those who are beginning in alfalfa culture and who often sow seed too deep, it is usually necessary to sow a slight excess of seed. Inoculating material may be had at 25 cents an acre from the department of bacteriology at the college. The landplaster is usually at about 50 to 75 pounds an acre to the land and that is to be planted to alfalfa."

JUDGE CRAWFORD NEW REGENT OF O. A. C.

Judge Thomas H. Crawford, of LaGrande, is not only Governor Pierce's choice for O. A. C. regent but a graduate of the institution as well. He has never lost his interest in the school, and college tradition has it that he has never yet missed a football game between the college and state university. "The O. A. C. touches very closely the industrial and producing classes of our state, the very bone and sinew of our republican people," said the new regent on a former occasion. "It is educating the boys and girls, the future home builders of our country, for life in the country rather than in the city. Its tendency is to turn the tide of people back from the city to the farm and rural districts."

The income tax law requires that a single person claiming exemption as the head of a family must file a return if his net income is $1,000, or more, notwithstanding the fact that as head of a family, he is entitled to an exemption of $2,500, as well as $400 for each dependent under 18 years of age. Income tax returns must be filed not later than March 15, 1923.
